

Antarctic Division celebrates 40 years

2021 marks the 40th anniversary of the Australian Antarctic Division's move to Tasmania and the establishment of Hobart as an Antarctic Gateway City in 1981.

For 40 years now, the Australian Antarctic Division (AAD) has attracted world-class experts from science to policy, polar medicine to operations, to work locally in Tasmania.

To mark this anniversary, celebrations were held at the Tasmanian Museum and Art Gallery in recognition of the role AAD and generations of Antarctic families play in the southern Tasmanian community.

Minister for State Growth, Roger Jaensch attended the anniversary and commented on the achievements of the Australian Antarctic Division.

"Supporting the Australian Antarctic Division to deliver our national Antarctic program is an honour, and provides Tasmania with an opportunity to showcase our capacity to supply quality produce and develop highly specialised equipment, custom-designed for Antarctic conditions," said Minister Jaensch.

The Antarctic Division was established in Melbourne in 1948 as a part of the Federal Government's Department of External Affairs.

In 1973, in a move aimed at promoting regional development and decentralisation, it was proposed the Division be relocated to Hobart.

In April 1981, the newly built AAD headquarters in Kingston was officially opened by HRH Prince Charles.

Since then, Tasmania has grown to support the sector, establishing industries producing specialised equipment, produce and other supplies that support Australia's Antarctic program, as well as several international partner programs.

This growth continues, with the sector contributing $229.4 million in value to the economy in 2019-20, of which $158.7 million was spent directly in Tasmania.

The sector also employs nearly 950 people locally, both directly and indirectly.

With October marking the start of the Antarctic season, Hobart is set to become a hive of activity around Macquarie Point and Wharf with the deployment of supplies, equipment and expeditioners to Antarctica and the Southern Ocean.

A new era for the AAD and the broader Australian Antarctic Program will begin in just days, when the nation's new icebreaker RSV Nuyina, arrives in Hobart for the first time.

"We thank the Australian Antarctic Division for being part of Tasmania's community and identity, and I wish all expeditioners well for the coming season," Minister Jaensch concluded.

$5 million in the pipeline

A pipeline from the Blackmans Bay Water Treatment Plant to a private golf course development has received $5 million in Federal funding.

The pipeline is proposed to travel from Blackmans Bay, eastward across the Derwent River, to South Arm, to deliver water security, according to a media release by Federal Senator, Jonno Duniam on September 30.

However, the media release omits any mention of the words 'golf course'.

"This pipeline will allow water from the Blackmans Bay Water Treatment Plant to be delivered to the South Arm Peninsula for irrigation purposes," Senator Duniam said.

"It will improve the reliability of South Arm's water infrastructure, support agricultural production and help to deliver water security across the region."

The $5 million in funding was first announced by the Deputy Prime Minister, Barnaby Joyce MP and Senator Duniam in a media release on August 11.

The Kingborough Chronicle wrote to Senator Duniam on August 12, requesting a copy of the cost-benefit analysis used by the Government in its decision to fund the pipeline, however we were referred to the golf course developer's generic email address.

"Can Senator Duniam confirm this pipeline is to irrigate the private golf course development at South Arm?"

"What is the total cost of the pipeline?"

"Where is the cost-benefit analysis, showing who will benefit?"

Senator Duniam's office directed the questions regarding the Government's decision making to the private developer.

"The pipeline will irrigate South Arm, including the golf course," Senator Duniam's office replied.

"Your other questions would be best directed to Arm End."

The Kingborough Chronicle wrote to TasWater on September 29 regarding their involvement in the project.

"In line with our Shareholder's Letter of Expectations, TasWater supports economic development within Tasmania," replied a TasWater spokesperson.

"Our involvement is limited to the supply of treated effluent from our Blackmans Bay Sewage Treatment Plant."

The associated costs to the State's Budget is unknown.

