

Saltbush Learning Centre progress

The Tasmanian Government is building six new child and family learning centres, with construction underway on the new Saltbush Child and Family Learning Centre (CFLC) in Kingston since April.

Liberal Member for Franklin Dean Young visited the CFLC last week to check up on the progress.

Mr Young said these centres offer a variety of critical services in one place to support families with children from birth to age five.

Each of these new centres is being tailored to meet the needs of their community.

Locals have been involved in the layout, services and even the name of the new Kingston centre.

"The name 'Saltbush' was selected through consultation with the local community," Mr Young explained.

"Saltbush is a distinctive native plant that grows throughout the local area, and its name reflects the centre's position between the salt (the coast) and the bush."

The Kingborough Child and Family Learning Centre recently held a workshop to allow local parents to offer their input on how Saltbush CFLC should be run.

The group discussed how the centre can offer accessibility, inclusivity, embrace all cultures and be a safe space for all children and families.

Kingborough CFLC thanked the attendees for their willingness to give their time and their insight.

"Together we can create the conditions for lifelong learning and wellbeing," the centre said on a Facebook post.

The Saltbush Child and Family Learning Centre is expected to open in 2024.

Liberal Member for Franklin Dean Young joined Minister for Education, Children and Youth Roger Jaensch, community members, representatives from VOS Construction and Joinery and Saltbush Child and Family Learning Centre leader Rachael Hawkins to see the progress made on the centre. (PS)

Franklin MP becomes acting Greens leader

Last week Cassy O'Connor announced her resignation as leader of the Tasmanian Greens.

Greens Member for Franklin Rosalie Woodruff walked hand-in-hand with Cassy O'Connor to Parliament Lawns where the latter made the announcement.

"I've written to Her Excellency the Governor to tender my resignation as Greens Member for Clark," Ms O'Connor said.

"I'm also standing down as Greens leader.

"My colleague and great friend Rosalie Woodruff will be acting leader until the Clark recount is complete."

Ms O'Connor has served as an MP for 15 years, and leader of the Tasmanian Greens Party for eight.

Premier Jeremy Rockliff acknowledged her contribution to Tasmania and called her a fierce advocate on issues she believes in.

"While we have not seen eye to eye on a number of issues, I commend Ms O'Connor for her service, strong advocacy and effective representation," he said.

"I wish Cassy all the very best for her break from public life."

Greens Member for Franklin Rosalie Woodruff said she counted herself lucky to have spent time in the company of "such a gifted leader and formidable parliamentary colleague".

"Cassy leaves an enormous legacy," Ms Woodruff said.

"Personally, it has been an absolute privilege to have sat beside her in Parliament.

"I will be the acting leader of the Tasmanian Greens until Vica Bayley is elected through the formal recount process.

"An announcement on the Greens leadership and portfolio allocation will be made when that is finalised."

Disinformation

Dear Editor,
The proposed amendment to the communications legislation would allow the Australian Government to shut down any and all vocal dissent online.
If this Communications Legislation Amendment Bill 2023 goes through, we will effectively have a Ministry of Truth as the outline of what is and isn't misinformation and disinformation is very subjective.
You will see news articles talking about "holding digital platforms to account" which means that the Australian Communications and Media Authority will have the ability to force digital platforms to submit to their demands.
Whilst these digital platforms often do not have the people's interest in mind and are fine with impeding on freedom of speech when it suits them, this will allow the Australian Government to further and more directly suppress information that could potentially harm them.
The government is not always right (they actually rarely are, in my opinion, but even to those who trust the government they are 'not always right') so why should we give them more tools to impede on our freedoms?

Dr Colette Harmsen is facing a jail term for her forest protests. (PS)

A jail term will not deter us

Dear Editor,
On Friday, July 14 I was sentenced for numerous peaceful forest protests by Magistrate Chris Webster, who stated that I am thumbing my nose at the judicial system by continuing to get arrested in Tasmania's threatened forests (ABC News, May 10, 2023), but this is not the case.
I am taking my forest protest to the judicial system to show that the system is monumentally failing our environment by backing government, big business and industry over environmental protection.
The risks of failing to prioritise the environment in a climate and ecological crisis will severely impact human lives and will continue to get worse if we don't do something about it.
Even if the act of trying to protect nature is considered a crime, we must continue to defend it.
A jail term will not deter us.

