

Risks hidden as schools reopen

Independent Member for Nelson Meg Webb has called for the release of Public Health Rapid Antigen Test (RAT) advice in relation to the Tasmanian Government's approach to the reopening of schools before public school students return on Wednesday, February 9.

In a media release on February 6, Ms Webb identified a number of apparent disparities between Tasmania's RAT regime for students and staff compared to interstate.

Negative test not required in Tasmania

"A negative test is not required by either Tasmanian students or teachers before they re-enter school gates on Wednesday," noted Ms Webb.

"Tasmanian parents, students, teachers, and other school support staff deserve to know what advice the state government is relying upon and what degree of acceptable risk has been determined on their behalf."

Comparing jurisdictions

"NSW strongly recommended students return a negative RAT test prior returning to school at the resumption of their school Term 1," Ms Webb continued.

"Additionally, other interstate jurisdictions, NSW, Victoria and the ACT, also strongly recommend students continue to take a RAT twice a week in the morning before attending school for at least the next four weeks.

"In contrast, Tasmania is providing each student with two RATs a week, but is recommending these are only used should symptoms develop.

"Also, regular testing is not occurring through the school week."

Call to release Public Health advice

"We know the Omicron COVID variant is more transmissible than the Delta strain," noted Ms Webb.

"Surely it makes more sense to catch potential student and teaching staff COVID cases before they enter the classroom, rather than wait for symptoms to arise?"

"South Australia has reported that at least 300 school staff were absent on their first school day this Term due to COVID, so it stands to reason our school communities may experience a similar situation."

Ms Webb provided the following excerpts of Education Department advice from various jurisdictions.

• Tasmania's approach to the first five weeks of Term 1:

"Each student will be provided with an initial supply of two rapid antigen tests (RATs) before school starts, then with two RATs per week for each student to use if they have symptoms.

"All school staff will be provided with two RATs to use if they have symptoms."

• NSW Education advice:

"Rapid antigen tests will be provided to all students and staff by their schools.

"Before the start of Term 1, it is highly recommended all students undertake a RAT and confirm a negative result before attending school.

"For the first four weeks of Term 1, we recommend students take a RAT twice a week on mornings before attending school."

• Victorian Education advice:

"For the first four weeks of term, twice-a-week testing on school days will be strongly recommended for mainstream primary and secondary staff and students.

"Testing each school day for five days will be strongly recommended for specialist school students and staff.

"This is to provide a higher level of surveillance for students with disabilities because of the greater risk associated with COVID-19 for some students with disabilities."

• ACT Education advice:

"While testing is voluntary, it is strongly recommended that students and staff do a test twice-weekly at home before school.

"This will help us ensure we are identifying cases as early as possible, including anyone who is asymptomatic."

Calling for more police

The state opposition has called for more Tasmania Police resources to tackle rising crime in Kingborough.

In a media release on February 2, Member for Franklin, Dean Winter MP said statistics reveal rising crime in the municipality.

Mr Winter said the latest statistics from Tasmania Police show that the Kingston police division, covering Kingborough and the Huon Valley, recorded an increase of 69.6 per cent in total offences for the year to date, the highest in the state.

"The figures from the latest Tasmania Police monthly performance report show that serious crimes in the Kingston division for the year to date jumped by 250 per cent as the number of incidents went up from four to 14," noted Mr Winter.

"All offences against property went up by 95.1 per cent, again leading all divisions across the state.

"Home burglaries went from six to 15 for the year to date, while business burglaries surged from one to 14 and vehicle burglaries from nine to 31."

Mr Winter said a stabbing in broad daylight in a Kingston shopping centre in late December highlighted the need to boost policing in the fast-growing region.

Mr Winter commented that violent incidents in public places are "very rare", but they are a "real concern".

"Earlier in December 2021, two youths armed with a machete and a hammer were arrested at another Kingston shopping centre in an incident where two members of the public were injured," noted Mr Winter.

"In 2019, a man died after being stabbed at a Blackmans Bay service station and a youth was charged."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Higher thought needed on travel

Dear Editor,

Instead of building cable car up Wellington, why not solve the traffic problem on the Southern Outlet by building a cable car or perhaps even better a monorail type system between Kingston and the centre of the city?

Flying high it would avoid all traffic congestion and provide magnificent views on the journey.

Further it would be green powered by our hydro dams, saving much fossil fuel.

Leaving the trucks to their own devices on the highway.
Also, it would be a unique tourist attraction too.

Driving to a playground doesn't make sense

Dear Editor,

In my opinion the multimillion-dollar playground on the old Kingston High site makes absolutely no sense.

We now have a one playground, in a municipality that is widespread, requiring people to drive to the playground.

We live in an era where a lot of people do not drive, combined with a 'new normal' pandemic where people seek to avoid the confines of public transport.

Playgrounds should be spread around a municipality like Kingborough, so that all people have easy access to them.

Make playgrounds more accessible for parents to walk their children.

An incredibly concentrated and expensive design, as the playground is now, is simply not people centric to the greater area of Kingborough.

Concentrating resources into a single playground area is also a disgrace to environmentalism, especially in this new era where we know the environment must be considered when designing community areas.

A design that is vehicle centric is also not environmental common sense.

Playground resources need to be spread around our neighbourhoods.