Minister responds to housing crisis

Minister for State Development, Construction and Housing, Michael Ferguson has responded to the Shadow Housing Minister, Ella Haddad's comments in the article "Housing crisis goes from bad to worse", published in the Kingborough Chronicle on September 21.

"It's clear that Ms Haddad was in a different estimated committee to the rest of the world," said Minister Ferguson. "She and I discussed a range of affordability measures that we both agreed should be considered as the Government works to increase supply in the face of a growing population. "While access to affordable housing is a national problem, Tasmania's strong local economy, and the fact that our state is one of the safest and most desirable places in the world to live, work and raise a family is also contributing.

"The Tasmanian Government recognises the real struggles many Tasmanians are experiencing with their housing situation and is responding with serious action.

"We have made a record investment of $615 million into the supply of social and affordable housing and homelessness initiatives.

"This is in addition to the Government's $30 million annual funding of 17 existing Specialist Homelessness Services including Housing Connect Front Door and Support, crisis shelters, brokered accommodation and supported accommodation.

"We are also responding by investing $2 million to develop a comprehensive Tasmanian Housing Strategy.

"This will investigate all the opportunities available to the State Government to influence the housing market through regulatory systems, strategic land use planning, policies, taxes, subsidies, and capital investment.

"Ultimately, increasing housing supply is the only way to combat rising house prices, get Tasmanians off the housing register and into suitable homes.

"Which is why we are building an extra 2000 new homes

by 2027, on top of the 1,500 already being built over the next three years, bringing the total to 3,500 new homes by 2027 to help our most vulnerable, which includes our record investment to help around 5,000 Tasmanian households out of housing stress or homelessness by 30 June 2023.

"In the last financial year, our Government invested $90.9 million on capital expenditure for housing.

"In contrast, the last time Labor was in government, they managed to invest only $28.9 million, one third of what this Government invested last year.

"Labor's unbudgeted plan for housing they took to election this year suggested they would deliver the same number of new homes as this Government, for $80 million less.

"I was merciful on Ms Haddad by not challenging her to explain this giant policy gap.

"Like so many of Labor's policies, this is an impossible and un-costed pipe dream.

"Unlike Labor, we are making more than empty promises.

"In 2020-21, 99.7 per cent of housing's capital budget was spent.

"This means almost every dollar committed has translated to real world action to assist those facing housing stress," Minister Ferguson concluded.

A Tapestry of Bruny Island

Bruny Island author Karen Darby launched the second edition of her book A Tapestry of Bruny Island Tasmania at the Lunawanna Appleshed, on Sunday, September 12.

Utilising a rich collection of extracts, diary entries, radio broadcasts, photographs, artworks and poetry, Karen has woven a vivid history of Bruny Island life during the twentieth century, as experienced, witnessed and recorded by four generations of family members, including a personal account from Karen herself.

Karen said she was encouraged to embark on a second edition of the book, after the first edition, published in 2013, went out of print.

"Many people were asking for a copy of it, so I thought why not," explained Karen.

"The book is a culmination of some years of very enjoyable, and not uneventful, research and of course blood sweat and tears.

"It makes me happy to be told things like 'dad is reading it to mum in the aged care home'."

The reader gains colourful insights into the comings and goings of Bruny Island characters in the mid-1900s, through diarised observations of Karen's paternal grandmother, Katie Jennings.

As a resident of the mariner's cottage at Simpsons Bay jetty, and with a background as a presenter on national radio, Katie Jennings was perfectly positioned to record this period, with grace, humour and flare.

The account describes the various transportation and infrastructure including the local watercraft, school, post and telegraph office and local identities.

The second generation of storytelling is led by Karen's father, Roger Jennings, a former Solicitor-General of Tasmania who began holidaying on the island as a youngster in 1935, fishing and adventuring.

Roger Jennings' account covers the war years, Saturday night dances and sly grog.

Karen Darby continues the tale from the third-generation view, with treasured and delicious memories, including Christmas, berries and jam.

Karen generously embellishes her account with quirky anecdotes.

