

New park and ride services launched

Monday, September 26 marked the official opening of the Park and Ride bus facility in Huntingfield to service the Kingborough and Channel commuters travelling to Hobart.

In a press release from Michael Ferguson, Minister for Infrastructure and Transport, he said “The Tasmanian Liberal Government is embarking on the most progressive agenda for public transport in decades, investing in a range of initiatives to boost patronage and bust traffic congestion”.

“Kingborough residents now have more reason to take the bus with the opening of a new park and ride facility at Huntingfield and the launch of additional express bus services to Hobart.

“The new facility is part of our commitment to offering the people of Hobart’s southern suburbs real transport choice in their daily commute under the Southern Projects initiative.”

The Huntingfield Park and Ride provides parking for 174 vehicles, including motorcycle and accessible bays.

It also offers undercover seating for 30 passengers, a modern amenities block with baby change facilities and secure storage for 26 bicycles, and a quick drop-off lane.

There will be 33 additional express bus services stopping there every weekday, including the extension of the X08 from Kingston Central, which was launched in January, and a completely new route, the X01.

To mark the launch, the Tasmanian Government is offering free adult Greencards preloaded with a return fare to the first 300 customers who do not have one.

The first 200 new adult concession customers will receive a voucher for a preloaded Greencard, redeemable at any Metro Shop.

Staff will be on hand at Huntingfield between 7am and 9am each day this week to facilitate this offer.

“The new services and modern facilities will work with the other Southern Projects initiatives to keep Hobart moving by providing more transport options,” the media release stated.

“These include the Firthside Park and Ride facility, which opened in March.

“The 33 new bus services bring, in total, 70 additional weekday express bus services launched between the southern suburbs and the Hobart CBD under this initiative.

“The next projects under the program include the planned new transit lane for buses, taxis and vehicles with three or more occupants on the Southern Outlet and bus improvements to Macquarie and Davey Streets.”

The transit lane will start at Olinda Grove and continue through the interchange with Macquarie and Davey Streets, and then down Macquarie Street as a clearway to provide four lanes of traffic to Molle Street during the morning peak period.

Housing the community’s most vulnerable

Brand-new supported independent living properties were officially opened in Kingston on Friday, September 30.

Pania (photo on page 6) is a lucky beneficiary of the innovative initiative between Nexus Inc, a not-for-profit disability services provider, and Supported Affordable Accommodation Trust (SAA Trust), that provides a purpose-built property offering accommodation for six people living with disability.

Nexus client Pania moved into one of the three units at the property, which each have two ensuited bedrooms, an open-plan kitchen, living and dining area.

Being a green-thumb, Pania has loved adorning the home with beautiful fresh flowers and pot-plants and decorating the deck with succulents and a prized rose.

“When it’s a nice day I like to go out with a watering can,” Pania said.

Pania has enjoyed furnishing the unit with home décor, personal trinkets and a relaxing chair that was brought in especially with the unit, already becoming a comforting haven over the past few weeks.

“My favourite time is just sitting here in my recliner and watching Home and Away.

“I have less anxiety living here.”

Fire-smart gardening in Margate

The Margate Fire Brigade have been working hard in their garden to present a range of fire-smart plants and landscaping for bushfire tips.

On Saturday, October 15 from 1pm to 4pm there will be a free community event at the Margate Fire Station to celebrate the gardens completion.

The event will feature information to help local residents get ready for the upcoming bushfire season.

Mayor of Kingborough, Cr Paula Wriedt will officially launch the fire-smart garden at the fire station.

"This is a great project that Kingborough Council was very happy to support in the purchase of plants for the fire-smart garden in Margate," Mayor Wriedt said.

There will be a sausage sizzle, activities for the children and of course the red trucks."

The Margate Fire Station fire-smart garden has been a collaborative project between the Kingborough Council and the Tasmania Fire Service.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Out of sight?

Dear Editor

Many of us shop at the major Kingston shopping centres of Channel Court and Kingston Town.