Disparate school testing

On February 6, the Kingborough Chronicle asked the Premier of Tasmania and Minister for Health why the preventative strategies with respect to COVID testing in other states, as outline by Ms Webb, were not mirrored in Tasmania.

The Kingborough Chronicle also asked the following questions.
"Will the rapid antigen testing advice received from Public Health be released before public school students return on Wednesday, February 9?"

"Why isn't Public Health advice made transparent to the public?"

Premier Peter Gutwein's media spokesperson said
Public Health "have done dozens of press conferences in recent weeks to explain their advice in regards to schools returning".

"At these press conference, journalists are able to ask any question regarding their advice.

"It is very transparent.

"The Premier and Public Health are likely to do a press conference tomorrow, where you are more than welcome to join and ask your own questions ahead of schools returning."

A written copy of the risk assessment, used as the basis of government decision-making, was also requested by the Kingborough Chronicle on February 6.

"To be clear, can the Premier and Minister for Health
please provide the written advice received from Public Health," requested the Kingborough Chronicle.

"Can the Premier and Minister for Health include a copy of the risk assessment used as the basis for decision-making.

"Was a risk assessment undertaken?"

"By whom?"

"Why isn't this Public Health written advice transparent and available to the public?"

These questions remain unanswered and there was no risk assessment provided at the time of going to print.

Crime trend disputed

"The police do a tremendous job in keeping the local communities safe, but they need more resources," Mr Winter said.

"The State Government must make sure the police can keep doing their job effectively as Kingborough and the Huon Valley are growing."

The Kingborough Chronicle requested a response from the Minister for Police, Fire and Emergency Services, Jacquie Petrusma MP on February 4.

"Will Police numbers and hours of work be increased in Kingborough in proportion to the increasing crime statistics," asked the Kingborough Chronicle.

"Where will these Police come from?"

Minister Petrusma disputed the trend in crime figures noted by Mr Winter.

"I am advised that the main crime categories in Kingston over the past 5 years have been stable, with the additional reduction in total offences during the 2020-2021 period largely influenced by less activity due to COVID-19," responded Ms Petrusma.

"Further, that fluctuations will result when comparing monthly statistics rather than looking at long term trends.

Minister Petrusma said two more police officers were to be allocated to Kingston Police Station this year, however not details have been provided on the total number of policing hours.

In 2022 there will be a total of 25 police officers at Kingston Police Station, with two more police officers to be allocated this year.

Local businesses share COVID stories

Reduced foot traffic, staff shortages and reduced revenue are common themes in the stories of local businesses around Kingborough during the COVID outbreak in January and February, following the opening of the State border in late 2021.

The Kingborough Chronicle has been hearing from local small businesses from various retail, hospitality and health sectors regarding their recent experiences.

Numerous small businesses owners have said the State government's grant process was too onerous, and hence too expensive, to recoup the $1000 or $2000 grant offered.

Other small business owners said although revenue had reduced substantially, it was not enough to qualify for the grant.

Kate Banks-Gorton, owner of Breadd bakery and cafe, opened her Kingston store in 2008, following the success of her first bakery which opened in Murray Street, Hobart, in 2001.

Kate said the recent COVID outbreak had resulted in observable changes in the way people shop.

"I'd like to thank our customers for continuing to come in," said Kate.

"It's definitely visible that there are fewer people who come in and sit down and have a coffee with friends.

"Our core product is Breadd.

"So now many of our core customers are just buying the bread and taking it home.

"All the local businesses struggle when people don't come.

"We've had to shorten trading hours and are reducing staff when it's quiet."

Kate said people were selecting venues to meet with friends based on availability of outdoor dining.

"Businesses that have an outdoor area are probably doing better," commented Kate.

Manager of Kingdom Coffee cafe in Kingston, Peko Meh, reported a similar experience.

"Our team have poured our heart and soul into this social enterprise cafe, aiming to bless the community with its profit," Peko commented.

"However, with the current covid situation, it couldn't even cover our wages and operational expenses.

"It breaks our heart to see food go to waste due to the low foot traffic these days.

"We know many are doing it tough, so we have a little shortbread to encourage everyone in our community, we're in this together, you can make a difference by supporting local."

Round two of the Tasmanian Government's COVID-19 Business Impact Support Program is due to open at 2pm on Tuesday, February 15.

Lisa, florist and owner of The Emerald Duke in Kingston, said her new floristry and coffee shop has also experienced reduced foot traffic in January and February due to the COVID outbreak.

Over-reported COVID cases in Tasmania

Public Health Services (PHS) has identified that Tasmania has over-reported its COVID-19 case numbers due to data errors which saw duplicate cases wrongly included in the State's daily case total.

In a statement released Monday, January 31, Dr Julie Graham, Deputy Director of Public Health said "In total, 1333 cases have been found to be duplicate cases of existing cases already accounted for."

"These cases will be removed from Tasmania's daily total from tomorrow, Tuesday, February 1.

"The Federal Government is also being notified to remove these duplicate cases from the national figures.

"There were two causes of the data anomaly.

"An error in the database system used by PHS for case collation incorrectly created some duplicate cases.

"The system vendor was notified and has fixed the issue.

"A second issue was causing duplicate cases to be created in the database when people registered a positive RAT result and then took a PCR test which also returned a positive result.

