Kingston has new Inspector

Kingston Police Station has recently welcomed Colin Riley as its new Inspector.

Colin Riley has been a police officer for 30 years and an Inspector of Police for 14 years.

He has occupied positions in uniform police divisions, the Special Operations Group (including deployment at the Port Arthur Massacre 1996) and more recently was the President of the Police Association of Tasmania from 2019 to May 2023.

Colin is a current resident and has lived in Kingston for 30 years.

In the 1990s he worked as a police officer at the Huonville Station for four years.

Colin was excited for the opportunity to return to policing in the Kingston Division.

He said it was his ultimate goal to live and work in this amazing part of Tasmania.

Colin noted that whilst there has been a recent spike in crime rates in Kingborough the total offences rate per 10,000 population in the Kingborough local government area is one of the lowest in Tasmania.

"The Kingborough community have good expectations and are committed about effective law and order, being very willing witnesses to assist police apprehend offenders," Colin said.

"In May 2023, there was a marginal increase in the incidence of burglaries in Kingston, Blackmans Bay, and Margate areas.

"As a result of assistance and information from the community, a 23-year-old man from Geeveston was apprehended by police on May 14 and charged with 83 offences related to these matters.

"This demonstrates the excellent link between the community and police at Kingston."

State budget on Kingborough

The 2023-24 Tasmanian state budget was delivered on Thursday, May 25.

Deputy Premier and Treasurer Michael Ferguson said "It delivers significant cost of living relief, along with record investment into health, housing and education, together with a strong pipeline of infrastructure delivery".

Various projects in Kingborough and Huon Valley have received funding.

The Kingborough Child Family Learning Centre (CFLC) will completed as part of the $28 million investment for six new CFLCs.

Minister Ferguson said the new centre at East Tamar is already open and construction is well advanced on the centres in Waratah-Wynyard and West Ulverstone.

"The remaining centres at Sorell, Kingborough and Glenorchy are expected to be completed by the end of the year," Minister Ferguson said.

The details and costs are there for all to see

Dear Editor,
The Macquarie Point Urban Renewal Project is a venture that has fallen victim to misinformation spread by the Tasmanian Labor Party and the anti-jobs Greens. It is crucial to set the record straight and shed light on the benefits this project brings to our state.
The people I speak to are undoubtedly in favour of the project.
I find it fascinating that Labor have been dismissive of the business plan.
I wonder how the Prime Minister feels about that, are they saying Mr Albanese is wrong?
The fact is a Labor Prime Minister has backed this Liberal project.
The Labor Party and the Greens' attempts to undermine the project are driven by political agendas rather than genuine concern for Tasmania's progress.
It is disheartening to witness the spread of misinformation and fear-mongering employed to discredit a project with immense potential for our state's growth and prosperity.
The details and costs are there for all to see.
We have been very upfront about that, even if Labor and the Greens exaggerate that at every turn.
Actually, they exaggerate the costs and underplay the benefits at every opportunity.
I understand why the Greens aren't supportive of the business benefits; they don't care for business or its people at all.
The Green's answer to this is they care about people but seem unwilling to listen to the benefits.

They fail to recognise that businesses are people. Firstly, people have a job, then work together, laugh together, socialise together.
It is often where a lot of our friends come from.
Every time you dismiss business, you diminish the people involved in those businesses.
I don't understand why State Labor aren't supporting of the development.
Surely they understand the benefits for people working with the project, or maybe they simply care more about trying to bring the government down than supporting the thousands of construction workers that would be employed.
The Macquarie Point Urban Renewal Project represents a remarkable opportunity for Tasmania's economic growth and job creation.
This development will transform an underutilised industrial site into a thriving precinct that embraces innovation, culture and tourism.
By attracting new businesses, fostering entrepreneurship, and creating jobs across various sectors, this project will inject vitality into our economy, ensuring a brighter future for all Tasmanians.
If the project is stopped, it will be felt off into the distant future.
Whilst not immediately, investor confidence will diminish; in five to ten years' time, we will wonder why we no longer see any cranes in the sky.
Let's not let that happen.
Not only that, things we actually lose will be forever felt.
An AFL and AFLW team would be the first thing and then $305 million in federal funding.
The potential new stadium holds immense promise for our city, offering a multitude of benefits that extend far beyond the realm of sports.
By creating a world-class sporting venue, we have the opportunity to enhance our community's quality of life, invigorate our economy and strengthen our collective spirit.

