

Veterans' health milestone

Kingston Beach RSL Sub-Branch members held a barbeque lunch on Tuesday, October 19 to mark Veterans' Health Week.

Veterans' Health Week officially ran from October 16 to 24, with events being held around the nation.

The day also coincided with the first public hearing of the Royal Commission into Defence and Veteran Suicide.

The Royal Commission was established in July, following agreement by the Governor-General of Australia, to address the high suicide rates among those who have served in the Australian Defence Forces.

Royal Commission Chair Nick Kaldas said on October 19 the date marks an important milestone for those personally affected by the tragedy of suicide.

"Many within the defence and veteran community have lost loved ones, or have themselves experienced suicidal thoughts, impulses or actions during or after their military service," Commissioner Kaldas said.

"As we embark on this inquiry, we hope to learn from the personal experiences of those who have served and their families to identify systemic issues and risk factors that can lead to suicide."

The Royal Commission's media release stated that during private sessions, defence members, veterans and their families are invited to share their experiences with a Commissioner in a confidential setting.

People will be given the opportunity to raise issues they see as having contributed to suicide and make suggestions for change.

People with lived experience of suicide are invited to apply for a private session, if that is their preference.

Private sessions will run for the duration of the Royal Commission.

The Royal Commission is also encouraging people to share their experiences by making a submission to assist the Commission to understand:

- Systemic issues among defence and veteran deaths by suicide
- Risk and protective factors, and
- The availability of support services.

The Royal Commission acknowledged that it may be difficult for some to come forward and tell their stories, and support will be available each step of the way.

"Counsellors will be on hand for those who engage with the Royal Commission and our staff will work to ensure these services operate in conjunction with individuals' existing health and family support networks," Commissioner Kaldas said.

The Royal Commission is due to produce an interim report by August 11, 2022 and a final report by June 15, 2023.

Further details, including the terms of reference can be found on the Royal Commission's website at defenceveteransuicide.royalcommission.gov.au

Survey questioned

Residents of Dynnryne have raised questions about the State Government's online public consultation survey on the proposed transit lane for the Southern Outlet.

SOS Hobart 2021 representative Tony Dell criticised the survey in a letter to the editor published on September 21.

"On closely examining the design of the 'survey', it is quite obviously designed to give the Government the answer it wants," wrote Tony Dell.

The Kingborough Chronicle wrote to Minister for Infrastructure and Transport, Michael Ferguson on September 15, asking a series of questions.

"Who designed the public consultation survey?"

"Does the Minister agree that the proposed removal of homes in Dynnryne has been a major, controversial issue for the community in relation to the Government's proposed Southern Outlet Transit Lane concept design?"

"Why is it that the survey fails to ask respondents to rate their preference regarding the removal of homes?"

"Where a survey appears to systematically favour one outcome, isn't this considered to be a biased survey?"

"Does the Minister agree that 'question wording bias' occurs when survey questions lead survey participants toward a favoured outcome?"

Minister Ferguson's response, received September 15, did not address all questions raised.

"The public consultation survey was developed by the Department of State Growth and is consistent with public feedback processes developed for other significant road projects," replied Minister Ferguson.

"The suite of projects under the Hobart City Deal will significantly improve the travel time reliability for commuters in Kingborough and the Huon.

"They include a new dedicated lane to give priority for more people to travel quicker in buses and cars carrying at least three people, from Olinda Grove right through into Macquarie Street, and the removal of parking and the creation of clearways to create an extra lane on upper Macquarie Street.

"In Budget Estimates last week, the CEO of Infrastructure Tasmania explained that he had assured residents who may be impacted by the Southern Outlet works that information about their private properties would not be put into the public domain for comment.

"Matters of property acquisition have always been and will continue to be between the Government and the actual people concerned.

"The Government continues to refine engineering designs on the transit lane and will work to minimise impacts on private property."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Public funding pipeline

Dear Editor,
The Kingborough Chronicle has disclosed the funding of an underwater pipeline in the Derwent to a private golf course development using $5 million of public money (October 12 edition, page 1).
This plan is disgraceful and should be abandoned immediately.
Public money could be better used to remove the ugly pipe across the beach at Blackmans Bay.