"Processes have been refined to ensure this no longer occurs," Dr Graham said.

"PHS epidemiologists found the duplication anomaly while checking case data.

"Duplications occurred from December 15 to January 23.

"There has been no impact on anyone who tested positive for COVID-19.

"All people who had a positive PCR test, or registered a positive RAT test, were recorded.

"Due to the anomalies, some cases were recorded twice, and the duplicate record wrongly included in the total case number.

"PHS is confident this issue is now resolved.

"Epidemiologists continue to check and analyse case data as part of the State's COVID-19 response."

Houses acquired for Southern Outlet lane

The Tasmanian Government is moving forward with planning for a transit lane on the Southern Outlet.

In a statement released in January, Minister for Infrastructure and Transport, Michael Ferguson MP said it was “the only solution to ease traffic congestion on the Southern Outlet.”

“The Government quietly got on with the job of positively working with key property owners on Dynnyrne Road and the number of properties impacted will be considerably fewer than that repeatedly and falsely claimed.”

Mr Ferguson said some negotiated acquisitions have now been agreed.

“Subject to final engineering advice, as few as four dwellings might be acquired,” said Mr Ferguson.

Since the statement was released, the Kingborough Chronicle can confirm four home-owners have agreed to sell their homes, with no compulsory acquisitions required according to the State Government.

“As the Minister committed to helping Kingston residents with a solution, I have consistently said that any property owners impacted by the new transit lane will be dealt with respectfully and generously and that has certainly been the case,” Mr Ferguson continued.

“Greens Leader Cassy O’Connor has demonstrated her hypocrisy on the Southern Outlet.

“She has failed to back this public transport initiative despite her loud advocacy for buses over cars.

“Ms O’Connor could not bring herself to support the transit lane, which will be for the exclusive use of buses and high occupancy vehicles, including 70 extra daily bus services between Hobart and Kingston each day.”

Greens Leader Cassy O’Connor responded to Mr Ferguson’s comments.

“Minister Ferguson gets very unpleasant when he’s challenged, especially over his pet road projects,” said Ms O’Connor.

“As he continues to underinvest in modern transport solutions in favour of massive road projects, the Minister remains stuck in the 20th century.

“It’s news to the Greens that the new lane will be for the exclusive use of buses and high occupancy vehicles.

“When we asked about this in Budget estimates a while back, there was no guarantee the lane would not also have cars on it.

“Mr Ferguson glosses over the impact on Dynnyrne residents of a new lane on the Southern Outlet, and denies the reality that more roads inevitably means more cars.

“Passenger, pedestrian and cycling infrastructure needs are being ignored all over Tasmania.

“It’s time this Minister and this Government put our public money when their mouths are to modernize Tasmania’s transport system,” Ms O’Connor concluded.

Minister Ferguson also brought up Labor’s view on the controversial lane being added to the Southern Outlet.

“The Labor Opposition meanwhile has a policy for permanent congestion on the Southern Outlet,” claimed Mr Ferguson.

“Despite the initiative as a part of the Hobart City Deal, Labor want to forever condemn more than 50,000 residents of the Kingborough and Huon municipal areas to time wasted in traffic jams and a network that simply can’t cope with interruption.”

Leader of the Tasmanian Labor Party, and Shadow Minister for Infrastructure Rebecca White MP said, “more than 2,500 Tasmanians have signed a petition opposing Minister Ferguson’s plan to bulldoze homes to widen Hobart’s Southern Outlet.”

“It’s clear this government proposal is not wanted and will not solve the problem.

“Mr Ferguson needs to listen residents and stop recklessly pushing ahead with this plan, a plan that would not actually do what is needed to address the traffic congestion issues on the outlet.

“What it achieves is a short extra strip of road from Olinda Grove to Macquarie Street which is not going to fix traffic congestion and the community can see right through that,” said Ms White.

“Mr Ferguson is the Minister responsible for transport and easing traffic congestion.

“So far, he has come up with nothing to achieve that.

“Mr Ferguson is good at levelling criticism and appalling at providing solutions.

“It’s time he understood he is the Minister responsible for building infrastructure, not just cutting ribbons and coming up with deeply flawed plans, and got on with the job of actually building stuff that works,” Ms White said.

The Tasmanian Government said the next steps for the Southern Outlet expansion will involve on-going discussions with home owners and geo-technical assessments of the land for the proposed fifth lane.

The Park and Ride parking at Browns Road is nearing completion. The parking area and roads are sealed with kerb and footpaths. Landscaping with shrubs and trees is also complete. (PS)

The Botaniko Art Group is displaying its 2022 exhibition Gillanders Gondwana at the Channel Museum, Margate until Friday, February 25.

The exhibition focuses on Gondwanan plants collected by Ken Gillanders OAM and his late wife Lesley.

The couple collected the specimens in Chile and Tasmania, then propagated the plants at their property, the former Woodbank Nursery at Longley.

The plants have been growing on Ken and Lesley's former property, now known as Woodbank Gardens, under the ownership of Harry van den Berg and his late wife Kerry.

Botaniko was privileged to have access to the property during 2021 and has portrayed these plants in various media, including watercolour, graphite and dyes.

The Channel Museum is open Sunday to Friday from 11am to 3pm.