"Bill King, the baker, also doubled as the local butcher," Karen wrote.

"One obtained eggs from the post office, milk from the school and meat and bread from the pub.

"The postmistress from on the telephone exchange unflinchingly knew where anyone was if they were ever enquired after."

The final chapters in the collection detail the memories and connection to the island as recorded by Karen's sons, Saul and Liam Darby, the fourth generation.

This book is truly a tapestry of Bruny Island, woven from parts of personal and family histories, into a living story of the island and its community, on a journey through time.

Recommended reading for locals and visitors alike.

Connect with nature before work

A series of walks before work, in Kingborough's bushland reserves, have been organised by Kingborough Council to coincide with Mental Health Week, from October 11 to 15.

Kingborough Mayor, Cr Paula Wriedt is inviting the community to "take a walk in nature with us this Mental Health Week".

"We are celebrating how easy it is for us here in Kingborough to spend time in nature, by offering guided walks with health practitioners and council's Natural Areas and Biodiversity Team," Cr Wriedt said.

"Time spent in nature has healing qualities, promotes calmness and is a wonderful way to connect with your community.

"Some of us have very busy lives but that shouldn't stop us reaping the benefits of nature, that's why we are offering these walks early in the morning.

"From 8am every day through Mental Health Week, you can take an easy stroll learning about our natural areas and enjoy the health benefits of nature with a health practitioner.

"Our bushland reserves, creek lines and coasts are public lands and are valuable resources for our well-being.

"Healthy natural landscapes lead to healthy people." Local General Practitioner, Dr Kate Bendall said spending time in nature has benefits for our health.

"By spending time in nature, you can decrease your blood pressure, reduce anxiety and negative thinking and improve your immune system," Dr Bendall said.

"Research suggests the benefits of spending even a small amount of time in the natural environments, whether that be in bushlands and around waterways, all have a positive effect on our wellbeing."

See council's website for the Walks in Nature program.

Rubbish removed from Peter Murrell Reserves

A team of volunteers from The Friends of the Peter Murrell Reserves recently assisted Parks and Wildlife Rangers to remove about 600 kilograms of rubbish from the reserve.

The rubbish was exposed after a fuel reduction burn in the south-west of the reserve in March.

"Most of the rubbish was old beer bottles, cans and car parts which had been dumped before the land was declared a reserve in 1998," said Sue Jones, President of the Friends Group.

"At that time it was unmanaged public land and a dumping ground for all sorts of rubbish.

"As Kingborough's population is rapidly expanding, the reserve is becoming increasingly important as a refuge for native plants and animals, as well as exercise.

"It's important that we look after it."

The clean-up was organised by the Tasmanian Parks and Wildlife Service, with staff providing vehicles and bags for the rubbish.

"It was a great team effort," Mrs Jones said.

A shed gathering for southern men

Channel Men's Shed and the Tasmanian Men's Shed Association recently hosted a meeting of members from across southern Tasmania.

The gathering in Margate was attended by 39 visitors from 20 Men's Sheds.

Participants had the opportunity to compare notes, identify issues and share their success stories.

Guest speaker Dr Larissa Bartlett, from the University of Tasmania's Wicking Dementia Research and Education Centre, delivered a talk on the effect of aging and other factors which may lead to dementia.

Dr Bartlett also spoke about lifestyle changes to minimize or delay the risk of dementia.

Past president of the Men's Shed Association, Peter Shelley, provided information on the proposed Hobart City Community Shed, to be located in Anglesea Street, South Hobart.

Peter Shelley also provided an update on current funding and grant opportunities to be explored.

A roast meal and dessert, prepared by Channel Men's Shed volunteers, was enjoyed by the gathering.

Men's Shed members also prepared and delivered a quantity of meals to needy recipients of Kingborough Helping Hands on the same evening.