Over the past two years I have often walked the bush land between Calvin School Campus and Kingston Town.

A beautiful inner urban bush setting with stunning kunyuni views.

A 50-metre section of this bush is usually packed full of plastic bags, wrapping, trolleys, bins and other trash, up to a depth of about 30 centimetres.

Bales, bags and skips of rubbish from the shops is stored outside in the rain, wind and sun.

Rubbish gets blown into the bush daily.

Sometimes the plastic is mowed into more tiny pieces. I contacted Woolworths, the biggest tenant and apparent source of most of the rubbish.

They did one excellent clean up several months ago. Two weeks later the plastic was piling up again.

Slowly these truckloads of mostly plastic make their way down hill and into gutters, stormwater, creeks, rivers and out to our beaches.

The Kingborough Council are slightly concerned and say they can do nothing to stop this pollution.

The Environmental Protection Agency Tas. are concerned but can do nothing.

Woolworths website is a maze regarding communication, but I did get through after some navigation, they really don't make feedback easy.

Questions:

Why can't Kingston Town keep their backyard as pristine as their front car park?

Why does bulk commercial rubbish have to be stored out in the elements in sometimes overflowing skip bins?

Why can't the rubbish be contained, like it is inside Channel Court?

Why do our local businesses think this behaviour is acceptable?

The attached photo of the mess evident each week, and I ask, do we care?

Job well done at Woodbridge

Dear Editor

I drive through Woodbridge quite often and I have no reason to stop.

On the weekend, as I drove through Woodbridge, I noticed six or so men installing some large timber at the entry of the small park next to the church.

I admired their commitment and kept driving.

As I drove, I recalled reading something in the Chronicle some weeks back about the park, the fence and something else.

Today (Thursday, September 29), as I was driving through Woodbridge, I actually stopped and took the time to explore the park and genuinely admire and appreciate the work, skills and effort that has clearly gone into creating such a beautiful, and informative, space for complete strangers like me.

We sadly now live in a world where people are too quick to judge or be critical, and people are in a rush.

I am glad I stopped and took a stroll.

It will not be the final time.

So, to all the men, women, children and businesses who dedicated time, energy, material or funds to create that space, I wanted to say 'thanks' and 'job well done' on behalf of the many people who will enjoy what you have created.

It sets a lovely example of how the world should be.

New child and family learning centre

More support for families with young children in the Kingborough region is on the way, with construction of the new Kingborough Child and Family Learning Centre (CFLC) expected to commence in 2023.

The new Kingborough CFLC will be located on the Kingston Primary School site (Hutchins Street) and offer a variety of programs and services all in one place to support families with young children from birth to age 5.

Extensive community consultation has been undertaken to help determine the facilities and services the Kingborough CFLC will provide.

A Local Enabling Group, which includes community, education, and support services representatives, was also established and this group has actively contributed to the design of the new centre.

Kingborough CFLC centre leader Rachael Hawkins has been appointed to oversee the construction phase and the transition to operations.

"It's definitely an exciting phase of the project, as once construction starts, things start to move pretty quickly," said Mrs Hawkins.

"The new centre will be an inviting and vibrant space where children and families from the local community can come and access services that enhance wellbeing and lifelong learning.

"We want our families to feel comfortable, respected, and connected and we'll be offering a range of services and programs for children, their parents and carers, even if that's just a casual place for children to play, and for families to have a chat with our friendly and supportive team."

The new Kingborough CFLC is part of the Tasmanian Government's commitment to supporting young learners and their parents and carers, with $28 million allocated to deliver six new CFLCs across the State.

BY RUBY EDDLESTON

Rocky lead-up for rocking production

After two years without major productions, Kingston High School returned to the stage with Rock of Ages.

With a student cast and band, the show had a tumultuous lead-up, with director Ms Tammy Stanford and lead actress Matilda Nichols-Howe testing positive to COVID at critical points, Ms Stanford sustaining a broken wrist and concussion after a fall in rehearsal, and a cancelled show due to the National Day of Mourning.

