

Kingston set for A Day in the Park

Kingston Park will come alive on Monday, March 13 for the inaugural 'A Day at the Park' family fun day.

The new event, running from 10am till 3pm, will be the first to make use of the space throughout Kingston Park, including the Kingborough Community Hub, Kingston Playground and the community lawn areas.

A Day at the Park President Else Phillips and Vice-President Jill Sward are all set to go with a team of volunteers and support staff from Kingborough Council to run A Day at the Park on March 13. (PS)

A Day at the Park President Else Phillips said the new event will feature many of the crowd favourites from the organising committee's previous event, A Day on the Beach, as well as adding some new activities.

"On the main stage we will have the Royal Australian Navy Band playing high energy rock music to get the crowd moving, but we have also partnered with local community organisations to deliver music and dance performances that celebrate Australia's multicultural diversity," Ms Phillips said.

"These include the Holy Lion Dance, a Bollywood dance workshop, taiko drumming, jazz dance, bagpipes, traditional Filipino dances and a music performance from the local Ukrainian community."

The event will also feature loads of activities suitable for families and children including craft activities, henna tattooing, face painting, train rides, netball and footy handball skills competitions, and entertainment from the Sands Family Circus.

For $1 per person there is an opportunity to visit a massive expo in the auditorium of models and collectables including cars, boats, planes and trains.

Delicious food and coffee will be available from various stalls such as Dough Boy Pizza and Kung Fu Canteen, not forgetting a traditional Aussie BBQ by the Rotary Club of Kingston.

"Like A Day on the Beach, we have aimed to make this event as affordable as possible," Ms Phillips said.

"We have been able to achieve this through the hard work of the volunteers on our committee as well as the generous support of our sponsors, who have provided either cash or in-kind sponsorship."

"Entry is free, as is the entertainment, and most activities are very reasonably priced."

Lack of merit-based recruitment at Tasmanian councils

Key findings from the Integrity Commission into a Tasmanian council's job application process have found that applicants were hired not based on merit, were prone to bias and direct appointment via association was common.

The Integrity Commission has warned the Tasmanian local government sector is exposed to perceptions of nepotism and cronyism in recruitment.

A spokesperson from the Kingborough Council issued a statement to the Kingborough Chronicle stating "Council applies a merit-based approach for all appointments".

"All assessments use a competitive selection process," they said. "Council welcomes the Integrity Commission's recommendations."

Recruit on merit

In a report tabled in State Parliament today, the Commission recommended that the Minister for Local Government develop a model recruitment policy aimed at addressing the issue.

The report also recommended that the Local Government Act be amended to reintroduce a provision obligating councils to appoint employees based on merit.

"This was removed in 2005 and while we are unsure of the government's intention at the time, the Commission is of the view this is an important legislative measure to protect the public interest," Integrity Commission CEO Michael Easton said.

"However, legislation without clear policy guidelines on how people should administer the law leaves both individuals and organisations exposed.

"Therefore, we have recommended that the Minister for Local Government develop a model policy for all councils in Tasmania to adopt."

A recent investigation titled Investigation Smithies examined recruitment processes involving alleged misconduct at a Tasmanian council.

Several of the jobs in question were awarded via a process called direct appointment which means the roles were not advertised - internally or externally.

"There was also no policy governing recruitment processes at the council and therefore no requirement to disclose any conflicts of interest," Mr Easton said.

"In this investigation we found there was a failure to recognise that a professional association - where two people have worked together before - was a potential conflict of interest.

"This was followed by a failure to ever declare that potential conflict which in turn led to a complaint and these issues being investigated.

"Having a clear legislative and policy framework alongside thorough training which ensures people understand those policies, protects the reputation of the people and organisations involved, and promotes workplace harmony.

"And getting the right people into the right roles benefits not just the council itself but also ratepayers who receive better public services as a result."

The Commission's finding comes after a 2021 report by the Tasmanian Audit Office recommended appointment processes for council general-managers also be conducted on a merit basis.

The report concluded that it was probable that these misconduct risks were not isolated to the one council.

Celebrating Ayyam-i-Ha

On Saturday, 25 February Habib and Fahimeh Niakansafy of Redwood Village hosted a celebration of Ayyam-i-Ha attended by about 25 friends and community members.