More housing

Kingborough Council has approved an application for a subdivision to create 30 residential lots and public open space at Spring Farm.

Kingborough Mayor Paula Wriedt said this decision would pave the way for desperately needed housing in the municipality.

“The state is experiencing soaring housing costs, historically low rental vacancy rates, and growing housing supply pressures,” Cr Wriedt said.

“Kingborough Council is committed to facilitating access to safe, affordable, and accessible housing in our community.

“On June 19 Council adopted a Statement on Housing to demonstrate this commitment.

“One of the actions Council is taking to implement this Statement is working with developers and housing providers to facilitate housing developments, like the one at Spring Farm.

“Council looks forward to seeing more housing built in Kingborough, to meet our housing need.”

New garden

Kingston High School recently opened its new 24 Carrot Garden.

Students and staff at the school have worked tirelessly to complete their new garden.

Principal Megan Bennell is excited to see the garden program grow and integrate into regular school learning.

“We have obtained a beautiful garden with an outside classroom area that will be an integral part of learning opportunities here at the school” she said.

“We currently have over 90 students working in the garden during their week at the school.

“We plan to value-add through potential for growing pathways in horticulture, garden-to-plate, market garden and community engagement opportunities.

“Teaching children to grow and prepare their own food has wellbeing benefits, is an opportunity to learn about nutrition and helps establish healthy eating habits.”

Tree removal at Kingston Beach

Kingborough Council is planning to remove the white gum in front of the Kingston Beach toilets in coming weeks, with a replacement tree scheduled for planting early spring.

This tree is unfortunately infected with an untreatable pathogenic fungus and its decline has recently accelerated. "We appreciate that many members of the local community value this tree, which was nominated for the Significant Tree Register a number of years ago," a release from Council said. Despite the tree's value in the landscape, Council will be seeking removal of the tree to help manage risk in the vicinity of the public toilets. Council is planning to replace the tree with a kurrajong tree, an Australian species with known resistance to the fungus Armillaria. For further information please contact the Natural Areas and Biodiversity Team at 6211 8200 or kc@kingborough.tas.gov.au

Winter appeal for Jireh House

The annual winter appeal for Jireh House is open and will run until July 28. Jireh House is situated in southern Tasmania and provides 24-hour crisis accommodation and support services to approximately 70 women and their 110 children every year. The women and children have become homeless due to situations of domestic violence and other traumatic life crises. For the last 40 years the shelter has been serving those needing a helping hand during difficult times in their lives. "At the shelter we are very grateful for any donations and assistance received from the community as we are then able to provide improved services to the women and children who often have very little in the way of personal belongings," said Sally Herweynen, the manager of Jireh House. Donations can be dropped off at Mr Nic Street, MP's Kingston Office, Shop 96, Channel Court Shopping Centre, Kingston. Derwent Estuary Program representatives, Environment Minister Tanya Plibersek and Senator for Tasmania Carol Brown. (PS)

A healthier Derwent for threatened fish

The Albanese Labor Government will invest $500,000 from its Urban Rivers and Catchments Program to support the recovery of the Spotted Handfish and clean up the Derwent River and estuary.

“This funding will be crucial to clean up the Derwent River and estuary and improve conditions for the threatened Spotted Handfish,” Member for Franklin, the Hon Julie Collins MP said.

“The $500,000 project will improve water quality and provide our community with access to nature and open green space.

“It will also strengthen the region’s ability to deal with the impacts of climate change.”

The Derwent River Restoration Program will restore areas of the Derwent River and estuary to create healthier habitat for the threatened fish species, as well as other species.

The project will also monitor stormwater pollution and improve data communication through a health report card for the river.

This is part of the government’s $200 million Urban Rivers and Catchments Program which helps community groups, NGOs, councils and First Nations groups carry out projects to clean up and restore local urban rivers and waterways.

“We want to repair damage to our environment and leave nature better off for our kids and grandkids,” said Minister for the Environment and Water, the Hon Tanya Plibersek MP.

“That’s why we’re investing $200m in projects to revitalise our urban rivers and creeks.

“We want to support the groups on the ground in their community working to better protect and restore their local environment.