The cast, crew and band did not allow these obstacles to stop them.

Year 8 student Huon Williams said, "When we were faced with issues, the cast knew that the show must go on and everyone put in 200 per cent".

Staff and students rallied together and Rock of Ages was regarded as a tremendous success.

Ally Jardine, initially cast as a supporting character, was required to lead with very little notice after Matilda's positive COVID test.

When asked about the experience, Ally said, "I knew the lines and the songs from knowing the script and listening to the soundtrack but was really proud of myself for being capable of stepping into a main role."

"I was scared out of my mind but knowing that I was able to do it made me feel quite proud."

Music director Mr John Salter said, "The production has brought together different friendship groups with a common cause."

"Students had to learn to begin each day with a fresh energy and focus to turn challenges into opportunities and solutions."

"The result is a tighter group with appreciation and gratitude around friendship and support."

Tillie Hargrave, a Year 9 student in a supporting role, commented on the hurdles that the production had to overcome.

"We would be nowhere without Mr Salter," said Tillie. "He was really great."

"A few of us students worked together to take leadership and make lists of what had to be done."

Many involved in the production commented on the sense of community within the show, and the support they felt from the audience.

Heartfelt congratulations are extended towards all involved in this year's production, and many are excited for what is to come.

Bilyk appointed Chair of the Australia-Japan group

Senator Catryna Bilyk has been appointed the incoming Chair of the Australia-Japan Parliamentary Friendship Group.

This non-partisan group with representation from across the Parliament, aims to build closer relations between Japan and Australia.

“My personal connection and love of the country is one of the reasons why I feel privileged to serve as the Chair of the Australian-Japan Parliamentary Friendship Group,” Senator Bilyk said.

“Japan is a beautiful, exciting, friendly and fascinating country with a deep history and culture.”

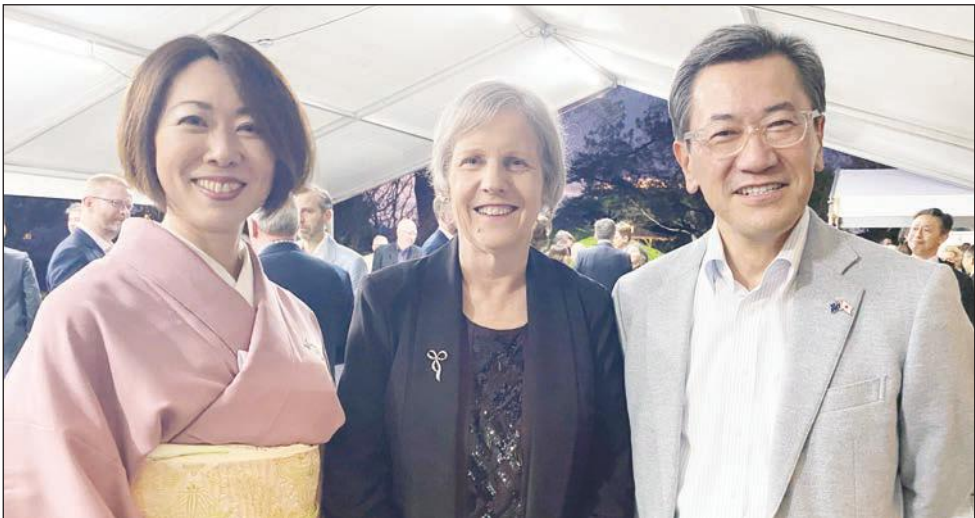

Over 50 MPs and Senators have already joined the group, demonstrating the high regard Australia has for Japan, one of our closest partners in the Indo-Pacific Region.

“Japan and Australia have a very close relationship,” Senator Bilyk said.

“As allies, as trading and investment partners, and through a shared commitment to democracy, human rights and the rule of law, as well as common approaches to international security.