Ayyam-i-Ha means intercalary days. They are four or five days inserted into the calendar to make it fit into the solar year.

The Bahá'í Faith has a calendar, comprised of nineteen months, each of which has nineteen days making a total of 361 days.

The days of Ayyam-i-Ha bring the total of days in the year up to 365 days in a normal year and 366 in a leap year.

These intercalary days are days of giving: a time of celebration, of bringing the community together and finding ways to reach out to anyone in need.

They come before the month of fasting from March 2 to March 20 when adult members of the Bahá'í community abstain from food and drink from sunrise to sunset, and spend time in meditation and prayer in preparation for the Bahá'í New Year.

This is similar to the period of Lent in the Christian calendar when Christians give up something in memory of the sacrifice of Jesus Christ and spend time in contemplation and prayer in preparation for Easter.

The celebration of Ayyam-i-Ha this year in Kingborough included a potluck dinner, socialising and games enjoyed by all.

Aya Parkes with her baby Layla, Nosrat Ta'eed, Shirin Fernandez and Mae Parr celebrated Ayyam-i-Ha, a day of giving, celebration and bringing community together observed by the Bahá'í community. (PS)

Huon Aquaculture cleans up

A Huon Aquaculture clean-up team at Pillings Bay. (PS)

Huon Aquaculture participated in National Business Clean Up Day as part of Clean up Australia Day 2023.

The event is an extension to Huon's weekly shoreline clean-up program and aimed to raise company-wide awareness about the importance of environmental sustainability.

More than 30 staff from Huon Aquaculture's corporate and marine operations teams participated in the clean-up, which covered several locations surrounding Huon's leases, including Bruny Island and Garden Island in Kingborough.

"As a company that depends on the health of our marine environment, we have a responsibility to contribute to its protection and preservation," said project leader and member of Huon's Communications and Community Relations team Sammy Kluga.

"Our marine debris clean-up efforts continue year-round, but this event was a great opportunity to get staff members involved who would not usually have the chance to come along.

"We have now conducted 11 clean-ups in 2023 and plan to continue on a weekly basis.

"Thank you to all staff members who pulled on some gloves and participated in a great collaborative effort."

Questions over amalgamation of councils

The Australian Services Union (ASU) say the Local Government Minister and the Tasmanian Liberals must come clean with Tasmanians about plans for forced amalgamations.

The Liberal Party has commissioned a Local Government Board which is presenting amalgamations as an option to create fewer, larger councils and centralised services.

"The Minister must rule out forced amalgamations or any changes without genuine community support and legislation passing both houses of Parliament," ASU Victoria Tasmania branch secretary Lisa Darmanin said.

"Workers and communities will be dismayed by this news. Reforms should never leave any Tasmanian worse off and should not be done in an underhanded way."

Minister for Local Government Nic Street said "The Tasmanian Government commissioned the independent Board to undertake the Future of Local Government Review, over twelve months ago".

"The process has been completely transparent," Minister Street said.

"That's why the Board published its Interim Report and Options Paper, which was released on 14 December 2022.

"I will be waiting to see what the Board has to say at the end of the Review about the options and models that it believes have the best chance of delivering better services to Tasmanians.

"I won't be drawn by Labor or the unions into a politically-motivated 'rule in-rule out' game.

"I will invite submissions on the Board's report as I am required to do under the Local Government Act and I will ensure the sector is involved in the conversations and direction we take as a State.

"Our local communities deserve better council services now and into the future."

Opportunities to improve work health and safety

Minister for Workplace Safety and Consumer Affairs Elise Archer said expressions of interest are being sought from people interested in helping to improve work health and safety outcomes for Tasmanians by running seminars, workshops, forums or other activities during WorkSafe Month in October, either virtually, via webinar or in-person.

"Each year, WorkSafe Month provides an opportunity for employers and workers to focus on improving work health, safety, wellbeing and injury management outcomes, by reducing work-related injury, illness and death," Minister Archer said.

"This year's theme is 'Safe Bodies, Safe Minds: Working together to ensure workers return home safe and well every day."

Proposals for WorkSafe Month events and Safe Bodies, Safe Minds Conference close on May 5.

Lauren Beechey - The Beaute Spot

Lauren Beechey has been a young local leader in the beauty industry for over 15 years.