Barry Campbell

Balancing priorities

Dear Editor,
I think regular Kingborough Chronicle readers would know by now that Michael Whayman of Huntingfield doesn't like the amount of money spent on the new Kingston playground.
Ok, we get it.
Whilst I agree with him on his concern for affordable housing I don't think that one is necessarily at the expense of the other.
The municipality needs open spaces, which includes parks and playgrounds.
A visit to the playground will soon show you how much children and families enjoy it.
It's a gathering place, and that's a big part of any vibrant community.
Housing affordability is a whole other matter and requires more than the Kingborough Council reducing rates.
Amenities, roads, landscaping, water provisions and so on are all important parts of making our area more liveable.
The recent sale of some of the Mary Knoll property to finance low-cost housing is to be commended.
That's a small move, however limited to a relative few.
Yes, Kingborough is a fabulous place to live.
Unfortunately, because it's so wonderful, everyone wants to move here.
More people equals more demand, equals higher prices for homes.
But please don't deny children and families a special recreational space.

Police enforce virus measures

A Kingston man was arrested on Saturday,
October 16 for failing to comply with a Tasmania
Police direction in relation to the southern Tasmanian lockdown restrictions.

Tasmania Police said the 56-year-old Kingston man was charged with failing to comply with a direction of the Director of Public Health, and use of abusive language toward a police officer.
Assistant Commissioner Jonathan Higgins said Tasmania Police are enforcing the measures put in place to stop the spread of COVID-19.

"We know the vast majority of people will do the right thing, because they understand how important these measures are for protecting our community," Assistant Commissioner Jonathan Higgins said.
"Police will be taking a strong approach in dealing with those in the minority who continue to flout the rules and put other Tasmanians at risk.
"Do not be complacent about the restrictions."

Bird walks

Kingborough has a new brochure to help find local bird species.

The Bird Walks brochure is part of a series produced by BirdLife Tasmania with the support of Kingborough Council Community Grants program.

The Convenor of BirdLife Tasmania, Dr Eric Woehler said the brochure provided details on the remarkable endemic bird species found nowhere else on Planet Earth, though easily found on these walks.

“The brochure details habitats, access and the birds likely to be seen on 10 easy walks in the Kingborough municipality, including Bruny Island,” Dr Woehler said.

“It is hoped that this brochure is the first of more, where BirdLife Tasmania collaborates with councils elsewhere in Tasmania to produce a series for around the State.”

The Bird Walks brochure is available at Kingborough Council, Civic Centre, libraries and at will be available at BirdLife Tasmanian events.

An online copy is available at www.kingborough.tas.gov.au/wpcontent/uploads/2021/10/KingBirdWalkcombine.pdf

Participants in Kingborough’s spring walk for seniors held on Thursday, October 14, were guided by a new brochure to help spot endemic birds. The Bird Walks brochure provides information on the best locations to experience Kingborough’s birdlife. (PS)

Art acquisition award

The Art Farm Birches Bay annual sculpture prize exhibition opened on Saturday, October 23.

The sculpture Biotic Forms - Resurgence by local artist Ulrike Hora was announced as the winner of Kingborough Council's acquisition prize.

Ulrike was the winner of the small sculpture award at the Art Farm exhibition in 2020.

Ulrike moved with her family to Kettering in 2019, after being involved in ceramic art in numerous communities since moving to Australia at age 16.

A panel assessed the works on exhibition and selected the winning entry in accordance with Council's Public Art and Art Collection Policy.

Speaking at the opening, Kingborough Councillor Sue Bastone said the judges found this year's decision-making difficult.

"The fantastic array of sculptures in this year's trail made the decision-making process difficult for the selection panel," said Cr Bastone.

"We were impressed with the quality of Ulrike's ceramic works and the way they interplay with nature, with the shapes of buds, flowers, stems and seeds.

"Ulrike says the work is inspired by the cycles of nature and describes them as "being at once both earthly and alien", and like me I am sure that will resonate when you see them.