“I am looking forward to furthering an understanding of Australia-Japan relations in the Parliament, and hopefully across both countries’ parliaments,” Senator Bilyk said.

The Senator has already begun the work of building closer ties with Japan, meeting with the Japanese Ambassador to Australia, His Excellency Mr Yamagami

Vote for a Thriving Kingborough

Kingborough Council is about to change. Four current councillors are not re-contesting their seats. Your votes this October for council candidates will shape who represents you and the culture they bring to the role.

Under the network name “Kingborough Thrives”, three women who describe themselves as “dynamic, progressive and independent”, recently co-launched their campaigns at Kingston Beach. All three women have strong backgrounds in being a voice for their community. They foresee that becoming Councillors and Deputy Mayor will amplify their positive impacts on our region.

Kingborough Thrives formed in 2020 as a group of engaged local residents seeking to increase active involvement in democracy. At the heart of Kingborough Thrives is a genuine desire for a thriving local economy, a thriving environment and a thriving community.

The coming election is the first time that compulsory voting will affect all Tasmanian local government elections. In early October voting ballot forms will be mailed to each Kingborough resident enrolled to vote. The Kingborough Thrives candidates are keen to gain first, second or third preferences as a result of the wide appeal of their values-based independent approach.

Clare Glade-Wright is a sitting Councillor and is standing for Councillor and Deputy Mayor. Clare has immensely enjoyed her first year as a Councillor. “I’m proud to have brought my values to the role of councillor over the last year, which means keeping in mind what makes a thriving and enjoyable community when deciding how to vote on an issue.”

Jill Hickie has been leading the Taroona Community Association for 15 years and is standing for Councillor. “I’m passionate about caring for our natural environment and acting on climate change” she said. “My professional background in local government planning and managing City of Hobart’s parks and bushland reserves, leadership experience and dedication to community stand me in good stead to make a positive difference for Kingborough.”

Di Carter MBA is also standing for

Councillor, but has already made her mark on the accessibility of Kingston Park and Kingston Beach through her work on the Kingborough Council Disability Access and Inclusion Advisory Committee. “I want to make Kingborough thrive and become an even more accessible and equitable place to live, work and play.”

Vote 1-3 for your Kingborough Thrives candidates. And please vote for at least the 10 candidates you want as councillors representing you here in this wonderful local government area.

The property also has separate staff quarters onsite so Nexus clients can enjoy privacy and independence while having any support they need at hand.

“The clients who have moved into this property all have some good skillsets and need a lower level of support to live independently than those in a traditional group home,” Nexus CEO Mark Jessop said.

“We individualise our programs to help build clients’ skills around cooking and living their own lives.”

SAA Trust built the Kingston property to cater for specific practical and sensory needs, and leases the building to Nexus clients at affordable rental rates.

“The home is brand new with larger and wheelchair friendly bathrooms, strengthened walls, induction cooktops with extra safety measures and less intrusive features such as recessed lights,” SAA Trust Executive Officer Ralph Doedens said.

Nexus is passionate about supporting clients to achieve their goals and to be engaged participants in society.

An innovative solution to this is the provision of a Nexus vehicle which remains on-site at the Kingston property at all times, allowing staff to transport clients to wherever they need to be.

“The car might be used to take people to the bus stop, the weekly shop, doctor appointments, or for extra support at planned outings,” Nexus Asset and Building Services Coordinator Ellise Harper said.

Federal Housing Minister, Julie Collins MP was in attendance to officiate the opening.

The Trust received a $6 million Federal Government grant under the Improving Social Housing Outcomes Program, which provided funding for the Kingston house and eight other sites.

Perfect time for local nursing students

If you have ever wanted to study nursing, now is the perfect time.

In 2013, the ANMF Tasmanian Branch established the Health Education and Research Centre (HERC) in Hobart in order to provide accessible, high-quality training for health professionals.