After purchasing The Beaute Spot from her mum in 2021, the salon has grown from strength to strength.

2022 was a big year for The Beaute Spot after winning the National Award for 2022 Australia's Beauty Services and Supplies for Excellence in Customer Relations.

That was a very proud moment for Lauren, it suddenly dawned on her that all her hard work and dedication was paying off.

"I am so grateful for the ongoing support from all our beautiful clients," said Lauren.

The Beaute Spot is extremely proud to have such empowering women employed including Lauren, Lisa, Laura, Rachael, Tegan and Kylie.

"They always take pride in themselves and are strong women who have a passion for the beauty industry," Lauren continued.

"I feel very honoured and proud of my team, always providing amazing work in servicing our clients and taking amazing care of them.

"They always have my back and without my team, I wouldn't be where I am today."

The Beaute Spot has adjusted well to its new trading hours of Monday to Friday, allowing Lauren and her team to spend time with family on weekends.

Celebrating International Women's Day

So proud of all the amazing women in the Kingborough community.

We also recognise all the women in our community who are doing it really tough.

Our Government is taking action to assist in a number of ways, including our $10 billion Housing Australia Future Fund that will help deliver 30,000 new social and affordable homes in the Fund's first 5 years.

4,000 of these homes will be for women and children impacted by domestic violence and older women at risk of homelessness. We are also delivering:

1. Cheaper childcare
2. Expanding Paid Parental Leave to six months

Felicity Sweet: Caring for Staff and the Community

While working as a high school Maths and Science teacher for 15 years and juggling the responsibilities of a young family, Felicity cut her teeth as the Business Manager and co-owner of Kingston Beach Dental.

She no longer teaches, and her children are teenagers, but she still loves applying the technical, organisational and people skills she developed as a teacher to care and connect with patients and staff.

Felicity is incredibly grateful for the talented team of clinicians, assistants and administrators and their care and commitment to improving the health of the community and transforming people's dental experience.

Felicity is passionate about supporting and encouraging people to grow and strive for excellence, providing a great workplace and having excellent systems in place.

Kingston Beach Dental has built a strong and positive workplace culture and reputation as a healthcare provider, which has been recognised through awards such as the state government "Employer of Choice" and the Telstra Small and Succeeding Business Award.

On International Women's Day Felicity would like to acknowledge the work of all the women in health care who are making a positive difference.

I was introduced into the world of bookbinding whilst sipping vino in a little rustic winery in Madrid, Spain in the year 1994.

Here, I met master binder Esther Ruiz Bardon, where a friendship was born, and a life changing apprenticeship offered. An apprenticeship I accepted without hesitation.

During my apprentice years in Spain, I learnt a myriad of traditional bookbinding and restoration skills. Skills I brought back home to Australia, where I went on to work in small and medium sized binderies in Sydney. Working in diverse environments, with different people, learning different methods and skills gave me the confidence to create my own bookbinding business, 'Bookbinds By Esperanza' here in the beautiful Huon Valley.

Since starting my own business here in the Valley, I have had the opportunity of working and collaborating with local booksellers, authors, artists and individual clients. As well as collaborating with local artisans facilitating unique bookbinding workshops.

My favourite part of this job, even after so many years, is listening to my clients. There is always a story, a memory, a feeling, and sometimes even a mystery attached to the books that I love hearing about.

There is also excitement and anticipation as I collaborate with clients in creating and bringing new books into existence. Seeing a client's reaction to the end product can be quite emotional at times, and I do admit, there has been laughter and a tear or two shed over the years!

Are your books falling apart? Have them restored!

Bibles • Cook books • Text books
Family histories • Story books and more!

Georgie Roland Grand Hotel, Huonville

Georgie grew up in Mountain River under Sleeping Beauty.

Her father had a local saw mill and her mother used to do seasonal work around the valley.

She has two children whom are both adults with children of their own.

Georgie has worked extensively in the hospitality industry for nearly 30 years.

She came to the Grand 10 years ago to stay current whilst teaching hospitality at TAFE.

"I was only there a short time and became the bar manager, and I held that position for several years until the lease was sold, when I became a member of the staff," said Georgie.

"I was then reappointed as manager of the hotel, a position which I held for 18 months, then the opportunity came up for my husband Geoff and I to purchase the lease in December of 2019.