Home warranty insurance to be reintroduced

The Tasmanian Government intends to reintroduce home warranty insurance in Tasmania following the collapse of a local building company.

In a media release on January 25, Minister for Workplace Safety and Consumer Affairs, Elise Archer MP said the government intends to develop a financial support package to assist those negatively affected by the recent failure Tasmanian Constructions Pty Ltd, trading as Hotondo Homes, and Inside Out Constructions Pty Ltd.

"We recognise that buying or building a home is the biggest investment many families will make, and we have already taken action to support consumers by announcing our intention to reintroduce home warranty insurance in Tasmania," said Minister Archer.

"Home warranty insurance covers incomplete or defective building work in the event that a builder has died, disappears or becomes insolvent, and a is currently being developed by the Department of Justice and Department of Treasury and Finance.

"This model will be the subject of consultation with stakeholders in the coming months.

"Once implemented, home warranty insurance will provide Tasmanian property owners with greater protection when building a home.

"However, we recognise that more needs to be done to help those affected by the recent failures, and it is our intention that the financial support package will operate similarly to home warranty insurance, if it was already in place."

Further details of the scheme are expected to be provided in the coming weeks.

Meanwhile anyone in need of immediate advice regarding building related matters is advised to contact Consumer, Building and Occupational Services on 1300 654 499.

'Beware of Mrs Browne'

The diaries of Harriett Gore Browne, Tasmanian Governor's wife, 1861 – 1869

Beware of Mrs Browne

For the last four years Fiona MacFarlane has transcribed, edited and annotated the diaries of Mrs Harriett Gore Browne, wife of former Tasmanian Governor, Thomas Gore Browne. "My work culminated in a book Beware of Mrs Browne, and this unpublished manuscript is now freely available via the Libraries Tasmania website," explained Fiona MacFarlane. "I would love to promote this new resource to Tasmanian history lovers. "The diaries include a detailed and a rather scandalous description of the Duke of Edinburgh's visit to Tasmania in January 1868, the first Royal Tour in Tasmania. "It also details Harriett's amusing struggle to integrate into 1860s Hobartian society. "Brown's River, now Kingston, is mentioned several times." Fiona has provided a brief piece from her 284-page book, Beware of Mrs Browne. "Tuesday was not fine enough for our picnic with Lady Dry to Brown's River, so it was put off till the following day, when all our family, the Drys, Chesneys and Des Veaux drove to the station buildings at this side of Brown's River and had a regular Webbs luncheon with the pleasant addition of ice champagne cup and claret. The position of our table was lovely, Commanding the Derwent and opposite bank and after we had eaten, we went down a steep patch to the rocks, which lay by the sea-side and which flat by the sea were bounded by beautiful cliffs and precipices. It was very pleasant to watch the waves rolling in, but Gore was angry with me for venturing down. Fred stayed behind with me, and I did not find it very tiring. Harold, Willie and Frank were perfectly happy making a great bonfire in the prisoners' old yard and May gathered wild-flowers."

Forum for mental health at Kingston Beach Hall

Kingston resident, registered nurse and health educator, Sue Carlyon, has written a book titled Blitz the Blues – Tough Talking and Truth Talking for Peace and is hosting public discussion forums on February 12 and 26. The free public forums will present mental health and wellbeing through spiritual insight and the need for a more holistic approach in addressing the underlying causes of these issues. "Mental health issues were high on the list of priorities for the Tasmanian Government to address long before COVID-19 was on the radar, and so too was family violence," said Sue Carlyon. "In fact, in 2005 the incumbent Labor Government published a progress report in The Mercury newspaper titled The State We're In – Tasmania Together in which Premier Lennon acknowledged there is still concern about family violence and the number of children on child protection orders." "With the coronavirus pandemic now entering its third year, the issues of mental illness and domestic violence have been exacerbated throughout Australia as a result of the additional stresses and challenges individuals and their relationships have been subjected to. "In Tasmania there is now a crisis within the mental health sector as practitioners struggle to deal with their burgeoning workload. "Clearly, all is not well," said Sue. "Without there now being a whole of society effort to address the underlying causes of domestic violence and certain mental health issues, and more effective solutions implemented, lives will continue to be detrimentally impacted and the service providers stretched even further beyond their capacity."

Sue's time living and working with the First Nations people of Utopia in the Northern Territory, reaffirmed for her the significance of the spiritual aspect of life. Sue had identified with the spiritual aspects of life during her religious education, her experience growing up on a dairy farm on the north-west coast of Tasmania, and through her nursing experiences and research. These experiences led Sue to establish Blitz the Blues in 2010, for the purpose of addressing mental health issues and domestic violence through public forums and meetings, to discuss these issues more broadly. Sue's public meetings will be held between 6:30pm and 8pm in the Kingston Beach Hall. COVID protocols will be adhered to and attendees will receive a free copy of her book. For further information regarding the meetings, contact Sue on 0439 731 128.

Sue Carlyon, author of 'Blitz the Blues – Tough Talking and Truth Talking for Peace', is hosting public meetings for February 12 and 26 at the Kingston Beach Hall. # Literacy consultation

Tasmania has the highest level of disadvantage amongst pre-school aged children in Australia, according to data presented in a consultation paper prepared by a panel of experts aiming to improve literacy.