"We plan to exhibit the work in a secure public space, such as the Kingborough Community Hub and have lots of ideas brewing as to the form that exhibition might take," said Cr Bastone.

"The Art Farm continues to host our acquisition from last year, Squall by Ben Beams, which remains installed [on loan] at the Art Farm until it's new location is ready next year as part of our Transform Kingston project."

Taroona traffic lights

The Department of State Growth is looking into installing a pedestrian crossing with traffic lights and upgrades to the city-bound bus stop (Stop 27, No. 145 Channel Highway), opposite Taroona Primary School.

The installations are aimed at addressing safety concerns raised by the community for bus passengers crossing the Channel Highway to access city-bound services.

The traffic lights will also enable more students to use bus services on the Channel Highway, reducing overcrowding concerns on the dedicated buses entering the school grounds.

The city-bound bus stop will be upgraded to be Disability Discrimination Act 1992 (DDA) compliant making it easier for people with limited mobility or prams to access bus services.

The passenger waiting area will be widened to enable safer access for all passengers using the Metro general access bus services and a new shelter will be constructed.

The final design for the project will be completed later this year with construction expected to commence in the first half of 2022 for a period of approximately 12 weeks.

The public can view the concept plan and provide feedback until November 5 by visiting www.transport.tas.gov.au/taroonacrossing

The project team can be contacted at participate@ghd.com or phone 6210 0662.

A pedestrian crossing with traffic lights is being considered for Taroona, including upgrades to the city-bound bus stop opposite Taroona Primary School. (PS)

Local U3A committee President Maureen Robinson and members Karen McCrone and Pam Poulson put the kettle on and participated in an Australia-wide online forum, on the topic of building an 'Australia without Ageism' recently. The event coincided with United Nations General Assembly International Day of Older Persons, which is observed on October 1 each year. (PS)

Lockdown grants

Payments are available for eligible businesses in Kingborough, and other local government areas, directly impacted by the stay-at-home orders applied in Southern Tasmania recently.

The Southern Tasmania Lockdown Business Support Program was announced by Premier of Tasmania, Peter Gutwein on October 20.

"A $1000 payment will be made to any business (with a minimum $25,000 turnover) forced to close for the duration of the lockdown," stated Premier Gutwein.

"Businesses that closed partially, who were able to pivot to takeaway or other service delivery, will receive a $750 payment.

"An additional payment of up to $10,000 is available for lost perishable goods which had to be discarded as a direct result of the lockdown order.

"There are also Tasmanian and Australian Government payments available to employees who lost income during the lockdown."

Cadets learn skills and make friends

The Kingborough Chronicle invited Kingston-based Cadet Leading Seaman Jack Lyons to share his Australian Navy Cadet experience, following an Annual Field Exercise (AFX) competition at Stony Head.

How long have you been involved with Kingston-based navy cadets?

"I have been involved with the Kingston based navy cadets (training ship Hobart) for roughly a year and a half," said Jack.

What do you like most about cadets?

"My favorite part of navy cadets so far has been meeting and making new friends.

"As well as learning new practical skills such as navigation and knots that will help me in the future."

What new skills did you learn during the eight-day exercise at Stony Head?

"At AFX I learnt a lot of new skills. "Some of these skills include how to take six and eight-digit grid references on a map, which we then used in a two-day navigation exercise to find the locations of activities.

"We also learned how to take a grid bearing, then how to convert these into magnetic bearings.

"We learnt how to set up a hootchie and learned how to pick a good camp site.

"While at AFX I also learned a lot about how to be a good leader and the importance of having high moral in a group, and the effects it has on productivity if it drops.

What did you enjoy the most about the eight-day exercise?

"The part I enjoyed the most about AFX was getting to take part in an Army Cadet field camp.

"I learned new skills from the Army Cadets and applied these acquired skills in a practical way to complete activities."

What was the most challenging part about this holiday activity?

"In my opinion, the most challenging part about AFX was time management and getting everything done.

"At AFX I was a section commander which meant that I had to make sure seven other cadets were organized for the activities, eating and drinking enough, make navigation plans during the navigation exercise and try to resolve any issues these cadets had, all whilst making sure I was organized and finding time for these things.