"So, with all of the experience I have had between the Grand Hotel, Huonville and the Old Beachside Hotel at Kingston Beach, it was decided that we would buy the lease."

Georgie has spent a number of years working in hospitality and putting a lot of effort into furthering her education, for just such an occasion.

"I love the grand 'Old Lady' and our community, we sponsor different local sporting groups, donate to local schools, charities and fundraisers as much as we possibly can.

"We enjoy giving back to our community where we can," concluded Georgie.

MOVING IN & AROUND KINGSTON CBD

Kingston’s CBD is being upgraded to allow for future growth, improve pedestrian access, provide new green areas and outdoor dining opportunities.

During the Channel Highway upgrade, a section of Channel Highway Kingston will be closed to traffic for approximately 10 weeks.

Although traffic will be restricted, pedestrians will have access to all the businesses and services on the Channel Highway during construction.

Local businesses and services will be open throughout the upgrade and temporary traffic measures have been put in place to enable local shoppers to access these businesses.

Entry from Freeman Street/Goshawk Way roundabout is permitted only to access local businesses on Channel Highway.

Access to Kingston Plaza from Channel Highway is still allowed.

Access to all businesses, shops and services is allowed on Hutchins Street, but no access is available to Channel Highway.

Holy grail of bowls

In the Bowls Tasmania South Pennant Competition on Saturday, February 25 Kingborough Bowls and Community Club's Premier Division team came away with a five-shot overall win against the Glenorchy Rodman Bowls Club team in their game which was played at Glenorchy.

Kingborough won on three of the four rinks played to defeat the home team overall 84 shots to 79 shots. Division 1 also played a Glenorchy Rodman team out of the heat in the Donald Hazell Indoor Centre, achieving an overall 89 shots to 71 shots win. Mark Crawford with John Iles, Daniel Holland and Graeme Walker won 30-21 and in doing so achieved what is known as the Holy Grail of Bowls. In the second end played they scored eight shots which is the maximum number of shots which can be scored on an end of bowls. Division 3 did not come away with a good result when they travelled away to the Cremorne Bowls Club for their game, defeated 105 shots to 72 shots. Division 4 hosted the competition ladder leaders Cygnet in the Donald Hazell Indoor Centre. The home team came away with a five-shot overall win, defeating the visitors 76-71.

Division 5 hit a brick wall when they travelled away to the Glenorchy City Bowls Club at Berriedale for their game. Glenorchy City had an overall 92 shots to 48 shots win against Kingborough. Kingborough 2 in the Division 6 Blue Competition played on grass at home against the visiting Cremorne team. Even though Cremorne won two of the three rinks played the home team defeated them overall 59 shots to 52 shots. In Division 6 Red Kingborough 1 also played at home on grass when they hosted the visiting Franklin Bowls Club team. The visitors proved too strong, defeating Kingborough overall 61 shots to 45 shots with Kingborough managing a win on one of the three rinks played. In the Mid-week Wednesday Competition Kingborough's Division 1 team had the long road trip to the Orford Bowls Club. Even though the home team won on two of the three rinks played on the day, the outstanding 44-7 rink win by Heath Seabourne with John Iles, Jeff Parsons and Tony Rowe ensured an overall win by Kingborough. Division 2 hosted the visiting New Norfolk team on grass at Margate. In a game that was the closest Division 2 has come to winning a game this season they drew the game, 52 shots to 52. Kingborough won on two of the three rinks played. In the Division 4 Competition Kingborough 1 travelled away to Royal Hobart Bowls Club where they were defeated 55-54 in a tight contest. Kingborough managed to win one of the three rinks played. Kingborough 2 travelled away to the Cremorne Bowls Club where the home team defeated them overall 60 shots to 44 shots. In the Women's Thursday Competition Division 1 travelled away to the Orford Bowls Club where they had a spectacular 72 shots to 38 shots win. Division 2 hosted the visiting team from the Cygnet Bowls Club in the Donald Hazell Indoor Centre. The home team defeated Cygnet overall 69 shots to 48 shots. Division 3 had a struggle when they travelled away to the Brighton Bowls Club for their game. Their hosts won on all three played and defeated Kingborough overall 63 shots to 48 shots.