“Nearly half of all nationally listed threatened animals and a quarter of our threatened plants occur in urban areas.

“We need to act now to protect them.”

This includes activities like planting native species along creeks and building small-scale wetlands to improve water quality.

“This funding will make sure the Derwent and the precious plants and animals that call it home can be enjoyed for generations to come,” said Senator for Tasmania Carol Brown.

NBN upgrades for Kingborough

Work has started on the upgrades to the NBN Fixed Wireless network in Tasmania which will benefit households and businesses across Australia, including in the Kingborough region providing access to faster speeds and extending the coverage of the NBN Fixed Wireless network.

The tower upgrades will mean some planned outages that may impact homes and businesses and their ability to use their NBN service while the work is underway.

To receive notice of upcoming outages, register your details at: www.nbnco.com.au/support/net-work-status

When complete, the upgrades will expand the reach of the existing Fixed Wireless footprint by at least 50 per cent, as well as enabling two new high speed fixed wireless plans - up to 100mbps and 250mbps.

NBN is currently consulting with industry on the launch of the higher speed tiers.

The additional capacity and reach available on the upgraded network will enable up to 120,000 existing satellite-only premises to access NBN Fixed Wireless for the first time.

Sam Marshall, Community Engagement Manager for NBN Local in Tasmania said the upgrades are an important part of NBN's commitment to regional Australia," Mr Marshall said.

"The upgrades to our Fixed Wireless network demonstrate our continued focus on regional Australia.

"To be able to deliver these types of speeds over our Fixed Wireless network in regional areas is exciting for us and for residents."

To read more about the upgrades visit: www.nbnco.com.au/residential/upgrades/more-fixed-wireless

Food relief grants delivered

In April, the Tasmanian Government announced the $300,000 Tasmanian Community Food Relief Grants Program to assist organisations to provide much needed help to their communities to ensure sufficient delivery of food relief for those in need.

Earlier this month, 35 organisations were approved for funding with three from Kingborough. Kingborough Family Church received $10,000 (the maximum grant) and Kingborough Community Missions and Kingborough Helping Hands (KHH) both received $4250.

"Kingborough Helping Hands is extremely grateful as a successful recipient of the recent Community Relief Grants Program," said KHH's Graeme Ingram.

"The monies will be used to support the ongoing Kingborough Helping Hands provides in the community through emergency food relief and vouchers for those in need.

"All of the services provided by Kingborough Helping Hands are entirely voluntary and the grant will cater for the increased demand."

Peter and Patricia Harvey of Kingborough Community Missions were also grateful for the grant which will help them with their Food Aid Program.

Kingborough Community Missions distributes food through 17 outlets across the state.

The 16 dedicated volunteers provide up to 14,000 quality frozen meals per year.

Peter and Patricia said recent years have been difficult, with increasing costs, so their finances are stretched to provide their Food Aid Program for more and more people in need.

The grant will contribute to meeting demands.

Peter and Patricia Harvey run Kingborough Community Missions. (PS)

Kingborough Helping Hands soup and sandwich fundraiser

Each year the Edna Pennicott Soup and Sandwich is held at the Twin Ovals and is a major fundraiser for the Kingborough Helping Hands charity (KHH).

KHH is a local charity that provides, amongst its services, emergency food relief to those in need and grants to local schools for books and breakfast clubs. The large crowd were entertained by 'The Croon' and there were raffles and auctions on the day as well as a large array of different soups, sandwiches and plates of desserts and slices.

KHH was supported by a huge number of sponsors who donated prizes as well as preparation for the day.

Edna said "the day is a great chance for the community to get together, enjoy wonderful entertainment and support those most in need".

This means your employer now pays more into your super fund.

The annual concessional contribution cap (pre-tax) remains unchanged at $27,500.

Given this, if you're currently salary sacrificing it is important that this arrangement is reviewed to ensure you're not breaching your cap.

Age Pension age reaches 67

From July 1, 2023, the qualifying age for the Age Pension for those born on or after January 1, 1957, will increase to 67.

For example, if your birthday is January 1, 1957, you will become Age Pension age on January 1, 2024.

This presents a great opportunity to get your financial affairs in order before applying for the Age Pension.