The HLT54121 Diploma of Nursing reflects the role of an enrolled nurse working under supervision of a registered nurse.

This qualification covers the application of skills and knowledge required to undertake your role competently and professionally within a variety of health care settings.

Once qualified, students will be eligible to apply to AHPRA for registration as an enrolled nurse.

The 18 months is comprised of face-to-face, online learning, and structured work placement of 12 weeks in total.

This course requires full time study including two days per week of face-to-face learning (9am to 3pm), plus the equivalent of three days per week self-directed learning.

There are 25 units in this course; 20 compulsory units and five electives.

To achieve this qualification, students are also required to complete a minimum of 400 hours of successful clinical placement in the aged care, acute care, and mental health settings.

Studying nursing opens the door to a broad range of career pathways to work in a variety of exciting and challenging areas.

HERC’s nationally accredited training will provide you with the skills and knowledge needed to kick-start your career in the health industry.

Students at HERC have successfully graduated with widely accepted qualifications at Certificate III and Diploma levels.

Once you have your initial qualification, HERC also offers opportunities to meet your continuing professional development (CPD) needs.

For more information you can email info@herc.tas.edu.au or call 6223 6777 and press option 2, if you have queries about how we can meet your educational needs.

Book launches at Woodbridge

Joint book launches and signings will be held in Woodbridge, Saturday, October 8 for three local writers from the Channel.

Contributors include local historian Greg Jeffreys, and first-time writers Moira Warr and James Ayliffe.

Each will provide their own literary productions which will include Greg Jeffreys' The Day the Tide Kept Rising. This is a fictionalised, but thoroughly researched, account of the consequences of the melting of the Antarctic ice cap.

The book follows the lives of a selection of people in their struggles to survive after a huge tsunami, caused by the massive Ross Shelf ice sheet sliding off Antarctica and into the Southern Ocean, sweeping across the Pacific.

Moira Warr's Trapped in Time With the Bullyraggers, is a middle-grade children's fantasy, where Hayley and Miles embark on an exciting time-travelling adventure from Europe to New Zealand.

Will they be able to escape from the bullies they find lurking around every corner?

James Ayliffe's Service in the Sultanate of Oman Dhofar and back, A Chronicle of a Counterinsurgency, is a memoir of a personal challenge interwoven with a little-known story of the conflict that troubled Oman.

Interested members of the public are invited to visit the Emporium Café in Woodbridge on Saturday, October 8 from 2pm to 3:45pm.

Browns River History Group talk will be given by Tim Chandler, the Taroona Detectorist. (PS)

Metal detecting story shared

The October Browns River History Group talk is on 3pm, Monday, October 10 and is a very local story from Tim Chandler, the Taroona Detectorist.

Tim will be giving a talk about his finds and the stories of what you find when metal detecting.

"It is a great hobby, and I get a lot of joy when I can return lost items to their owners," said Tim.

Not all items are from the present, Tim has found old coins and long-lost war medals.

"Come along and hear this interesting story about Tim's community service in retrieving what was lost," said Rosie from the Browns River History Group.

"The talk runs from 3pm to 4pm at the Library Learning Centre at 8 Hutchins Street, Kingston (old Kingston Primary School) Block A Room A1.

"Entry is free to paid up members, but a gold coin donation is appreciated from non-members.

"There are no restrictions re COVID but we do prefer our audience to wear a mask, and we can provide the masks if you forget," said Rosie.

Sensational views, impeccable presentation

From its commanding position overlooking the waters of Great Bay, this impressive and superbly-presented home enjoys sweeping views through full-height, double-glazed windows across the D'Entrecasteaux Channel and to the Wellington Range and beyond.

No detail has been overlooked and no expense spared to equip the home with the best in high-quality fixtures, fittings and appliances.

The total list of features is too long to list but includes the impressively-equipped kitchen that flows through to the dining area and the expansive living area, which is heated by an efficient 40kg pellet heater.

The living area extends across almost the full frontage of the home and opens out to a large full-width deck, making the most of the elevation and views.

