

Health boost for Kingston

The 2021-22 Tasmanian Budget provides $10 million towards Stage 2 of the Kingston Health Centre, with total funding of $30 million allocated for the centre located at Kingston Park.

Liberal Member for Franklin, Nic Street said Stage 2 would deliver more community-based health facilities for the growing region.

"The government will work closely with the Kingborough Council and surrounding health services to ensure the benefits of the new centre are maximised," Mr Street said.

The Kingston Health Centre has been providing vital care closer to home for thousands of Tasmanians in Kingborough.

"This has taken pressure off our hospitals, especially the Royal Hobart Hospital," Mr Street said.

"The Tasmanian Government is committed to increasing community-based care in areas like the high-growth Kingborough municipality."

Labor Member for Franklin, Dean Winter pointed out concerns with the announcement.

"The Liberals have already broken their promise," said Mr Winter.

"The budget funds only $10 million from a $30 million election promise and they won't complete the project until 2027.

"I'm not sure why the government thinks announcing they won't deliver their promise for six years is a good thing.

"We actually need improved healthcare services now.

"When Mr Street and Premier Gutwein stood on the site and said they'd finally build the next stage, I don't recall them saying they wouldn't do it until 2027, but that's what the budget says."

The 2021-22 Budget includes a record $10.7 billion investment into health over the next four years.

"Our priority is ensuring Tasmanians get the right healthcare in the right place, at the right time, which isn't necessarily in an emergency department or hospital bed in one of our major acute hospitals," Mr Street said.

"That's why we are investing, not only in our major hospitals, but in community health programs, services and infrastructure, like the Kingston Health Centre."

Mr Winter suggested the funding could be spent more effectively.

"Healthcare isn't about new buildings, it's about doctors, nurses and services that help people get better and stay healthy," said Mr Winter.

"Despite building the new centre, the government didn't actually provide any additional services than already existed in the old centre.

"There is no sign of any new services for Kingston in the budget either," concluded Mr Winter.

Service squeeze here to stay

Labor Member for Franklin, Dean Winter is disappointed the State Government has snubbed calls for more room for the Service Tasmania outlet at Kingston.

Mr Winter says the closure of the Kingston Bendigo Bank branch and vacancy, there is an opportunity to move into a bigger space.

Service Tasmania shares a space in the Channel Court Shopping Centre with Centrelink and Medicare, which are federal services.

The space only has capacity to serve 10 customers at any one time and people regularly have to wait outside.

Mr Winter says the situation is unacceptable and the space is too small to service the needs of the population in a fast-growing area.

Mr Winter recently wrote to Premier Peter Gutwein to express his concern.

The Premier's response states the State Government has no plans to relocate the Service Tasmania shop.

In July, Mr Winter and Federal Member for Franklin,

Julie Collins jointly called for more room for customers at Kingston and pointed out the former Bendigo Bank premises in the same shopping complex had become available when the bank branch closed.

"It is extremely disappointing the Premier won't consider moving the state service so customers would not be treated in this unacceptable manner," Mr Winter said.

"This is an issue that will not go away as Kingborough is one of the fastest-growing municipalities in the state."

Mr Gutwein's response acknowledges that the Kingston outlet is busy but says the situation has been exacerbated by COVID-19 protocols and describes it as a "temporary inconvenience".

Back in 2016, the Federal Government wanted to close Centrelink and Medicare in Kingston, forcing people to travel to Hobart or to Huonville, however, after a public outcry the services moved into the existing Service Tasmania outlet.

Canberra, we have a problem

Dear Editor,
There is a "large lump of rock" separating the southern boundary of Hobart and the lucrative economics of housing development on the prime farming lands that lie beyond the southern boundaries of Kingston. Attempts by Tasmanian Governments to accommodate a federal policy of gross immigration, based on Ponzi economics, has reached an impasse here. With Hobart limited for housing development by an even larger lump of rock to our west, our northern suburbs heading for Launceston and deep water to the east. Opportunities for further housing expansion are becoming very tortuous.

The effect on the Kingston administrative and social well-being has reached a roundabout of planning conflicts with no exit road of anywhere near sufficient capacity in sight.

State politics, I exclude the professional town planners and engineers, seem to favour pushing in the houses, make some money and to hell the social consequences.