If you want this project to go ahead, express your support. Reach out to your local MP, write a letter to a newspaper or simply tell your friends.
Let's make it happen.

Dean Young
Liberal Member for Franklin

What a growing area needs

Dear Editor,
I want to see an AFL team in Tasmania as much as anyone. But I understand that I wasn't given the privilege of sitting in Parliament to sign a blank cheque like Mr Young's government has done.
The deal the Tasmanian Government entered into was so bad two of its own members left and went to the cross bench.
It leaves Tasmanian taxpayers exposed to all of the risk of building a stadium.
Every cent of what we know will be significant cost overruns will be paid for by Tasmanian taxpayers.
The business case shows the stadium losing $306 million over its first 20 years.
Meanwhile Tasmania's debt position continues to deteriorate.
From inheriting $200 million in net cash and reserves from Labor, the government will build up $5.6 billion in net debt by 2028.
Labor's priorities are health, housing and the cost of living.
That's what our budget response will focus on.
The Liberals promised the next stage of the Kingston Health Centre two years ago at the election but it won't be complete until 2027.
They promised an upgrade to Algona Road roundabout and the duplication of the Kingston bypass but that won't be finished until 2027 either-five years after they promised it.
The concern I have is that we are one of the fastest growing areas in Tasmania and we just keep missing out on the critical infrastructure upgrades a growing area needs.
We need better access to health, police and transport infrastructure-but we just don't ever see it.

Investing in infrastructure

The state budget has invested in Kingborough and Huon infrastructure including $52.5 million towards the $60 million Algonia Road Interchange and duplication of the Kingston Bypass, $21.7 million towards the Channel Highway Bypass of Huonville (Huon Link Road) and $5.5 million for the new slip lane at the Huntingfield roundabout.

"We will invest almost $5 billion in job-creating infrastructure across the next four years, including $2.2 billion in new and upgraded roads and bridges across Tasmania," Minister Ferguson said.

$2.59 million has been committed to supporting the Bruny Island ferry service and $1.565 million for the continuation of the Cape Bruny project to improve vehicle access and car parking facilities with upgrades to day-use areas.

$30 million has been invested towards the next stage of the Kingston Health Centre.

On Wednesday, May 24 a team of students from Calvin Christian School competed in the Science and Engineering Challenge state finals at University of Tasmania. The students came in third place. Here the students were challenged to build a bridge that could support a trolley carrying ingots from one side to the other. The lighter the bridge (whilst remaining strong enough to hold the trolley), the more points the team earns. (PS)

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Supposed to represent our community

Dear Editor,
Dean Young's letter to the Kingborough Chronicle will tell readers all they need to know about the state government and how out of touch they are.

Apparently Mr Young hasn't grasped the fact that the vast majority of the community is opposed to the Liberals' billion-dollar Macquarie Point stadium.

While rents are out of control, waiting times to see a GP are ridiculous, and more Tasmanians are falling into poverty and hardship, the state government - to which Mr Young belongs - has just delivered another budget that gives nothing but scraps to everyday people.

Meanwhile, a blank cheque has been written to Gill McLachlan for an AFL stadium.

I've hardly seen Dean Young out and about in Kingborough, nor has he come to talk to the Kingborough Council about what our community needs to improve the lives of everyone who lives here.

But for some reason, he feels entitled to snipe from the sidelines and tell the people of Kingborough that their needs are less important than building an AFL stadium in Hobart.

It's really disappointing to see someone that is supposed to represent our community has their head so deeply buried in the sand.

'New speed limit ahead' signs are also being installed to warn road users of the change. (PS)

Roadkill hotspot

Australian Associated Motor Insurers Limited (AAMI) conducted an analysis of over 17,000 AAMI animal collision claims across Australia over 2022. Kingston was identified as the number one animal collision hotspot in Tasmania, followed by Launceston, Cambridge, Huonville and Latrobe. AAMI's research indicated winter is the worst time of year for animal collisions, with 30 per cent of accidents involving wildlife taking place from June to August. "To avoid crashing with wildlife this winter, use your peripheral vision and be aware of your surroundings," said AAMI Head of Motor Claims Kahl Dwight. "Wildlife is unpredictable and can appear out of nowhere so it's best to always be on the lookout."