Men's Shed members from across southern Tasmania met at the Channel Men's Shed in Margate recently. (PS)

Fitness trainer Sue Burgess led participants through a series of chair exercises during a Dementia Friendly Tasmania self-care day at Middleton Community Hall on Thursday, September 30. (PS)

Middleton self-care day

A day of self-care and wellbeing activities at Middleton Community Hall was enjoyed by 25 people on Thursday, September 30.

The event was organized by local volunteers of Dementia Friendly Tasmania and funded by a Kingborough Council community grant.

Local dietician and author Ngaire Hobbins spoke on the topic of nutrition during the aging process.

A nourishing lunch of salads, fish, cold meats and fruit platters was enjoyed and provided an opportunity for participants to mingle and make new connections.

Fitness trainer Sue Burgess led participants through a series of chair exercises that can provide benefits to health and mental wellbeing.

President of Dementia Friendly Tasmania, Kath

Shearer, said she was pleased with the turnout.

"We are trying to enable older people in our more isolated communities to live life to the full, and to also understand what dementia is, and how they may be able to prevent or delay its onset," explained Kath Shearer.

"Dementia describes a collection of symptoms that are caused by disorders affecting the brain.

"The most common type of dementia is Alzheimer's disease.

"It is not one specific disease, and it affects thinking, behaviour and the ability to perform everyday tasks."

The next self-care session is to be held in Alonnah in March 2022.

One-stop audiology clinic

Ability Hearing and Balance is the only Tasmanian-owned and operated hearing clinic in Kingborough.

Conveniently located in Channel Court, local owners Nick and Heidi Modrovich wanted to create a clinic that was a little different.

"We wanted to make it easier for Kingston residents to access a full range of hearing services," said Principal Audiologist Nick Modrovich.

"We test children's hearing and perform central auditory assessments.

"We are the only clinic in Tasmania to offer the full suite of balance and vestibular testing.

"Clients travel from northern Tasmania to see us because we are the only ones with the equipment and expertise to do the testing in Tassie.

"We are also the only clinic in Kingston to offer earwax micro-suction.

"It makes sense to have earwax removed prior to your hearing test.

"You can get both done, quick and easy, in the single appointment right here."

"The accuracy of the hearing test is super important if you need a hearing aid.

"Having earwax suction onsite means we are one-hundred percent confident your results are not caused by ear wax."

"Our custom-built Sound Room Maunam™ is another Ability Hearing innovation," Nick Modrovich noted.

"Our Sound Room is specifically designed to give the most accurate test results.

"Many people see an audiologist when it is time to think about hearing aids.

"You want the most accurate hearing baseline to base your decision on.

"Maunam™ gives you the reassurance."

Contact Ability Hearing and Balance on 1300 327 776 to support a local innovative business.

Yeltuor celebrates 50 years in style

First opening in Launceston in 1971, Yeltuor has curated a range of the best Australian and international women's fashion brands over generations.

Two years later, in 1973, Yeltuor opened a second store in the then Downtowner Mall in Hobart, and that's when Glenda arrived 48 years ago.

Yeltuor opened their third store, on Gregory Street in Sandy Bay, soon after.

Three stores expanded to four eight-years-ago, when Yeltuor opened in Kingston, reaching out to new customers in the Channel and Huon areas.

Yeltuor introduced locals to labels and fabrics that they'd never worn before, with assistants on hand to provide honest and informative styling advice.

Fifty years in women's fashion and Yeltuor continues to source the best.

Visit Yeltuor in Channel Court Shopping Centre and absorb the fresh colours of Spring.

Yeltuor is celebrating 50 years since the first store opened in 1971. Glenda joined Yeltuor 48 years ago and has watched the business grow. For the past eight years, Yeltuor has been the destination in Channel Court Shopping Centre for women gathering fashion and style.

Fresh, tasty and healthy Korean food

Young's Table in Channel Court Shopping Centre opened earlier this year to rave reviews.

Owner and chef, Young Kim, previously lived in Adelaide since 2005 before moving to Tasmania with his family.