This is using the homeless plight as a smoke screen to overcome objections provided in the normal town planning processes.

So, solve the federally caused housing pressure. On the other side of the rock, Kingston administration and local public opinion is saying "no" to further housing development until suitable infrastructure constructed.

Not only for future developments but from current development pressure.

There is also a considerable local "no" to any more significant development.

Much time and effort has been wasted, or fiscally exploited, in compromise proposals to solve this problem.

The latest proposals, such as the extra lane on the outlet at great traumatic expense and sending citizens dizzy, circulating roundabouts, are pathetic compared to the social pressures arising from unfettered ribbon housing development down the Channel.

Perhaps the "large lump of rock" has become a problem of national importance and should be dealt with by the federal purse?

Or perhaps we should face the fact the "large lump of rock" is just too large and the promised lucrative sprawling southern suburbs is a bridge, or tunnel, too far.

Global political stonewall

Dear Editor,
Without environmental protesting and direct action, things are not going to change for the better.

I recently discovered environmental activism as an expression of hope amid this unfolding climate crisis.

What we are witnessing is a global political stonewall when it comes to action in the face of the largest risk to life on this planet.

Governments are paralysed with fear but I am no longer paralysed.

Recently I joined hundreds of activists with the Bob Brown Foundation in the takayna/Tarkine wilderness to protest new threats to the integrity of the rainforest.

Now we face a new threat, our ultra-conservative government plans to remove our protesting freedoms and make protecting the environment even more difficult.

When will we ever learn?

Respect our local bushlands

Dear Editor,
I found this stuff abandoned in public bushland not far from Kingston Beach.

There are no formal tracks in this particular spot, however, the stuff was next to three homemade mountain bike jumps.

The doona was a bit mouldy and the mattress have now sadly gone to landfill at the Barretta tip.

I will wash the tarp and give it away.

Please respect our local bushlands.

They are the home of our precious trees and birds, ants, spiders, snakes, wallabies, bandicoots etc.

Ultimately, they are our home and connected to us.

Outlet plans open for comment

Consultation has commenced on projects aimed at reducing traffic congestion between Kingston and the Hobart CBD, with residents encouraged to have their say.

An integrated suite of projects are planned as part of the Hobart City Deal.

The projects combine greater capacity with an extra lane:

- On the Southern Outlet from Olinda Grove;
- At the bottleneck joining Davey and Macquarie Streets; and

- Into Macquarie Street.

The extra transit lane will be for the exclusive use for buses, emergency vehicles, motorbikes, taxis and private vehicles with three or more occupants.

This will be complemented by new park and ride facilities at Huntingfield and Firthside and up to 70 extra bus services to improve travel along this road corridor.

The intersection between Davey Street and Macquarie Street will be realigned to include four lanes (up from three) from the Southern Outlet into Macquarie Street, as well as the removal of parking and an establishment of clearways down to the intersection with Molle Street.

On Macquarie and Davey Streets, plans include improved bus shelters at busy bus stops and a new cycling lane on Davey Street.

Community consultation on the concept designs for the transit lane and Macquarie and Davey Street projects will take place until Monday, 27 September 2021.

To view designs and participate in the consultation visit www.transport.tas.gov.au/southernprojects

Check in on public transport

The Tasmanian Government's Check in TAS app requirements expanded to include more locations on Friday, September 3.

Tasmanians aged 16 or over who use public transport, such as a bus or ferry will be required to check in.

People entering a passenger terminal such as an airport will also be required to check in.

Everyone aged 16 years or older is already required to use the Check in TAS app when entering most businesses and events.

All passenger buses, ferries and airports are required to register for and display QR codes for the Check in TAS app in order for people to check in.

To avoid delays, buses and ferries are not required to have alternative means of checking in.

If anyone does not have a smartphone, or someone with them who can check them in as a guest on a bus or ferry, they should make a personal note of their journey.

Anyone heading to a Tasmanian airport will also be required to check in from Friday, September 3.

Whether it is to pick up arriving passengers, for personal travel, or for work at an airport, everyone must check in.

It is important to note the new requirements do not apply to:

- School students, regardless of their age, travelling on a bus or ferry on a school day.
- Travel on a ferry in a car when passengers remain in the car.
- Travellers disembarking from a plane at an airport terminal.