The master bedroom has built-in robes and sliding glass doors that access the front deck.

The bright, modern bathroom and laundry both have extensive storage space and there is a separate toilet.

Access to the home from the top part of Blyth Parade is via a wide concrete driveway with remotely-operated electric security gates.

The owners, who built the home in 2010, have maximised space on the sloping and well-drained 2566 square metre block by constructing extensive rock and treated pine retaining walls that have created three level areas for parking and the large storage shed.

The large adjacent workshop and storage area has multiple power points.

There is also substantial storage space beneath the home.

The gardens, which include plantings of native species as well as several productive raised vegetable beds, are as beautifully maintained as the home itself.

All boundaries have wallaby-proof fencing.

Properties of this character and quality are few and far between.

56 Blyth Parade has enormous potential as a full-time island home, a superior weekender or an outstanding short-term accommodation property that would generate a strong income stream from Bruny Island's impressive and growing reputation as a magnet for visitors.

Why not pop into Art of Tea's Mertonvale Circuit shop with free in-store tastings and try their new teas, the King Charles III and Queen Consort, or pick up a Special Edition Prince Philip, Balmoral Breakfast, Queen Elizabeth II Breakfast or Afternoon Tea. (PS)

Steeped in tradition

Tea is steeped in tradition, and we have been reminded of some other long-standing traditions during the ceremonies surrounding the recent passing of Queen Elizabeth II.

Even though the tradition of tea is strong in many cultures across the world, tea is often synonymous with England.

For the UK born Art of Tea owner, Samantha Brown, it is the reason she proudly took ownership of the business in 2007.

Her love of tea, tradition, and the connections that tea fosters between family and friends.

"The British royal family are big tea drinkers, and if the Queen can live well into her 90s then there could be something to say about tea-drinking and longevity," said Samantha.

"It is also well documented that tea drinking is a daily ritual of Japanese and Chinese octogenarians and nonagenarians.

"At the Art of Tea, we like to create new artisan blends.

"Some are fun and family focused like our Nan's Apple Crumble Tea, whilst others reflect our Tasmanian brand and environmental values, like supporting endangered wildlife with our Tassie Tiger Tea."

With a changing Monarch, and to honour Samantha's British heritage, Art of Tea have created two new classic black teas, and relabelled four favourites as Special Edition.

"So why not pop into our Mertonvale Circuit shop with free in-store tastings and try our new teas the King Charles III and Queen Consort, or pick up a Special Edition Prince Philip, Balmoral Breakfast, Queen Elizabeth II Breakfast or Afternoon Tea."

The six teas are also available in a Royal-Tea Gift Box set for a limited time.

Dizziness and the loose crystals in your ears

According to the Australian Society of Otolaryngology, Head and Neck Surgery, over 36% of Australians over fifty report some form of dizziness or vertigo.

Conditions such as Meniere's Disease and Benign Paroxysmal Positional Vertigo (BPPV) result in the sufferer losing confidence in their feet which may lead to serious falls.

BPPV is a type of dizziness that can be triggered by specific head movements such as turning over in bed or looking up at the sky.

The otolith organs in our ears monitor our head's movements and position related to gravity.

These otolith organs contain tiny crystals which stabilize us against gravity.

As we get older, these crystals can become dislodged and move into another part of our balance organ called the semicircular canals, which is what makes you feel dizzy.