Young and his sister launched a burger cafe in Battery Point called Devil's Kitchen Café before opening in Young's Table in May 2021.

"My family are so happy to live in Tasmania and we'd like to introduce not only Korean food, but also Korean culture to Tasmanians, especially Kingston residents," said Young.

"We've been living in Kingston since 2017 and we love this town.

"My daughter is attending school in Kingston so we wanted to make our home, work and school close together for maximum efficiency."

Young's Table have extended their opening days to Sunday from 11.30am to 3pm.

Monday to Friday hours are 11.30am to 2pm and 4pm to 8.30pm, and Saturday hours are 11.30am to 8.30pm.

The restaurant is fully licensed with BYO available and the food is fresh, tasty, and healthy.

Korean fried chicken (K.F.C.) is the most popular with spicy sauce.

"We're surprised that many Aussies prefer the spicy one as well," said Young.

"The next most popular one is bibimbap, we serve it in a sizzling pot so it tastes better and makes you warm too.

"Also, it's the best way to consume a lot of veggies at the same time, it's very healthy.

"As a provider, it's never an easy job to make Korean food. It requires lots of effort to make a single dish, for example, just for making bibimbap we need to prepare four vegetables by rinsing, peeling off, shredding and stir frying.

"We use very limited frozen products such as chips or calamari, the rest of our ingredients are freshly prepared."

Young and his family love working in Kingston and are happy to provide fresh, tasty and healthy food to the local community.

"I really love working in this community.

"There're many good Korean restaurants in North

Hobart, Sandy Bay and Huonville and I love to visit the places by myself.

"But sometimes it's quite far from my place so I think the location of my business will be a good option for people in this town.

"Also, I love to share the happy moments when they experience Korean food.

"It's a huge reward and makes me forget all the exhaustion and worries."

Young's Table opened in May 2021 and has extended its opening hours to seven days a week to include Sunday, 11.30am to 3pm. Visit Young's Table for tasty, authentic Korean food. (PS)

KNA received the Members Service Award for an Association providing outstanding service to their membership through the prior session and the Participation Award for the Association who has demonstrated year on year participation growth.

KNA has grown stronger and focussed heavily on providing participation opportunities for the local community and beyond in 2020 and 2021.

"It was also wonderful to see KNA athletics recognised at the Awards Dinner," said KNA Secretary, Angela Cassidy.

Hannah Brereton had an outstanding year and was named in the All-Stars Tasmanian Netball League 19U Team for 2021.

Jo Thompson had a fantastic season and was awarded with Runner-up Most Valuable Player for the Tasmanian Netball League 19U.

Both Hannah and Jo's pathway to State League Netball has been assisted by their participation in KNA representative teams.

"Both players represented KNA in all age groups over the years, both young ladies are now playing for Kington Blues U19s in the State League Competition," said Angela.

"Hannah has represented Tasmania in the State U15s Team in 2019.

"Jo has taken on the role of coaching the KNA U12s Representative Team for 2021 and has been an impressive and positive influence as a coach and player."

Cricket Tasmania's Premier League First Grade played its second round on Saturday, October 9. All games in the first round, apart from one in Launceston, were called off due to poor weather last weekend. Kingborough Knights (6-162) defeated the Greater Northern Raiders (95). Two new faces at the Knights made an impression as openers with Nivethan Radhakrishnan (23) and Anthony Adlam (37). Nivethan has come from NSW to be an opening batter and number-one spinner and has represented Australia at the junior level. Anthony has also come from NSW, but via NT, where he played in their local league with Beau Webster. # Bowls news from around the green

Excitement is building up around the Kingborough Bowls and Community Club with all members including many new members, eagerly awaiting the approaching start to the Bowls Tasmania South Pennant Competitions.

The first games played this season will be the Men's Pennant Competitions which will commence on Wednesday, October 13.

Kingborough has three teams in the Wednesday competition in Division 1, Division 3 and Division 4.