Penalties may apply for not checking in at a required location.

Hobart City Mission's chief John Stuble accepted donations of doonas and food hampers from Kingston Neighbourhood House manager David Morse, as part of the mission's Safe Space program, on Thursday, September 2. The program provided safety, shelter and connection to important services for people who are sleeping rough. (PS)

Bruny Island Bird Festival funded

The Federal Government is investing in Tasmanian tourism by funding four new festivals that will attract more visitors to the state and support local jobs and businesses.

The government is providing $363,200 to support the Bruny Island Bird Festival, Beaker Street Festival, Great Eastern Wine Week and Junction Arts Festival.

Minister for Trade, Tourism and Investment, Dan Tehan, said this funding was part of a $13.5 million investment in Tasmanian tourism.

"Our government has a four-stage plan that will see travel restrictions lifted when 80 per cent of adults over 16 are fully vaccinated," Mr Tehan said.

"We need all Australians to roll up their sleeves and get vaccinated so we can travel freely again.

"We are supporting exciting new Tasmanian festivals because the best thing our government can do for tourism businesses is to get tourists back travelling and spending money."

Assistant Minister for Industry Development, Jonno Duniam, said the Federal Government is also committing $2.23 million to support the Growing a Skilled Workforce Program, that would help train and upskill tourism sector workers.

"Our government is funding festivals that will attract more visitors and drive economic growth in our state," Assistant Minister Duniam said.

"We're also supporting tourism sector workers because these festivals will create job opportunities for Tasmanians, with around 15 per cent of all jobs in Tasmania supported by tourism."

The funding is provided through the Recovery for Regional Tourism Program, which is part of the Federal Government's $1 billion COVID-19 Relief and Recovery Fund.

Kingston business The Beaute Spot has been announced as the Tasmanian winner of the 2021 Australian Achiever Awards for Beauty Services and Supplies. "I would like to take this opportunity to thank my wonderful team as this award was a group effort and all of our clients for their continued support and loyalty," said Lauren, owner of The Beaute Spot. Angela will be stepping down from the role as her daughter finishes Grade 10 at the College this year. The school posted the thank you on their Facebook page saying "Angela, your passion, commitment and enthusiasm for this role is shown in the beautifully chosen and presented gifts over the years. # The history of Saddle Road – Part 2

Lifetime resident of Kettering, Ian King has documented his memories of the people who resided along Saddle Road.

In The History of Saddle Road - Part 1, published in the August 10 edition of the Kingborough Chronicle, Ian described the early days of the community along Saddle Road, beginning at the foothills west of the village of Kettering and travelling east toward the D'Entrecasteaux Channel.

An online copy is available at <https://www.kingboroughchronicle.com.au/read-our-newspapers>

In Part 2, Ian's anecdotes paint a picture of a flourishing group of settlers; individuals and families busy with rural life and livelihood pursuits, including orchardists, cattlemen, shop owners, ferrymen and farm hands, who each contributed in their own way to the establishment of the Kettering village.

Saddle Road is the common thread and the thoroughfare bringing these people together, then and now.

The people who lived on Saddle Road: Len and Daphne Hayers

Len and Daphne Hayers settled on 400 acres in the early 1930s.

Len was a cattle farmer who later grew raspberries.

The couple raised nine children, all boys.

In the 1960s an airstrip was built and used for aerial spraying of fertilizer.

The original homestead was lost in the 1967 bushfires.

Bert and Gwen Flakemore

Bert Flakemore was a real pioneer of Saddle Road.

With the help of his brothers, he cleared most of the land using horses and stump jacks.

Bert also grew small fruits and trapped possums at night to supplement his income.

The Flakemore couple built a house at the eastern end of Saddle Road and established a small poultry farm.

Ned Hughes

Ned Hughes was one of the first residents of Saddle Road to grow small fruits.

Ned played his violin regularly and professed it was one of the original Stradivarius violins of the 17th and 18th centuries.

Gerald and Irene Sward

Gerald and Irene Sward worked on the Bruny Island ferry and also grew small fruits.

Charles and Elsie King

Charles and Elsie King settled on Saddle Road in the early 1940s.

The couple were orchardists and also grew small fruits.