The Tasmanian Government's Literacy Advisory Panel is developing a literacy framework that covers the early years, schools and adults.

Public input is invited on the consultation paper. The community-wide framework aims to help all Tasmanians to develop the literacy skills they need to increase their life choices and opportunities, and those of others.

It is also intended to guide government decision-making and funding.

The draft community-wide framework is expected to be released for community consultation in October this year. To view the paper visit https://www.dpac.tas.gov.au/literacy/home/community\_consultation

Consultation is open until close of business on Friday, March 25.

Channel Men's Shed president Peter Norris said shed members have managed to prepare meals and soup for Kingborough Helping Hands for distribution in the local community recently, despite closure of parts of the shed's premises to comply with its COVID plan. Mr Norris said Kingborough Helping Hands has experienced an increase in demand, mostly due to recent COVID impacts and also due to staffing issues at other providers and an increase in locals experiencing difficulty. # New learning spaces for Woodbridge pupils

A tender has been released for construction of two new learning spaces at Woodbridge School, to cater for the school's Year 11 and 12 extension program.

Woodbridge School will offer a mix of Tasmanian Certificate of Education courses and Vocational Education Training programs.

The program aims to cater for flexible and personalised learning, where individual educational needs and outcomes are met while students have the opportunity to remain in their local community.

The school's staff and students were given the opportunity to work with Liminal Studio to design a building that responds to the needs of the community.

Spaces include a dedicated learning area, study nooks and a breakout space with kitchenette.

The Tasmanian Government capital works project is anticipated to be completed in late 2022.

Words on Woodbridge gala event

Woodbridge Life committee chairman Graham Rae has compiled the following report on a gala event held at the Woodbridge Hall on Saturday, January 29.

A premiere film event last Saturday heralded the start of the Woodbridge Life 2022 program which celebrates living in Woodbridge.

The heritage listed Woodbridge Hall was the venue for an initial presentation of Words on Woodbridge before an appreciative, but somewhat apprehensive, audience.

It was a film screening with a difference.

Loosely based on the ABC TV show called You can't ask that, the film is a contemporary snapshot of living at Woodbridge through a series of interviews with selected residents.

The filming project had been 15 months in the making.

Local post office owner Kelley Eckel sought the assistance of budding film editor Ben Dixon (winner of the MyState Student Film Festival last year) to compile a 40-minute film from the interviews conducted.

Kelly observed in her introductory address that those interviewed repeatedly noted "we live in such a warm and welcoming place".

These themes were further reinforced with repeated comments of a strong sense of a caring community within an idyllic location.

The importance of this project will also serve as a time capsule for the Woodbridge community.

Joint organiser and committee member Jo Dixon reflected, "it will make for an interesting comparison when we obtain the views of former residents at our Back to Woodbridge Weekend in August this year."

In the meantime, the film can be accessed via YouTube.

The Woodbridge Life 2022 premier film event Words on Woodbridge was held at the Woodbridge Hall on Saturday, January 29. Pictured Ted Domeney, Lyn Goodwin and Kate Domeney. (PS)

Kingborough Real Estate Guide

Rare and special

'Unique' may be an over-used word in real estate descriptions, however in the case of this remarkable property, it's well deserved.

Located between two beaches, the property offers a rare opportunity to acquire one of only two private holdings that exist on the iconic Neck of Bruny Island.

3003 Bruny Island Main Road comprises an appealing trio of versatile off-grid buildings, set on 2.6 hectares (6.4 acres) of attractive native coastal bushland on the southern stretch of The Neck, the spectacular narrow isthmus that links North and South Bruny Island.

The property is accessed by a gravel driveway from Bruny Island Main Road, which runs close to the shore of Isthmus Bay, on the western side of The Neck.

At the end of the driveway, the three dwellings occupy a private and secluded space near the property's eastern boundary.

From here, a short walking track through the bush crosses a parks and wildlife declared reserve to reach the magnificent, and almost always deserted, 10-kilometre sweep of Neck Beach.

Neck Beach has just been named number six on the list of Australia's 20 best beaches.

Just a couple of minutes' walk from the house, there's unlimited scope for surfing, surf fishing, calm-weather kayaking and beach walks.

If the surf is up, a kayak or canoe can be launched on the other side of the property, for fishing and oyster-gathering in the sheltered waters of Isthmus Bay.

The main dwelling is a two-level, one-bedroom straw-bale home, featuring a dual-arch roofline, designed by acclaimed architects X Squared and built-in stages from 2007.

Warm, welcoming and comfortable, the interior showcases a range of specialty Tasmanian timbers.

Reclaimed myrtle and celery-top timbers are used in the staircase, while reclaimed celery-top posts and rails feature on the upstairs deck.

Downstairs is the bright and sunny living area and kitchen, with walk-in pantry.

Adjacent is a contemporary bathroom with glass-enclosed shower.

Also on this level is a storeroom and an enclosed porch, used as a study nook, with a single bunk.

The storeroom could easily become a second bedroom. Relax with a book on the couch in the ground-floor bay window.

The timber staircase continues to the upper level, with the master bedroom opening to a timber deck with views into the bushland.

The 450 millimetre-wide straw-bale construction gives thermal insulation, enhanced by 40 millimetres of foam under the concrete slab.