Continuing Kingborough bus service cancellations

Kingborough Council discussed Metro Tasmania's ongoing service cancellations in their recent meeting. General Manager Gary Arnold said he regular meets with the CEO of Metro Tasmania and was advised Metro Tasmania was going through a major recruitment phase. "They acknowledged that they have a shortage of drivers for a whole host of reasons," Mr Arnold said. Councillor Kaspar Deane asked whether these cancellations will continue for a few more months at least. Mr Arnold said, "I gained the distinct impression that they were acutely aware of the problem, were working on it, but there was no short-term fix".

Terrific turnout at Taroom morning tea

A group of Taroom women has been participating in the Cancer Council's Biggest Morning Tea for the last 11 years.

Initially the morning tea was held in one of the organiser's houses, but with increasing popularity it has moved to the Taroom Bowls and Community Club.

This year's event was held on Thursday, May 18 with over 80 people attending.

Raffle tickets were keenly sought by the participants, with 11 prizes donated by a number of locals and businesses, including Tassal, Geoff Hope Pharmacy and the Queens Head Hotel.

Participants brought a wonderful range of sweet and savoury treats to share, and with ample leftovers there was something for everyone to take home - at a fee of course, to boost the proceeds all of which go to the Cancer Council for their research.

The total raised this year was $2057, the largest amount to date.

Vandalism and arson

Kingborough Council's Stormwater Investigations Officer recently found a large deposit of dog faeces in a stormwater drain in Firthside which appears to have been deliberately dumped.

Kingborough Council advised that dog poo is high in nitrogen and phosphorus and can be harmful if not composted properly.

It carries bacteria and parasites which can be harmful to humans and spread disease to other dogs.

Vandalism and arson have also recently been committed in the family bathroom at the new Kingston Park toilet block.

The bathroom has been closed until further notice.

Kingborough Council is assessing the damage and possible timeline for repairs.

Tuesday Talks return

Tuesday Talks, first delivered as part of Kingborough Council's Positive Ageing program in 2018, are returning this June.

Kingborough Mayor Paula Wriedt said the talks would be held on the first Tuesday of the month.

"Tuesday Talks provide informal gatherings where older people can hear presentations on a wide variety of topics," Cr Wriedt said.

"These are wonderful session that bring people together to hear about current issues, learn about local services or other topics relevant to older people.

"Tuesday Talks are a great way to keep informed, to share ideas about what might be included in Council's positive ageing programs, stay connected and enjoy a cuppa with others."

The first talk given on Tuesday, June 6 at 10.30am will be Misunderstood Road Rules.

"As part of the RACT's community education program, the sessions will cover road rules that are commonly misunderstood by Tasmanian drivers," Cr Wriedt said.

"Some of these topics include rules for roundabouts, intersections and indicating.

"Given the road changes happening in Kingborough and increased traffic, this talk is a timely refresher for older drivers."

The next talk on July 4 at 10.30am will be TADTas.

"Come along and hear about a great group of volunteer engineers and therapists who have used their professional skills to work by inventing and manufacturing solutions to problems for people using mobility aids," Cr Wriedt said.

"Think modified bicycles for kids with physical disabilities or customised alterations to aids which can improve and prolong independence for people using a variety of aids.

"This will be an uplifting talk about what can be achieved when professional skills and heart are brought together and how great skills can be given new life in retirement."

The August 1 talk will be a Voice to Parliament information session.

"If you would like to learn more about issues related to the Voice to Parliament referendum, August's talk, presented by Reconciliation Tasmania, will provide important information on both sides of the debate with ample time for questions," Cr Wriedt said.

Tuesday Talks are held at the Kingborough Community Hub and are free.

Changes to scalefish rules

A number of scalefish species have recently been assessed as depleted or depleting by the Institute for Marine and Antarctic Studies, including southern calamari, striped trumpeter, bastard trumpeter, blue warehou, southern garfish and jackass morwong.

Of concern is the depleted status of sand flathead, which is the most popular recreational fish in Tasmania.

Primary Industries and Water Minister Jo Palmer said the government was proposing changes to scalefish rules to protect the fishery for future generations.

"We must make decisions today that will help our children tomorrow, and that includes ensuring the long-term sustainability of our fisheries," Minister Palmer said.

"The proposed rule changes are out for public consultation and include reviewing fish size and bag limits for depleted/depleting species; introducing two new limited commercial calamari licence types; reviewing recreational gillnetting arrangements; and introducing registration of charter fishing operations and reporting requirements."