Sadly, their eldest son Robert died in 1957 at 15 years of age as a result of a bicycle accident.

Gradually the couple purchased the neighbouring properties, increasing the size of their orchard.

In the 1950s the Charles and Elsie King built a tennis court, which became home to the Kettering Tennis Club.

The King's three homesteads survived the 1967 fires, likely due to their orchard surrounds.

John and Amy King

John King moved to Kettering in the early 1930s on doctor's advice, for clean air due to lung problems.

The couple ran an orchard on Saddle Road, using horses for carting loads of apples to a spare room in their homestead, where the produce was packed in hand-made wooden boxes.

The boxes of apples were then transported by cart to steamers in the bay.

John and Amy King later built a new home adjacent to the Channel Highway in Kettering, opposite the current community hall.

Derwent Hughes

Derwent Hughes settled on Saddle Road in the late 1920s. He was an orchardist and raised a large family.

Lyall and Betty Brown

Lyall, also known as Inky, worked on the Bruny Island ferry.

Herb and Mavis Woolley

Herb Woolley was a war veteran who ran some cattle on his Saddle Road property.

He later passed the farm on to his son, Bert.

Ron and Margaret Imms

Ron Imms was a returned soldier who owned a large acreage and was also an orchardist.

The farm is still in the hands of his four sons.

Roy Russell

Roy Russell and his wife raised a large family.

Roy was a colourful character and deeply involved in the Kettering football club.

At the time, the club had three teams in the local competition.

Roly and Elaine Proctor

Roly and Elaine Proctor both worked on Roly's father's farm.

In addition to his farm duties, Roly travelled state-wide determining the sex of chickens.

In the 1980s the couple moved to Woodbridge, from where they have run a farm to this day.

Bill and Mick Proctor

Bill and Mick Proctor moved to Saddle Road in the early 1940s.

Bill, also an orchardist, purchased the neighbouring property and expanded the farm.

Bill then established a successful poultry farm with his two sons.

Sydney Jackson

Sydney Jackson was another colourful character residing on Saddle Road, with a large family.

Jim Tame Jnr and wife Daphne

Jimmy Tame Jnr worked as a food van driver for local shop owner, Mert Hawker.

Jimmy travelled around the district delivering food.

His parent's house, above his on Saddle Road, was destroyed in the 1967 fires.

Myrtle Walker

Myrtle Walker lived on Saddle Road with her father.

Sadly, their home was destroyed in the 1967 fires.

Ray Flakemore

Ray Flakemore moved into his father Bert's house on Saddle Road in the 1980s.

Mert and Bessie Hawker

Mert and Bessie Hawker ran the local grocery shop with the assistance of an excellent employee named Harry Mac.

The grocers proved to be visionary pioneers embarking on a mobile delivery service 70 years ago, travelling to neighbouring districts selling food and vegetables from two vans.

John and Amy King's house on Saddle Road, Kettering in the 1930s. The couple ran an orchard, using horses for carting loads of apples to a spare room in the homestead, where the produce was packed in hand-made wooden boxes. The boxes of apples were then transported by cart to steamers in the bay. (PS)

Pedestrian safety campaign

A pedestrian safety campaign has been launched in Kingborough to remind pedestrians and drivers to look out for each other.

Kingborough Deputy Mayor, Jo Westwood said the Road Safety Advisory Council (RSAC) campaign's aim was to improve pedestrian safety and to reduce the number of serious casualties.

"Twenty per cent of serious pedestrian casualties occur at intersections," Cr Westwood said.

"Three quarters of accidents with pedestrians occur in speed zones of 60 km/h and under."

Cr Westwood said the aim of the campaign was to highlight to pedestrians that even though they may have the right of way when crossing the road, they need to watch out for cars regardless.

"The campaign uses the 'green walk signal' as a caricature to convey the message that people are vulnerable on the road when it comes to oncoming vehicles.

"The walk character is well-recognised, which helps with the messaging in the campaign.

"The green safety person will appear around Kingborough as chalk stencils on the footpaths and on traffic signal poles.

"When you are crossing the road, stop and check that the driver of a vehicle has seen you before stepping out."

The campaign is a state-wide campaign with safety messages displayed on traffic signal poles, bus backs and mobile and billboard advertising.