There are a range of financial strategies available to help maximise your Age Pension.

Freeze to deeming rates ends

Deeming rates remain frozen at their current levels until June 30, 2024.

Given the rise in Australia's official cash rate, it would seem likely that the government will increase deeming rates from July 1, 2024, to reflect the higher interest rate environment.

Deeming rates are currently 0.25 per cent (lower rate) and 2.25 per cent (higher rate).

With deeming rates at record lows for the next twelve months it is a sensible time to review what social security entitlements you might be eligible for.

Increase to Work Bonus ends

The temporary one-off $4,000 income credit added to the Work Bonus for social security expires on December 31, 2023.

The temporary increase to the Work Bonus allows those in receipt of an Age Pension, Disability Support Pension or Carer Payment to earn an additional $4,000 of income from employment or self-employment before their income is counted towards their income test.

The next six months present a good opportunity to generate additional income without it impacting your social security entitlement.

Minimum Pension Payment changes

In response to COVID-19, the government temporarily reduced superannuation minimum draw-down requirements for account-based pensions and similar products by 50 per cent.

They have not renewed this measure, so from July 1, 2023, those who have been previously drawing the minimum from their pension account will likely receive an increase in their regular pension payments.

If this increase is surplus to your needs, you might consider re-investing these funds to help grow your wealth.

When it comes to your finances, legislation and the economy are forever changing.

Don't leave any opportunities on the table.

TAROONA

Taroona students in chemistry competition

Dedicated Year 11 Physical Sciences students from Taroona took two days out of their holidays to compete in the RACI titration competition.

The aim of the competition is to encourage students who enjoy chemistry and to recognise proficiency. The state-based competition runs on a flexible timeframe, where schools can enter and compete any time before the third week of term three.

Leading teams in the Tasmanian competition are eligible to enter the finals of the national competition. Results will be publicised in a few weeks.

Brendan Gourlay from the Royal Australian Chemical Institute said “history tells us that the Taroona entries will be very difficult to beat”.

“It is also worth noting that a team from Taroona came fourth last year in the national competition.”

Upgrades completed on Kingston tennis courts

The Kingston Tennis Club Inc. now has four upgraded courts, all new perimeter and internal fencing and disability access for wheelchair tennis into the future.

President Trish Jay welcomed life members, members and friends to view the courts and enjoy a game of tennis at the official opening.

The opening was attended by invited guests, including Minister Nic Street and Kingborough Mayor Paula Wriedt, who said that its inclusion aspects were vitally important.

Also attending were Kingborough Councillors and CEO of Tennis Tasmania Darren Sturgess, who commented that it was a flagship example for tennis across Tasmania.

Club patron Peter Hodgman was also in attendance.

This has been a huge achievement by the Kingston Tennis Club committee, particularly the sub-committee (president Trish Jay, secretary Peter Jandera, treasurer Jo Gibson and club captain Evelyn van Nimwegen).

The upgrades began in 2017 when president Trish Jay first submitted a proposal to upgrade four of the six courts.

The third submission was a success in 2021/22, with the government agreeing to provide a grant of $220,000.

Kingborough Council and Tennis Tasmania granted $35,000 and $6000 respectively.

More than 90 per cent of old fences, court grasses, fencing wires, consumables and containers used by contractors throughout Kingborough were repurposed for the upgrades.

Premiership bowler and member of Kingborough Bowls and Community Club Michael Andersch will be playing in the Australian Carpet Bowls Championships Singles. (PS)

Bowls men's singles win

During the winter months when Michael is not umpiring national games he plays carpet bowls, also known as bias bowls.

Recently Michael was successful in winning the Southern Division Men's Singles competition which was played in Devonport.

The Australian Carpet Bowls Championships Singles will be held in Caloundra, Queensland in August and Michael has been selected to participate in the Tasmanian team.

On Saturday, July 15 the Kingborough Tigers faced Launceston in U18s, Development League and Seniors at Twin Ovals. In the most exciting game of the round, if not of the season so far, the Senior Tigers came from behind to squeeze a tight win 9.10.64 to 9.6.60. Launceston put on a clinical display before the Tigers came out in the final quarter 18 points behind with focus and determination. Max Collidge celebrated his 50th game with the winning goal.