Minister Palmer said in addition to the proposed rule changes, immediate interim measures have been introduced to protect the future of sand flathead.

"The science tells us we must act now and that is exactly why I have increased the minimum size limit of sand flathead from 32 to 35 centimetres and introduced a new statewide bag limit of 10 sand flathead for recreational fishers," Minister Palmer said.

The interim measures came into effect last month and will remain in place until the new scalefish fishery rules are implemented on November 1, 2023.

Building resilient rural communities

Livestock, farming and grazier communities are tackling greater levels of insecurity and increased situational stressors each year.

Stressors include inflation, rising fuel prices, wage increases, supply shortages, labour shortages, stock price reviews, fluctuating market prices, trade policies, biosecurity, succession planning and the never-ending threat of weather events that affect crops.

The pandemic has shaken farming communities, disrupting supply chains, and exacerbating the financial instability that already hovered over many farm families.

These factors result in increased pressures and are major stressors often taking a toll on overall mental health and well-being.

Rural Alive & Well (RAW) builds mentally healthy and resilient rural, agricultural and primary industry communities to reduce the prevalence of suicide.

RAW specialises in delivering proactive outreach and psychosocial counselling services and is 'non-clinical', genuine and non-intrusive.

The service is confidential with no fees for participants.

RAW's staff have first-hand experience with the complexities which come with living and/or working in rural and remote areas and have backgrounds in Tasmanian dairy, livestock, cropping, fruit growing, wool production, forestry and seafood, plus others.

For more information about the work RAW does, visit www.rawtas.com.au or www.facebook.com/raw.tas

Call the experts in the earthworks industry

Geoff Helm of GJ & KJ Helm Excavations has been working in the earthworks industry for more than 19 years with his wife Kylie by his side assisting him in administration.

He was brought up on the family farm in Lonnavele and still lives in the area.

Geoff grew up working in his dad's sawmill, starting out at the tender age of 14 working for Hazell Bros and Neville Smith Timber Industries before deciding to start his own business.

"We are a family owned and operated business," said Geoff.

"Neil Fletcher has been employed to share the load and drives one of our trucks to assist with delivery and on-site work.

"We specialise in preparing house and shed sites, driveways, septic trenches, dams and clean ups.

"We're also able to provide rocks, sawdust, mulch and woodchips (when available) for your landscaping requirements, as well as firewood logs."

For further details, to place an order or arrange a free quote, please contact Geoff on 0428 660 376 or Kylie on 0428 058 167.

Over 95 years in the business

Duggans Pty Ltd celebrated its 95th year of operation back in November last year.

Harry Duggan established the business in 1927, and it continues today as the Duggans Pty Ltd operations based at Cradoc.

Back in 1927, Harry married Edna Lucy Townsend and started their family of 12 children, purchased a lorry, employed his first employee Eddie Beechey and carried out a contract road building job in Cradoc.

Later, five of Harry's sons joined the family business.

In 1965, Harry retired and Leon joined the partnership of H. Duggan and Sons with four of Harry's seven sons, Alan, Neil, Greg and Daryl.

The business enterprises continued to grow.

During the 1970s, the partnership took on a major contract with Hydro on the Gordon Scheme to process and transport all the sand and aggregate for the concrete dam construction.

The business continued to grow, undertaking many projects with Hydro, Forestry Tas, state and local government, Hobart quarries, Marine Board, Australian pulp and paper manufacturers, timber companies and log cartage to name a few.

In the 1980s, the partnership evolved into Duggans Pty Ltd under the directorship of Alan, Greg, Daryl and Leon, with some inclusion of the third generation.

The company took on quarrying, crushing and processing of high-grade silica rock supply to BHP Temco and Pioneer Silica Industries, including the production and supply of furnace-grade woodchip infeed.

The business consolidated its operations at Cradoc with the quarry, premix concrete and precast concrete manufacture.

In recent times, the business has invested in multimillion dollar upgrades at Cradoc, including improvements to the precast manufacturing facility, modernisation and renewal of the concrete batching plant, upgrading of the processing plant in the quarry and increasing its earthmoving and transport capability.

"With the continued support from our employees, contractors and clients, Duggans Pty Ltd welcome the opportunities that lie ahead to 2027, 100 years and beyond," said Managing Director Stephen Duggan.