The green safety person will appear around Kingborough as chalk stencils on the footpaths and on traffic signal poles to remind pedestrians and drivers to look out for each other. (PS)

Free cyber risk workshops

The Kingborough and Huon Business Enterprise Centre is partnering with The Project Lab to assist in the delivery of AusIndustry's Cyber Security Business Connect and Protect Program.

The free program will deliver cyber risk management plans for Tasmanian businesses and not for profits to raise workforce awareness.

Scott Duffy from the Kingborough and Huon Business Enterprise Centre spoke about the concern for cyber safety.

"The amount of cyber fraud at present is rife," said Scott.

"I spoke to a local just this week who is caught up in this and we hope to educate businesses to minimise the risk and not lose money from fraud and viruses."

Over the next eight months this program will deliver:

- Free public and industry-specific workshops.
- Free cyber consultancy services for businesses to develop cyber risk plans.
- Additional co-funded cyber advisory services (70% funded by AusIndustry and The Project Lab)
- Free on-demand learning delivered through an online platform.
- Other value-adding tools from program partners.

The workshop is being held at the Kingborough Community Hub on Thursday, September 23 from 5.30pm to 7pm.

For free tickets and more information go to <https://events.humanitix.com/cyber-security-business-connect-and-protect-program>

Narryna history shared

The Browns River History Group meetings are going well, with a full house each month with many people mentioning they saw the article in the Kingborough Chronicle.

Their September monthly talk is all about the house museum called Narryna in Battery Point.

Felicity Hickman will share the story, she is a volunteer guide at Narryna and will talk about the convicts, colonists and curious connections associated with this merchant's house.

Narryna was built for Andrew Haig and his family in 1838 to 1840.

Haig only occupied the lovely Georgian House for 18 months, but the house survived and had many owners, residents and uses since then.

The talk will be held on Monday, September 13 from 3pm to 4pm at the Library Learning Centre at 8 Hutchins Street Kingston in Block A Room A1 (Old Kingston Primary School).

The room has a limit of 27 people, come early to get a seat.

All welcome, members of Browns River History Group are free but a gold coin donation is appreciated for everyone else.

Felicity Hickman will provide the September monthly talk for the Browns River History Group about the house museum called Narryna in Battery Point. (PS)

Discover discreet hearing devices

Findings from Hearing Australia's 'Share your Secret' survey of Australians over the age of 50, show that despite hearing loss potentially hindering the ability to live life to the full, people are not taking action.

One in four older Australians don't recall ever having a hearing test, while more than one in five haven't had a hearing test in over five years.

This result may be due to outdated views on hearing aid technology.

Despite hearing aids now being modern, small and discreet, nearly all respondents said they would be too embarrassed to wear a hearing aid, as they perceived the devices as "ugly and unfashionable".

Anyone concerned about their hearing can contact Hearing Australia.

For over 70 years, they've helped a million Australians with hearing loss, discover the secret to celebrating the sounds they love.

Visit Hearing Australia at Kingston Town Shopping Centre, 6283 1500, in the Huon Arcade, 6283 1561, or visit hearing.com.au

KINGSTON TOWN FRESH NEW LOOK

A slice of paradise

Our Kingston Town butcher shop only ranges Tasmanian grown and produced beef.

There's nothing quite like a tender cut of meat cooked to perfection. But this process doesn't start in the kitchen, or with one of our expert butchers, it starts on the farm with dedicated local farmers.

All the fresh meat you'll find in store comes from right here in Australia, with all the beef coming from Tasmania. That means with every delicious bite, you're supporting local Tasmanian and Australian farmers and their communities. And because it's 100% Australian, you're also enjoying some of the finest quality in the world.

Good farming practices are important to us, which is why all of our Woolworths branded fresh chicken is RSPCA Approved. This means that all our Woolworths branded chicken is ethically raised and delivered fresh to store.

Once in store, our butchers know just how to bring out the feature flavours and textures. They can even slice your selection of fresh meat while you wait, so you go home with exactly what you were after. Also, ask for cooking tips while you're there, so your dish is juicy, tender and packed with flavour.

BOOK WEEK

Margate Primary School

Margate Primary School students and staff ventured outdoors and onto the local footpaths for a colourful parade, in celebration of Book Week on September 1. (PS)

Margate's glorious Book Week parade

On the first day of Spring, in glorious weather, Margate Primary School students and staff set off on a community walk to celebrate Book Week.