There is wool insulation in the ceiling, double-glazed windows and thermal honeycomb blinds.

Top-range equipment and systems were installed six months ago, to ensure off-grid living is trouble-free.

Six kilowatts of solar panels on the roof of the main building, connect to two, 4-kilowatt lithium batteries, with the option of adding extra panels and a third battery.

The timber island bench in the kitchen incorporates a cooktop and compact oven.

The heart of the house is the Rayburn multi-function slow-combustion stove providing cooking, hot water and hydronic heating.

It is connected to a 380-litre hot water cylinder.

Three tanks hold 35,000 litres of rainwater storage for all the buildings.

A short distance from the main home is a second, separate and self-contained, one-level, two-bedroom accommodation cabin, with galley kitchen, shower and high-quality composting loo, all serviced by the property's main off-grid facilities for solar power and hot water.

A separate open-plan music studio completes the trio of buildings on this remarkable property.

The current owner enjoyed playing music in this room during her jazz band rehearsals.

Bright and spacious, the room would also make an ideal working studio and gallery for an artist or a writer's retreat.

It could also potentially be adapted for separate, self-contained accommodation.

A haven for bird lovers, with thornbills, fantails and robins hopping from bush to bush and nest amongst the dense midstory.

The melodious chatter and song of honeyeaters and whistlers fills the air as they weave through the canopy.

Overhead, eagles, yellow-tailed black cockatoos and seabirds glide by on majestic wings.

Echidnas, pademelons, wallabies and quolls scurry in the undergrowth and along the walking track through to the surf beach.

There, you'll enjoy simply amazing panoramas.

To the east, the vast expanse of the Tasman Sea, to the north, the entire stretch of Neck Beach, all the way to Cape Queen Elizabeth and beyond to Cape Pillar and Tasman Island on the far side of Storm Bay.

And more than likely, you'll have the whole place to yourself.

With all Council permits in place, all three buildings are completely ready and comfortable for a new owner to move in and enjoy the freedom of off-grid living.

This way of life has many attractions, no more power bills is just one of them.

If an environmentally-sustainable lifestyle in a pristine and magnificent coastal bushland location appeals to you, this could be your new home.

A healthy mouth is related to our overall health and how we feel about ourselves.

Dr Martyn Sweet and Kingston Beach Dental's experienced team of kind and gentle practitioners are pleased to offer all aspects of preventative, general and cosmetic dentistry for the whole family.

Kingston Beach Dental said research demonstrates the oral bacteria responsible for periodontitis (gum disease) can place people at greater risk of a range of health conditions including heart disease, diabetes, stroke and Alzheimer's disease.

Bacteria in the mouth are connected, via the blood stream, to other parts of the body and can cause inflammation.

Some inflammatory diseases such as rheumatoid arthritis and diabetes also increase the predisposition and risk of developing gum disease.

A person's oral health can provide warning signs for a range of diseases and conditions.

The dental team offers preventative treatment and all aspects of general and cosmetic dentistry for the whole family.

Kingston Beach Dental encourages everyone to view oral health as an important area for attention, and to understand that it relates to the health of the body and how we feel about ourselves.

If you are embarrassed about your teeth, or it has been a while since you have been to the dentist, you may experience some apprehension, but the team are confident they will provide a relaxed and gentle experience.

Kingston Beach Dental recommends brushing of teeth twice a day.

Clean in between the teeth with floss or an interdental brush, eat a balanced diet with limited sugar, drink plenty of water and visit the dentist regularly for six monthly check-ups.

Kingston Beach Dental are pleased to announce that Dr Gavin Quek has joined the team and is accepting new patients.

To bring your dental health back on track and have a positive dental experience, call Kingston Beach Dental on 6229 6775.

A healthy mouth is related to our overall health and can make you look younger and feel great. Visit Kingston Beach Dental, conveniently located in Channel Court Shopping Centre, for your next check-up or dental needs. (PS)

Flourishing despite diabetes

Registered Nurse Heather Kennett has observed that since the onset of the coronavirus pandemic, people have found it more challenging to manage their diabetes.

Ms Kennett, who is also a credentialled diabetes educator, said that statistics show the number of people having their routine blood tests has reduced dramatically.

"The problem with this is that if we don't monitor our progress we can't see when things are going out of control and the complications of diabetes can be potentially devastating," Ms Kennett clarified.

Ms Kennett's passion for preventative health involves the physical, mental and social aspects of health which she believes is paramount to achieving positive wellbeing.

Her upcoming Let's Flourish eight-week program aims to promote a friendly, encouraging environment, where participants can share experiences and support each other.

Guest speakers include a podiatrist, exercise physiologist, dietitian, pharmacist, dentist, psychologist, audiologist and ophthalmologist.

The program shall also include a walk around the Kingston Beach oval.

Anyone can attend the group sessions.

Referral to the group program from a GP provides a rebate for the sessions under the Medicare scheme.

For those with a GP referral, individual appointments for initial assessments are required prior to commencing group sessions.

Ms Kennett said small changes and group commitment have the potential to positively impact a participant's health outcomes.

Groups will commence in March, on alternate Friday mornings from 10am to 12pm.

Venue to be confirmed.

Group numbers will be limited to between six and eight participants to facilitate interaction.