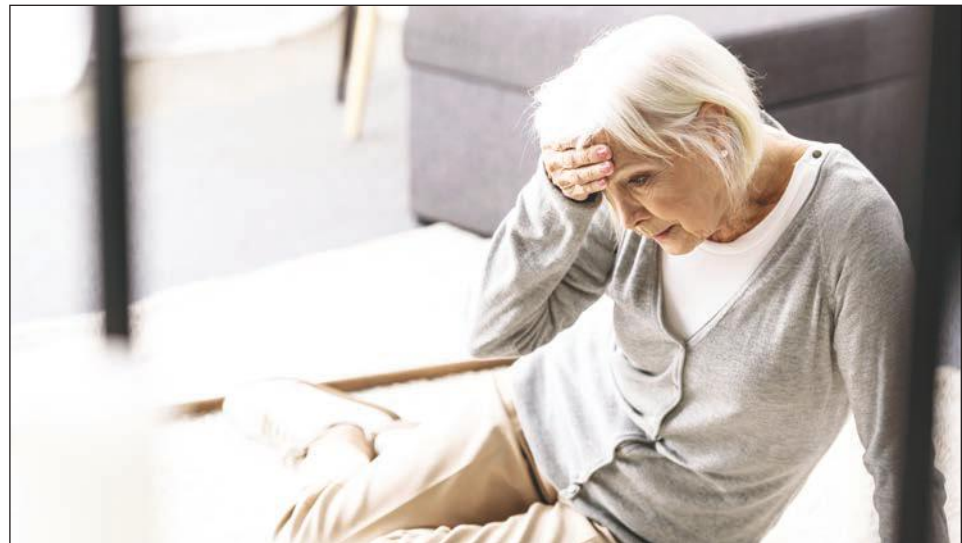

The symptoms of BPPV can be quite debilitating for those suffering from the condition.

It can lead to nausea and in some instances increase the chance of falls.

The good news is that BPPV is generally not medically serious and can be easily treated effectively with the Epley manoeuvre in the clinic.

At Ability Hearing and Balance, they offer a range of vestibular testing including testing for BPPV as well as more serious balance conditions.

Doctor referrals are generally not required, call 1300 327 776 to find out more.

Meals on Wheels Tasmania delivers nourishing meals, with a friendly catch up, to people needing assistance to remain living at home.

"This is what sets Meals on Wheels apart from many other 'drop and go' meal providers," noted Chris Oriel.

The service offers a variety of meal choices and caters to special dietary, allergy and texture requirements.

Main meals contain the recommended levels of protein for an older person and include five vegetables, providing important nutrients.

Prepared meals meet National Meals on Wheels Guidelines, developed in partnership with the University of Wollongong.

Fundraising event for Cancer Council at Margate

The Madame Butterflies hosted a special fundraising event at Helen Lindsay's home, behind the Brookfield Shed at Margate on Sunday, September 25.

There were a variety of stalls, food to buy and a raffle. Entertainment was performed by The Cantiamo Ladies' Choir and The Silvertones, both with many local members from the Kingborough area.

The weather was mostly cooperative, and visitors enjoyed the ambience of Helen's lovely garden setting.

All proceeds went to the Cancer Council of Tasmania as part of Relay for Life Team events which will culminate on October 29 and 30 at the Ranelagh Show Grounds.

Local events for Mental Health Week

This Mental Health Week Kingborough Council will be running some great presentations, hosting local walks in nature and facilitating some community art workshops with the aim of promoting positive mental health.

Mayor of Kingborough, Cr Paula Wriedt said Council staff had collaborated with excellent practitioners to be able to present a positive program throughout Mental Health Week.

"Art projects have proven to be very popular here in Kingborough and we think that our next community art project, The Way Home, will be just as impressive and inspiring.

"The weekend exhibition hosted on Saturday 8 and Sunday 9 of October at KIN Creative Space in Kingston Beach will be created from three inspiring water colour workshops on Friday, October 7," Cr Wriedt said.

"The health benefits of being involved in a painting workshop whilst making new friends are very positive.

"Staff have also organised three fantastic presentations by Geoffrey Ahern on youth mental health which is particularly tailored to parents, carers and those who may work with children or young people.

"Geoffrey Ahern is an extremely experienced mental health practitioner, with a Masters Degree in Mental Health Nursing and practice working in trauma, psychiatry and crisis situations across both public and private sectors.