"So, I definitely had a lot to balance, which was hard, but also taught me better time management and people skills, which I will definitely use later in life."

Senator Bilyk urges respect for retail staff

Recent data showing increasing levels of verbal abuse, threats and violence experienced by retail workers in Sydney has prompted Labor Senator Catryna Bilyk to urge the public to show respect for Tasmanian retail workers.

Data released by the Shop Distributive and Allied Employees Association (SDA), the union for retail, fast food and warehousing workers, has shown that some Sydney suburbs have experienced up to 80 per cent increases in verbal and physical abuse towards staff as retail businesses face an influx of shoppers.

“When it comes to Covid outbreaks, Tasmania has had several near misses in the past few months,” Senator Bilyk said.

“Should we have to go into lockdown, it concerns me that the pattern of increased abusive and threatening behaviour experienced in Sydney could be replicated here.

“Regardless of how shoppers feel about the public health restrictions applying now, or in the future, there is absolutely no excuse for threats and abuse towards retail workers who are only doing their job.

“Of course we should be polite and courteous to retail workers at all times, not just while we are experiencing a pandemic.”

Senator Bilyk expressed support for the SDA’s “No one deserves a serve” campaign, which has been running for several years to highlight the impact of abuse on retail workers and to encourage the public to treat them with courtesy and respect.

Senator Catryna Bilyk was served by Priceline Pharmacy Kingston Plaza manager Marni Wright, on Wednesday, October 20. (PS)

The dream team

It’s another day at Breadd Kingston and the team has arrived to do what they are so good at.

By 5am expert bakers Jamie and Josh have begun their day, with the first of many doughs, muffins and pastries going into the oven.

Coffee is on for local early birds by 6am.

From here on in the Breadd Kingston team are greeting customers and providing their favourite baked goodies.

The Breadd team are a diverse and sometimes-quirky bunch, with interesting hobbies outside of work.

Jamie will do a ‘mean’ car detail in his spare time.

Jess runs a garden maintenance business.

Millie creates beautiful cakes, and Adrian loves the outdoors so much, he sleeps in a tent indoors when he can’t be out.

The team said they feel privileged to have shared in so many wonderful people’s lives during 13 years at Kingston Plaza.

“Thank you, as always, for supporting us at Breadd.

“We have been able to place many young students into their first jobs, and watch them grow into remarkable young adults.

“Many of those students have supported themselves through university and moved into their chosen careers.

“We also have a few well-known faces that have found their place at Breadd, and we feel so lucky they have remained part of our team for so long.

“When you shop in a small, local business you are contributing in a far more significant way than you might imagine.

“You are supporting a small community within that business, helping individuals realise their dreams.”

Adrian from Breadd loves the outdoors so much, he sleeps in a tent indoors when he can’t be out. (PS)

Bushfires can lead to extended power outages

TasNetworks owns and operates the electricity network in Tasmania.

With over 15,000 kilometres of powerlines and 232,000 power poles spanning across some of our states most rural and remote areas, TasNetworks assets are extremely vulnerable to bushfires, which can often lead to extended power outages.

On days when a Total Fire Ban is declared, or during a bushfire, TasNetworks take extra precautions such as altering processes to ensure power doesn't automatically restore when a fault is detected.

Without power, you may not be able to operate cordless phones (including NBN), automatic doors, water pumps and other electrical devices, so it is important to be prepared.

Before

Prepare a home emergency kit with items such as spare batteries and charged power banks to ensure radios, phones and torches can be used.

As electric water pumps can't be used when power supply is interrupted, prepare a generator, diesel-powered or petrol-powered pump instead.

During

Exercise caution when using generators.

Never use a generator inside, or try to power the house or "backfeed" supply.

Keep up to date with current outages on the TasNetworks website or listen to your local ABC radio station.

After

Keep an eye out for fallen or damaged powerlines.

Report them to TasNetworks on 132 004.

If your home or property has been impacted by fire, have it inspected and certified as safe by an electrician and repairs carried out before power is restored.