A super powered lunchbox

Feeling that she wasn't able to make a big enough difference working in classrooms, Kerry Coleman walked away from her teaching position at the end of 2019.

Kerry has reinvented herself as an author, recently self-publishing a book to help parents understand their important role as first educators of children.

Kerry knows that parents have a huge influence on how well children are able to function in the school environment and that supports given at home make a huge difference.

Kerry also recognised that many parents may be confused about what to feed their children, or just too busy to provide a healthy lunch that will keep children satisfied and settled enough to be able to learn and thrive at school.

In The Superpower Lunchbox, Kerry gives a simple, five-step approach to making sure children have a nourishing lunch.

The book also provides loads of helpful tips on how to best support young children at home and you'll even find a chapter on the importance of self-care for parents.

The book will be officially launched at wayraparatee Child and Family Centre, Geeveston, later this month.

"Parental guilt and pressure to be the perfect caregiver are real and endless," writes book reviewer Katie Bruton.

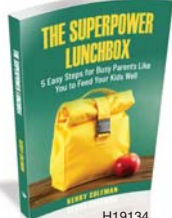

"We need more books like this that give us the facts while providing options and support.

"This book is easy to read, clear in its message and presents realistic solutions to one of our biggest worries as parents - healthy diet and nutrition."

A day to come and try football

With the Australian Football League Women's competition season underway and the Australian Football League, Tasmanian State League, Southern Football League Women and Southern Football League competitions on the horizon, the Kingborough Tigers Junior Football Club is giving budding footballers, and those who are thinking about taking up the game, a chance to 'have a go'.

A Come and Try Day is to be held at the Twin Ovals on February 12. The Tigers will leverage from the success of last year's event where Tigers' players invited friends who wanted to try football and joined in activities with them.

The club said new families enjoyed the supportive and welcoming culture that the Kingborough Tigers pride themselves on.

This year the event is set to eclipse last year's come and try day, where sausages sizzled on the barbeque, participants met new friends, senior players and coaches, and enjoyed age-appropriate activities designed to promote development of football skills.

There were plenty of goodies provided by club sponsors to take home and participants can expect more of the same this year.

The club said Tigers junior and youth coaches work to provide a safe and secure entry point for children into football and their families into the club.

The Kingborough Tigers represents the local community in the Southern Junior Football League (with girls and boys teams from Under 8s through to Under 17s), the Southern Football League Women's competition and the Tasmanian State League.

Kingborough Tigers also run one of the most successful Auskick programs in Tasmania for the youngest footballers.

The junior football club is committed to developing Australian Rules Football within the municipality, supporting the wellbeing of children and youth and also providing a pathway to the elite level for aspiring footballers.

The Tigers said they look forward to welcoming lots of girls and boys who want to try playing football.

To take part in the Come and Try Day, visit Kingborough Tigers on Facebook or visit kingboroughtigersjfc.org.au to register interest.

2022 registrations are open for players intending to play this season and can be accessed on the website.

Twin Tigers debut for Tasmania Devils

The following report is provided courtesy of Kingborough Tigers' Australian Football League (AFL) programs coordinator, Ben Harrison.

On Saturday, January 29, the Tasmania Devils took on the reigning premiers Oakleigh Chargers in Round 3 of the 2022 NAB League at North Hobart Oval.

It was a proud day for the Kingborough Tigers Football Club as two of the club's youngest Southern Football League Women (SFLW) players made their debut representing their state.

Meg Harrison (15) and Maci Lancaster (16) were presented with their jumpers prior to the match and both players delivered solid performances on debut, with Meg playing on a wing and Maci playing in the forward line.

The Devils fought hard all day against Oakleigh, applying lots of defensive pressure and had more scoring shots, but in the end went down by 11 points after scores were level at three-quarter time, the Oakleigh Chargers 5.2 (32) defeated Devils 2.9 (21).

A little more accuracy during the earlier stages of the contest and it could so easily have been a different result.

The NAB League is a competition for U19 girls which delivers the next generation of female AFL talent with aspirations to be drafted into the AFL Women's competition.

The League consists of Victorian regional teams and also Academy teams from the Brisbane Lions, Gold Coast Suns, GWS Giants and Northern Territory.

Both Meg and Maci started their AFL journey playing together in the U11's at Kingborough Tigers Football Club back in 2016 and have shared a number of highlights along the way.

They have played in Southern Tasmania Junior Football League grand finals and a premiership together, and both girls played SFLW Division 1 senior football last season for the Kingborough Tigers.

Both players made their debut on the same day for the Tasmania Devils in the AFL NAB League clash with the Oakleigh Chargers.

Devils coach Jeromey Webberley provided some last-minute words of advice for Devils debutants from the Kingborough Tigers, Meg Harrison and Maci Lancaster. (PS)

In the HCCA B-Grade competition on Saturday, February 5, Snug (7-206) played Summerleas Eagles (5-208) at Snug Oval, losing by 5 wickets. Pictured is Calvin Kean on his way to a quick 12. (PS Carolyn Whitehouse)

Blackmans Bay Sharks hosted the Longley Bunyips in the HCCA B-Grade competition on Saturday, February 5. Bunyips batted first with 8-254, then bowled the Sharks for 7-208, winning by 46 runs. Jon Whetlor scored 21. Pictured is Bunyips' bowler Mark Colgrave. (PS Carolyn Whitehouse)

Kingborough on a roll of runaway wins

This week's Kingborough Bowls report is courtesy of bowler, writer and photographer extraordinaire Pat Lee.