Classes ventured out onto local footpaths to show everyone their dazzling, daring and delightful costumes.

Families and community members waved and cheered students on their merry way, as they travelled along the streets of Margate.

The community walk ended with a parade on the school grounds, where students modelled their creative costumes for their peers, followed by a special treat from the school's Parents and Friends Association.

Margate Primary staff said it was a marvellous event and they would like to thank students, families and the community for their support and for the spectacular and creative costumes on display.

Margate Primary students Eddie as a Little Legend AFL player and Freddy as Monster Chef. (PS)

Lucas, Elsie, Phoebe, Spencer and Marshall transformed into children's book characters Wally, The Little Mermaid, Unicorn, Ninjago Samurai-Droid and The Gruffalo. (PS)

Caitlyn, Ivy, Grace, and Emilia put on fancy their dress costumes, tiaras, sequins and smiles for Book Week. (PS)

Winners are grinners

The winners of the Kingston Primary School Association winter raffle have been notified and their reactions were heart-warming.

Several people cried, others were heard shrieking with delight and some people thought the phone call was a hoax.

They joined the delighted group when convinced this was their lucky day.

The small and hardworking band of ticket sellers raised over $4000 from ticket sales and donations, made new friends, and certainly added to the positive community profile of the school.

There were 40 identified donations and many more unnamed from the wider school community, 32 prizes and 937 ticket sales.

The raffle was conducted electronically making it COVID-safe and secure, with no last-minute scrambling to return ticket butts and money.

The Kingston Primary School community is most grateful for the generosity of all the donors, individuals and businesses.

Everyone at Kingston Primary School will benefit from this raffle and the extra teaching resources this activity will provide.

"When the youngest members of a community are supported, everyone benefits, not only with the resources but also with the warm and enthusiastic new friends this activity has created," said Christine Howard, a Kingston Primary School student's grandparent.

Jack the Jumper was also busy supporting the Legacy appeal at Kingston Beach, with Kathryn Edwards from Hobart Legacy, Tasmanian JackJumpers sharpshooter, Clint Steindl and Kingborough Councillor, Sue Bastone. (PS)

Live well, live long

The next round of the award-winning health awareness program, Live Well Live Long start on Friday September 24 and run until Friday 26 November.

The program consists of a series of free education sessions covering hearing loss, stress management, gentle exercising, fall prevention and understanding technology, delivered via the Kingborough Council Community Development team.

Kingborough Mayor, Cr Paula Wriedt said the program takes a holistic approach to the health and wellbeing of older people in the community.

"By focusing on building health awareness, the classes aim to help older people to remain more independent," Cr Wriedt said.

"The first round of the initial program was quickly filled with a waiting list almost filling up the second series.

"I would encourage everyone to be quick and call if they wanted to be part of this next series.

"Attendees really enjoyed the program with one reporting it was a great way to meet people of a similar age with an interest in wellbeing."

Advice and tips will be shared with plenty of time allocated to questions, answers and sharing of your experiences.

Sessions will be between 10am and 12 noon and will include morning tea and time for a chat.

Live Well Live Long will be held at the Community Hub, opposite the Health Centre, 7 Goshawk Way, Kingston.

To find out more or to register, phone Julie on 6211 8170 or email jalderfox@kingborough.tas.gov.au

Tigers earn Team of the Year stripes

The 2021 Tasmanian State League (TSL) Team of the Year has been selected with Tigers represented among the state's top footballers.

All seven TSL clubs were asked to nominate players they believed worthy of Team of the Year consideration with a TSL panel then selecting the best 22 of the 2021 season.

The selection panel picked the team and positions as if the team were to play a game.

The TSL Coach of the Year was voted on by the seven TSL coaches, who all submitted their votes to TSL management, with Kingborough coach Trent Baumeler coming out on top.

Luke Graham, Marcus Gardner and Eddie Cole from the Tigers joined their coach after being selected among the state's best.

Player summaries for their Team of the Year selection were written by Simon Andrews, Sam Kenny and Paige Thompson.