"I think that these presentations will offer our community a very real and important chance to hear from someone with heaps of experience touching on sensitive subjects such as youth suicide, anxiety and depression.

"We also have a series of short relaxing walks to start your day off across Kingborough from 8am to 8:30am.

"There are three walks at Boronia Hill, Denison Street Reserve and Hawthorn Reserve with Forest therapist Cassey Mays as well as a walk at Taroona Coastal Track with GP Anna Seth.

"All of the walks are designed to improve your mindfulness and connect you with our wonderful natural areas throughout Kingborough," Cr Wriedt said.

DEPARTMENT of STATE GROWTH

Night Investigations on Macquarie Street

Gathering Information for Macquarie Street and Davey Street Bus Improvements

As part of the Southern Projects, the Department of State Growth is planning bus improvements on Macquarie Street and Davey Street.

Night investigations on Macquarie Street

We will be locating services, conducting road surveys, and collecting road material samples on Macquarie Street, from the Southern Outlet to Elizabeth Street.

These investigations will occur during the night, from 6.30pm to 6.30am, during October 2022, weather permitting.

During these investigations, there will be a reduced number of traffic lanes and lower speed limits to ensure everyone's safety. Please allow up to eight minutes extra travel time during this period.

No parking in work zones

During these night investigations we will be implementing a work zone on one side of the street. Bollards and signage will be placed in the work zone prior to works starting.

In some locations, the work zone will require an overnight, temporary loss of access to driveways. Impacted properties will be notified separately.

Public transport

Public transport services will still run during night-time investigations. We recommend passengers check with their providers about any temporary bus stop closures or route changes.

Register to receive project updates

Team Hinkley takes out Series Two

The final game of Series Two of the Tuesday Afternoon Winter Fours Competition was held in the Donald Hazell Indoor Centre, at the Kingborough Bowls and Community Club, with a final 18-end game to complete the competition.

As with the first series, Team Hinkley with Ann Hinkley in lead, Jeff Parsons, Keith Hinkley and skip Paul McCann, again proved the better team and won overall from Harra's Harem, who finished in second place.

Harra's Harem on the day consisted of Gill Pratt, Clinton Seabourne, Ian Harris and skip Carmel Rainbird, achieved 'Team of the Week' status with the best overall score on the day, winning the Round 8 event by 23 shots.

At the conclusion of play and the season, the top six on the competition ladder were Hinkley 37 points and 116 shots up, Harra's Harem 37 points also with 91 shots up, Duggan 35 points with 96 shots up, Cawthorn 30 points with 11 shots up, Hemmings 24 points with 32 shots up and Schooling 24 points with minus 6 shots.

The final position of other teams in order were Hickey, Rosevear, Baker, Murray, Ashlin, Chaffey, Lee, Pearce, Palmer and Neske.

Game results in the final game of the series were Harra's Harem defeated Ashlin 31-8, Pearce defeated Palmer 19-13, Hinkley defeated Hickey 19-14, Murray defeated Neske 22-9, Schooling defeated Chaffey 21-9, Rosevear defeated Hemmings 24-20, Duggan defeated Cawthorn 23-15 and Baker defeated Lee 19-18.

Team Lee has a good fight back after finding themselves 0-14 down after five ends, clawing back to only lose by one shot.

With all the winter competitions now completed, club members now look forward to the summer Pennant Season which commences in a couple of week's time.

With one of the two outside grass greens now open, members are now training on the slower outside rinks, adjusting from the faster indoor synthetic green which many played on throughout the off season.

Winners of the Series Two Tuesday Afternoon Fours Competition, Paul McCann, Keith Hinkley, Ann Hinkley and Jeff Parsons. (PS)

Second place in the Tuesday Afternoon Fours Competition was Clinton Seabourne, Ian Harris Carmel Rainbird and Gill Pratt. (PS)

Third place in the Tuesday Afternoon Fours Competition Dale Saunders, Roger Duggan, Vicki Bannister and Bruce Moran. (PS)