Bowls Tasmania South Open Gender Pennant Competition

Kingborough Bowls and Community Club's Premier Division team found themselves with a battle on their hands when they travelled away to play on the synthetic green at the Cremorne Bowls Club on Saturday, January 29.

Kingborough managed to win on two of the four rinks played, getting up overall by six shots, defeating their hosts 70-64.

Ryan Guy's rink of Jeff Parsons, Jack Butler and Brent Forsyth guaranteed the overall win, winning on their rink 20-9.

Another winning Kingborough rink consisted of Jason Fowler, with Tony Rowe, Graeme Walker and Nathan Dinning, getting up 19-17.

Division 1 had a good, 30-shot win over the visiting Buckingham Bowls Club team at Margate, defeating them 90-60.

Kingborough won on three of the four rinks played.

Tony Clark and his rink of Conrad Westhead, Daniel Holland and Michael Steele won 26-12.

Ian Harris with Laura Best, Ann Hinkley and Ian Cooke won 25-15.

Meanwhile, Maddie Johnston with Vince Grimes, Jim La Duke and Iain Dinning won 24-14.

Division 3 had a runaway win when they too hosted a visiting Buckingham team on grass at Margate, defeating the visitors on all four rinks played, for an overall 105 shots to 64 shots drubbing.

Anthony Sculthorpe skipping John Iles, Vicki Bannister and Bruce Moran won 22-14.

Allen Sculthorpe with Mark Drake, Brock Bricknell and Mike Westlake on 34-21.

Excellent results were also achieved on the rinks of Kingborough's Fred Shead with Les Connell, Roger Duggan and Nadine Seabourne (28-10) and Greg Riley with Sue Mann, Geoff Price and Terry Thompson (21-19).

Division 4 travelled away to the Royal Hobart Synthetic green at Hobart where they defeated their hosts on three of the four rinks played, for an overall 90-shots-to-71 win.

Pat Lee's rink of Tiger McGinniss, Lee Shead and Stuart Traill had an outstanding day, winning 37-11.

Carmel Rainbird with Kerrie Lane, Judy Traill and Greta Murray won 24-16, meanwhile John Mac with Peter Oates, Sally Bowes and Jim Beadle made a good comeback towards the end of the game to get up 18-16.

Division 5 played at home at Margate hosting the visiting Claremont team.

Unfortunately, they were not able to get a winning result, losing on all three rinks played.

Claremont defeated them overall 68 shots to 33.

Division 7 travelled away to Cremorne Bowls Club for their game.

They were not able to bring home a result losing on both rinks played with Cremorne defeating them overall by 7 shots, 39-32.

Wednesday Mid-Week Competition

On Wednesday, February 2, Division 1 played on grass at Margate against the visiting team from Cremorne Bowls Club.

Cremorne got the upper hand in the game, winning on two of three rinks played, defeating the home team overall 67-shots-to-58.

Kingborough's winning rink consisted of Mark Crawford with Terry Thompson, Mike Westlake and Michael Andersch, 18-12.

Division 3 travelled away to the Royal Hobart Bowls Club where they won on all three rinks played, for an outstanding 60 shot win, defeating their hosts 98 shots to 38 shots.

Leading the charge was Fred Shead's rink of John Iles, Robert Stanton and Gary Baker winning 41-7.

Tom Ferguson with Peter Oates, Jim Beadle and Michael Harris stormed home 33-13.

Pat Lee with the Bruny Island Rink of Max Burslem, Geoff Eddington and John Kobylec made a good comeback after trailing most of the game.

Going into the 18th end they were down 13-18.

The team picked up six shots on that end, then won the final three ends 24-18.

Division 4 had a good day out when they travelled away to the difficult synthetic green at Cremorne Bowls Club.

They defeated their hosts on two of three rinks played, for an overall 69-49 win.

Allen Sculthorpe with Robbie Wallace, Dale Saunders and Roger Duggan ran away for a 24-7 win and John Mac with Bernie Holland, Stephen Sanders and Bill Mus won 23-16.

Women's Pennant Competition

On Thursday, February 3, Division 1 travelled away to Sorell for the Women's Pennant Competition.

Kingborough were disappointed, as the game was abandoned part-way through due to torrential rain which flooded the green.

The game had started in bright sunlight and as the game progressed Kingborough had the upper hand, taking control of the game.

However just before the lunch break, the weather changed drastically and lunch was called early due to the rain pelting down.

The rain continued after lunch, however, with the green becoming flooded the game was called off before the required number of ends were played.

Division 2 hosted the visiting Sandy Bay Bowls Club team at Margate.

The Bay defeated the home team on two of the three rinks played, winning overall 56-48. Kingborough's winning rink consisting of Lorraine Walker with Theresa Dreen, Ida Jones and Glenus Johnson won 18-12.

Division 4 travelled away to the Brighton Bowls Club for their game and even though they were defeated on two of the three rinks played Kingborough got up overall by one shot, defeating Brighton 63 shots to 62 shots.

Maureen Sculthorpe with Fiona Hickey, Kay Ashlin and Deb Smith won 29-15.