FP: Luke Graham (16 games, 28 goals, second time TOTY)

Graham has continued to show why he is one of the most exciting forwards in the league, stepping up in the absence of the injured Tyler Carter to lead the Tigers' forward line throughout the back half of the campaign.

One of the most competitive and creative players in the league, Graham averaged over three tackles and five contested disposals a game, as well as 2.4 marks and 1.6 goals.

Graham kicked 28 goals to rank among the league's best.

Graham is also reliable in clutch moments, as demonstrated by his matchwinning effort against the Roos in round 19.

RU: Marcus Gardner (17 games, 12 goals, first time TOTY)

Gardner has stood out as one of the most improved players in the competition during season 2021, where he has dominated the ruck position for the Tigers, despite often playing a lone hand.

The big man's marking ability is of the utmost value to his side, offering an outlet target down the line, as well as a tall target inside 50.

Marcus averaged over 37 hit outs per game.

RO: Eddie Cole (18 games, 5 goals, first time TOTY)

Cole's decision to return home to the TSL is one that has been very popular with fans of the yellow and black.

Essentially filling the midfield role left by Kieran Lovell, Cole brought serious tenacity and hunger to his duties in 2021.

Cole is in the top five in the competition for contested disposals, clearances and hard-ball-gets whilst also dominating the tackles count with 9.4 a game.

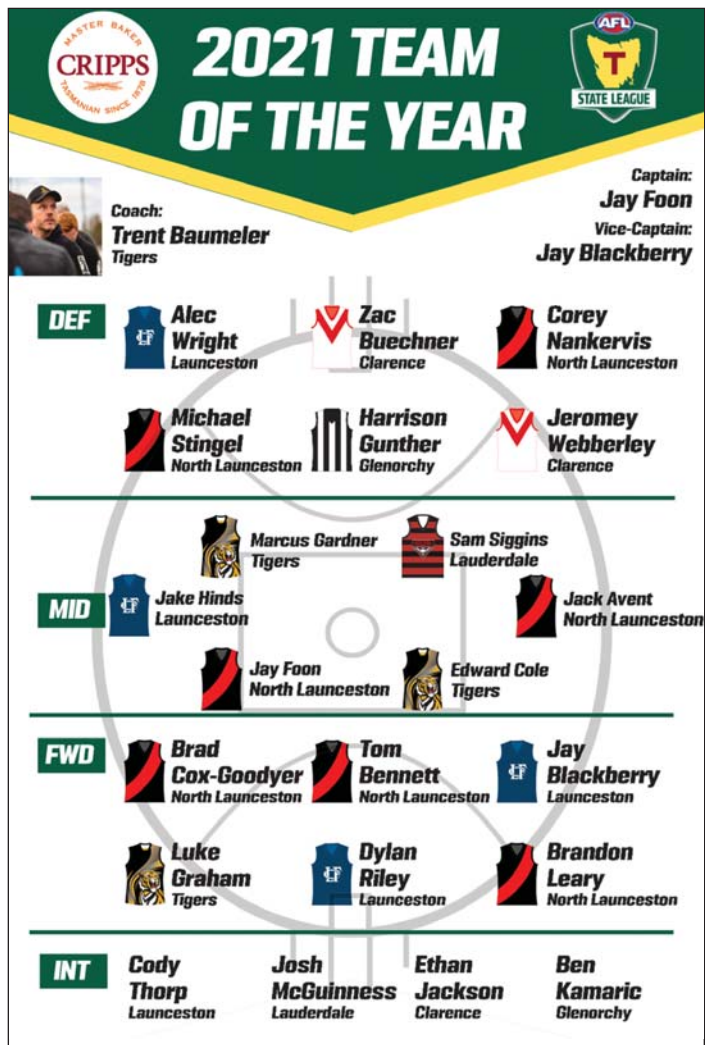

You know what Cole is going to bring to the table any given weekend. One of the recruits of the year.

Selection headaches

Selection headaches were aplenty, with a number of players unlucky to miss the cut.

The competition's midfield depth made on-ball spots difficult to finalise, with Tigers Lachlan Clifford and Will Campbell and Roo Jarrod Harper stiff to miss.

Young Tiger Zach Adams was strongly considered for a wing spot after a consistent season, while teammate Elijah Reardon was unlucky to miss in defence.