If you're returning to your home in a bushfire-affected area, ensure your CablePI is plugged in and switched on.

An alarm or flashing amber light indicates a problem. If this occurs, call TasNetworks immediately on 132 004.

For more information about preparing for bushfire, visit tasnetworks.com.au

Don't switch off around electricity.

Alpha Electrics in Kingston are experts in pump product selection and servicing. Alpha Electrics stock firefighter, irrigation, household and commercial pumps, and are Tasmania's only Davey Premium Master Dealer. Pictured is a pump recently installed by Alpha Electrics. Onsite regular servicing for new and existing pumps is recommended for ensuring your pump performs well and eliminates issues before they become costly problems. In the long run this will save you time and money, with minimal time lost on pumps. Professionally cleaned gutters

Chris and Therese from Gutter-Vac Tasmania recommend homes in bushfire-prone areas have roof gutters professionally cleaned before summer arrives.

"Debris in gutters acts as kindling for embers to start house fires," said Chris and Therese. "You don't want full gutters when fires are on the horizon. Just because we've had a wet winter, we can't be complacent. "Leaves become tinder-dry over summer." Bushfire and Natural Hazards, Cooperative Research Centre CEO Dr Richard Thornton is quoted in an ABC news article advising the public that "any day in an environment where it is dry, where you have high winds, warmer temperatures, low humidity, will be a day that a fire can start that could potentially impact on communities". "As we head through spring, become proactive in preparing for bush fire season," recommend Chris and Therese. Fire authorities recommend gutters are cleaned regularly to help protect properties and reduce the spread of fire. "Residents who live in high-risk areas are urged to put together a fire plan and take practical steps around the home," said Chris and Therese.

"Scarily, 90 per cent of homes in a bushfire are lost due to an ember attack, whereby spot fires are ignited by twigs, leaves or bark embers carried by the wind. "These embers can land in a home's guttering and ignite the property. "Vacuum cleaning your gutters prior to bushfire season will ensure that this flammable fuel is removed and your property is safer. "It is a busy time for gutter cleaning, so book early and get the job done." Be proactive and call the gutter cleaning specialists on 1300 654 253.

Decorative garden gravel

"Fire risk awareness is increasing as housing density rises in Kingborough and Huon municipalities," said Paul Harriss, owner of Leslie Vale Landscaping and Gravel Supplies (LLGS).

"We all want our property and gardens to look nice.

"Decorative gravels are now used as a mulch (instead of bark) due to its fire-resistant properties.

"Here at LLGS we stock a large range of decorative gravels, drainage gravels and road base materials.

"Gravel can act as a barrier in a situation where a bushfire is raging and embers are falling.

"Come and check the gravels out at our Leslie Vale yard, corner of the Huon Highway and Leslie Road, Leslie Vale or phone 6239 6891 for further information.

"The Huon depot is at the Esplanade Huonville, phone 6264 1398.

"Our friendly staff are knowledgeable and well placed to help, as we all live in the local area.

"We want the same result as you; to have your place looking nice but at the same time being safe and practical," concluded Paul.

Davey Street Rehabilitation Work

Thank you for your patience as we repair the road surface on Davey Street.

Detoured access into South Hobart

On 18 - 20 and 24 - 28 October, between the hours of 6.30pm and 6.30am, there will be no direct access from Davey Street into South Hobart while we lay new road surface at the intersection with the Southern Outlet. Please allow for an extra 15 minutes travel time.

The detour

Light vehicles can detour to South Hobart via Lynton Avenue.

Heavy vehicles will be detoured onto the southbound lanes of Southern Outlet, turning at the Olinda Grove interchange to return into South Hobart via the northbound lanes on Southern Outlet. They can then access South Hobart via the left turn lane on to Davey Street, which will remain open.

Emergency services will be escorted through the worksite to access South Hobart.

Ongoing traffic changes

We will be working nights between 6.30pm to 6.30am from Sunday to Thursday. Starting from the week of Monday 25 October, where a shift is lost due to poor weather conditions, work may be rescheduled to include an optional Friday night. Night time lane closures and reduced speed limits will be in place. Motorists should allow up to eight minutes extra travel time during the roadworks period.