On Wednesday, October 6, Sandy Bay Bowls Club members attended the Kingborough Bowls Club where Division 1 and Division 3 players competed in practice matches between both clubs.

The games played displayed that both teams were very competitive.

Members of the regular visiting Possability Tasmania group added to the atmosphere on the day.

As they left the Donald Hazell Indoor Centre after their session they were surprised and elated to see the activity taking place on the green outside as Sandy Bay and Kingborough competed in the practice match with seven rinks of play taking place.

The first open gender Saturday Pennant Competitions this season will commence on Saturday, October 16.

Kingborough has teams in six divisions, being Premier Division, Division 1, Division 3, Division 4, Division 5 and Division 7.

The majority of players turned up for the first official practice matches on Saturday, October 2.

Premier Division and Division 1 were to have their games in the Donald Hazell Indoor Centre and the other five divisions were to play outdoors on grass, however the weather dictated again, with inclement weather forcing all players indoor.

This made rotation of players in the games necessary so everyone got some play during the session.

The Women's Pennant Competition is played on Thursday, but their opening round of their competition is going to be played on Tuesday, October 19 due to Thursday being Royal Hobart Show Day.

Kingborough has three Divisions in this season's competition, Division 1, 2 and 4.

The Kingborough Bowls and Community Club and the Bruny Island Bowls and Community Club have both had a long and proud history in the sport of bowls.

In recent times both clubs have changed their constitutions to become community clubs as well as being bowls clubs.

Personal relationships have developed between both clubs which has resulted in a rink of Bruny bowlers playing for Kingborough in the Division 3 Wednesday Summer Pennant and this will continue.

Kingborough has also proposed to Bowls Tasmania South that two mid-week Kingborough games be played at Bruny Club this season, and this is understood to be approved.

Kingborough has also agreed to provide substitutes to Bruny for Saturday Pennant, if required, on basis bowlers are available.

Bruny bowlers will be permitted to practice at Kingborough by arrangement and are welcome to participate in Kingborough Indoor Winter Pennants.

Also, it has also been agreed that the annual social days organized between the clubs will continue.

On Sunday, October 3, 23 Kingborough Bowlers travelled from the Kingborough Club, leaving at 8am and travelled to the Bruny Island Bowls Club at Adventure Bay where they enjoyed the hospitality of the Bruny Club and their members.

Weather wise things were not looking good for playing bowls as they travelled through the rain to Adventure Bay, but after enjoying a welcoming morning tea at the club, the rain eased off and a very enjoyable game of bowls was played on the synthetic green in the drizzle.

The puddles forming on the green made bowling very interesting at times.

At the completion of the game, after a group photo was taken, all members from both clubs enjoyed a BBQ lunch in the undercover area of the club.

Arrangements have commenced in organizing Bruny Club members to attend Kingborough Bowls Club for a similar social event in the near future.

Netball Carnival coming to Kingston

Kingborough Netball Association (KNA) is hosting the Junior Statewide Netball Carnivals this weekend, October 16 and 17.

There are four Junior Statewide Netball Carnivals held each year.

This year KNA has secured naming rights sponsorship from Eastern Panel and Paint, who have strong ties to KNA members.

Kingborough will see over 1,600 visitors to the area over the two-day carnival.

Teams will be travelling from Burnie, Devonport, Launceston, and many other areas around the state to compete in the carnival.

The KNA Carnival plays a significant role in the identification of athletes for Netball Tasmania in terms of its pathway selection for 2022.

It is also a wonderful opportunity for over 43 teams from U11s to U17s to come together and play with and against each other.

All games will be held at the KNA outdoor courts and the Kingborough Sport Centre indoor courts.

Due to COVID restrictions the event is not open to the public.

KNA will have seven teams competing over the weekend in U11s, U12s, U13s, U14s, U15s and U17s.

"KNA wishes all teams the very best for the Carnival and extends their sincere thanks to Eastern Panel and Paint for coming on board as naming sponsors for the Carnival." said KNA Secretary, Angela Cassidy.