Luke Graham, Marcus Gardner and Eddie Cole from the Tigers joined their coach Trent Baumeler after being selected among the state's best in the 2021 Tasmanian State League (TSL) Team of the Year. (PS)

Jack from the Tasmania JackJumpers Basketball team visited grade 3/4 Barker at Kingston Primary School on Friday, August 27. It was a surprise visit for the students, organised by school PE teacher, Mrs Cockerell. The students loved dribbling the ball with Jack, shooting hoops, and posing with their new shirts. Back row Emily, Sienna, Lily, Khloe, Lochie, Ricky, Alice, Stella, Nadeen, Lily, and Miss Barker. Front row Lily, Ari, Ashar, Julia, Jing Wei, Abdullah and Tyson. (PS)

Kingborough competes at St Helens

A group of eight members from the Kingborough Bowls and Community Club had a great weekend on the east coast on Saturday, August 28 and Sunday, August 29 supporting the St Helens Bowls Club's Spring into Spring Pairs Carnival.

This was the fifth year of the carnival at St Helens and 24 teams from all parts of the state entered the competition played on the Saturday.

Kingborough players who took part were Craig Griggs, Will Coad, Robert (Treb) O'Neill, Jarrod Long, Brent Forsyth, Nathan and Callum Dinning and ex-Kingborough Taelyn Male.

Unfortunately, two of the teams from Tiger land played each other in the first round with Will Coad and Treb O'Neill defeating the brothers, Nathan and Callum Dinning.

Jarrod Long and Brent Forsyth won their first-round game and had to play Will Coad and Treb O'Neill in the second, with the win going to Jarrod and Brent in a hard-fought encounter.

Taelyn Male and Craig Griggs winning the first two rounds meant that Taelyn and Craig were in second place overall and needed to win their last game to stay in with a chance of winning overall.

Brent and Jarrod were running third overall on shots difference so had to win and hope one or both the top two faltered.

Taelyn and Craig did enough to hold off the fast-finishing Jarrod and Brent to stay above them on the ladder by one shot.

As a result, Kingborough picked up second and third place in the competition.

The results from the day were:

- 1st: Jane Pickett and Rae Simpson 6 points, 35 shots, 22 ends.
- 2nd: Craig Griggs and Taelyn Male 6 points, 28 shots, 21 ends.
- 3rd: Brent Forsyth and Jarrod Long 6 points, 27 shots, 21 ends.

Meanwhile, back at the Kingborough Bowls Club on Sunday, August 29, following on from a working bee a few weeks ago to top dress the greens, a dedicated band of club volunteers formed a working bee to give the interior of the club rooms and indoor centre a spring clean for the start of the approaching new season.

The working bee consisted of Leonie and Geoff Price, Stuart and Judy Trail, Kerrie Lane, Michael Andersch, Michael Steele, Sally Bowes, Conrad Westhead, Anne Palmer, Dominic Lacey, Dale Freeman, Michael Harris, Maureen and Allen Sculthorpe, Ken Du Boi and Viv and Lorraine Walker.

As the result the club rooms came up spick and span, and the comradery continued as the volunteers enjoyed a roast lunch catered by Kerrie, Michael and Sally.

The Tuesday Afternoon Fours Competition continued in the comfort of the Donald Hazell Indoor Centre with round five of the seven round competition.

Team Hemmings were the biggest winners on the day with a combined winning margin of 28 shots.

There were three two-game winners, Teams Harra's Harem, Hemmings and Cawthorn.

The "clash of the day" was in game one when Hinkley and Newbold met, with Team Hinkley winning the close encounter by three shots.

A drawn game between Hinkley and Chaffey and losses to Newbold, Baker and Family Affair has resulted in the leader board becoming very tight.

Harra's Harem is in top spot with 25 points (43 shots up). Next is a trio on 22 points, Newbold (45 shots up), Hinkley (21 shots) and Family Affair (12 shots).

The top six is completed by teams Baker on 18/27 and Chaffey 17/22.

On Wednesday night the club rooms were packed when the Grand Final of the Channel Darts Association Competition was held there.

The final was between The Longley International Hotel Darts Team and the Cygnet Darts team.

Longley came away winners on the night, winning 8-6.

Competition was tight in all games on the night with Shane Clark from Longley scoring 180, and there was a number of 140s thrown on the night.