Two lanes of traffic on Davey Street will remain open during nightworks.

Please follow speed limits and the directions of traffic controllers and signs. A reduced speed limit will also be in place during the day for the roadworks period.

Other changes

There will be no street parking available in the work location.

There will be some temporary, nightly disruptions to bus stops. Please follow your service provider's alerts and look for any local signage.

This project supports the delivery of projects within the Hobart City Deal. For more information about this project, visit transport.tas.gov.au.

Changes at the nest

The Kingston Crows Cricket Club has announced changes to the club, with a new president, vice-president and confirmed the leadership positions for the 2021/22 season.

Former president, Jamie Knott, served the club for many seasons including playing, coaching, captaining, and serving on committees.

"Jamie has been a fantastic servant of the club over many, many seasons," said a statement from the Kingston Crows Cricket Club.

"His dedication, loyalty and commitment are beyond reproach, we wish him and his family well.

"Although Jamie will no longer be involved in the club in an official capacity, he will still be a regular at the nest, thanks for everything Knotty."

Through Jamie's resignation, the role of president became vacant, with Jay Bowden taking the reins.

Jay has experienced a variety of roles at the committee level.

"The committee has full faith in Jay and we hope that our players, supporters and followers join us in wishing him success going forward."

Alicia Townsend has moved from the general committee to the role of Vice President.

"Alicia lives and breathes Crows, she will be a valuable inclusion to the executive."

Kingston Crows Cricket Club's executives are Jay Bowden as club president, Jason Jones and Alicia Townsend as vice presidents, Tony Bowden as secretary, and Jayden Rowe as the treasurer.

The committee approved the leadership appointments for A, B and C Grade sides.

A Grade captain and coach Trent Rollins and vice-captains Mick Conway and Jacob Downie.

B Grade captain Jay Bowden and vice-captain Cooper Harris.

C Grade captain Chris Tomlin and vice-captain Tim Eyles.

"Congratulations to these captains and vice-captains, we wish you and your respective teams every success for season 2021/22," the statement said.

Switching Lane

The Tigers FC announced that Jordan Lane has signed to the Tigers TSL program for the 2022 season.

As Jordan's return to the Tigers was announced, senior coach Trent Baumeler said that it was great to bring Jordan back into their football program.

"Outside of his clear talent, it is always a priority for us to bring a returning zone player back to the club to play at the highest level in the State.

"Jordan has developed immensely over the last two years as a key forward/ruck and it was great to see him have the ultimate team success across his time at Cygnet Football Club.

"He is now well equipped to step back up to TSL football," said Baumeler.

A season of high performance included some significant achievements by Lane.

"It's not often that you can welcome to your playing list all in one hit.

"A player that is a key forward coming off a fifty-goal season in the SFL premiership side, a top-five finish in the William Leitch Medal and at the same time a player with recognised leadership skills having captained the League's representative side," said Tigers Football Director, Ben Harrison.

"That's exciting for everyone on and off-field at our club."

Jordan Lane from Cygnet Football Club has committed to the Tigers FC for 2022. (PS)

Bowled over by COVID lockdown

The first round of the Bowls Tasmania South Bowls, Saturday open gender competition, scheduled for October 16, didn't quite go to plan.

As the day approached, with two days of heavy rain on Thursday and Friday and an unfriendly forecast for Saturday, it appeared the weather was determined to dampen the occasion.

Any decision on whether play was to go ahead was overridden by the sudden three-day lockdown called by the Tasmanian Government on Friday afternoon.

With no games able to be played on the Saturday, points were shared by all teams.

The women's regular Thursday pennant competition was played on Tuesday, due to the Royal Hobart Show Day.

An unusual scenario played out, as all bowlers donned face masks in compliance with the lockdown directive.

Face masks were required to be worn while exercising in public until Friday, October 22.

Lawn bowls was deemed as not "intense physical exercise", thus requiring a face mask.

Kingborough Bowls and Community Club women's teams played on the first day of the pennant competition.
