

Ferry long wait

The Department of State Growth recently announced that upgrades to the Roberts Point and Kettering Bruny Island ferry terminals would be completed in December.

Labor Member for Franklin Dean Winter raised concerns over delays to these upgrades.

Mr Winter said new jetties were constructed well over two years ago, but other berthing infrastructure is yet to be installed.

When SeaLink won the contract to run the Bruny ferries in 2018, the Tasmanian Government said an online booking service would be gradually introduced but limited stand-by capacity would remain available.

The Tasmanian Government said consideration of a pre-booking system was paused until the berthing duplication is completed and Mr Winter said locals and visitors deserve to know what the government is planning to do.

"The new jetties have been ready for a long time but they can't be used," Mr Winter said.

"If the ramps aren't ready people will again have to queue to get on a crossing.

"I share the frustration of locals on the island and at Kettering with the congestion and the delays.

"Why is this taking so long?"

Minister for Infrastructure and Transport Michael Ferguson said new ramps and gantries are now being fabricated off-site.

"The contractor was delayed by the technical challenges encountered ensuring the new vessels and the ramp interact correctly," Minister Ferguson said.

"They advise that additionally, the pandemic caused a change in lead times for some critical winch components, lasting up to 54 weeks, not including shipping.

"The final installation is about to begin, and we expect it to be completed before Christmas, weather permitting.

"We've got greater capacity than ever and much improved queuing arrangements."

The upgrades include:

- Improvements to queueing areas at Roberts Point and Kettering
- Duplication of ferry loading ramps to reduce single ramp dependency and allow for faster loading and unloading of vehicles
- Improved traffic management for more orderly and safer boarding.

Blackmans Bay Scouts Xavier Webster, Evan Eastman-Peck, Domi Matusak and Claire Smith won the Tenniswood Trophy, presented by John Tenniswood. John was a Scout leader and Senior Scout leader for many years before overseeing the transition from Senior Scouts to Venturers in 1973. The Tenniswood Trophy is a statewide Venturer Scout competition, competed for by teams of Venturers who undertake a weekend of challenging activities set to test their abilities in problem solving and use of scouting skills. This is the first time the trophy has been won by Blackmans Bay in its nearly 40-year history. (PS)

Salmon donations for Kingborough charities

Huon Aquaculture, with help from local charity groups, launched a new community support initiative on Thursday, September 21.

This program will regularly donate salmon to provide essential protein products to families facing financial challenges in the Kingborough area.

Charities accepting Huon's contributions include the Kingston Neighbourhood House, Kingborough Helping Hands, the Salvation Army Doorways Program in Blackmans Bay and the Kingborough Family Church in Huntingfield.

Each of these organisations will receive between 20-30 kilograms of Huon's premium salmon products.

Edna Pennicott from Kingborough Helping Hands spoke about the increasing number of people seeking food assistance in recent months.

"Our demand has more than doubled in the last three to four months," Edna said.

"We now take out approximately 70 meals a night when we go out.

"We also make meal deliveries to elderly people who are living on their own and people who are sick and struggling."

Edna thanked Huon Aquaculture for their support.

"The salmon donations are just wonderful," Edna said.

"We will be able to use them to make meals, which will be a real treat for some people.

"We couldn't do what we do without the donations that we receive."

Last week's trial run saw Huon donate more than 220 kilograms of salmon products to 10 local charity organisations in both the Kingborough and Huon regions.

The new program represents a meaningful step toward addressing food insecurity and supporting those most affected by the cost-of-living crisis.

"We understand that the cost-of-living crisis is making it difficult for many families to afford protein products right now," Huon Aquaculture's Community Engagement Coordinator Sammy Kluga said.

"We hope that our salmon donations will assist some of those families who are facing tough times in Kingborough at the moment."

Wholesale destruction of native wildlife

Dear Editor,

It was with reluctance that I was compelled to purchase and install security cameras around our home due to a spate of incidents involving anti-social behaviour, mindless vandalism and the theft of items from my vehicle which was parked in the driveway on my property.

Hopefully this will act as some sort of deterrent to would-be thieves, vandals and so forth, and be of some use to the police should any of these things occur in the future.

It offers little peace of mind though realising that these types of people do live amongst us with little or no care for the safety or value of other peoples' property.

With our local police being proactive there thankfully appears to be a let-up in obvious incidents of these types of crimes of late, so well done Tasmania Police.

One other thing that is not surprising in what the cameras have captured is the movement of roaming, neighbourhood cats hunting and killing in full view of the cameras at all hours particularly early morning, leaving dead birds and rodents as their prize on the road, verge and in our yard.

Cats are oblivious to the cameras, so I don't think it matters that vermin are part of what it is they hunt and kill, what matters is the fact that they are allowed to roam freely by their owners, making the cats introduced pests in their own right.

To anyone who denies their cats wander and are effective predators who hunt and kill without discretion: I have footage to sincerely prove otherwise.

Please keep your beloved pet cats securely on your property to avoid the wholesale destruction of native wildlife and birds alike.

Problems that blight far too many

Dear Editor,

To hear Jacinta Nampijinpa Price, as an Aboriginal woman, recently say "Aboriginal people are no longer being affected by colonisation" reinforces her extremely flawed support of the 'No' vote for the referendum, and her extraordinary lack of insight and awareness as to the underlying causes of the generational problems that blight far too many Aboriginal lives, families and communities.

Having been treated so shamefully since colonisation in 1788, the least we, as a nation, can do to help bring the changes that are so desperately needed in order to generate hope, healing, and wellbeing for our First Nations people, is to vote 'Yes'.

Debates over compostable dog poo bags

Compostable dog poo bags are being deliberated over at Kingborough Council for the 2024/25 financial year.

Kingborough Mayor Paula Wriedt said Council deliberated over introducing compostable dog poo bags considering the financial and environmental costs of doing so, at the September 18 Council meeting.

"In Kingborough there are 115 dog bag dispensers in various locations which all use 760,000 degradable dog poo bags a year," Cr Wriedt said.

"These dog poo bags are currently sent to landfill.

"There have been many requests for Council to start using compostable dog poo bags in our dispensers.

"Unfortunately for compostable dog poo bags to work properly they must be commercially composted.

"To do this would require a completely new service estimated to be approximately $250,000 per annum."

At the meeting, Council discussed the environmental benefits that would come from swapping the current degradable dog poo bags for composting ones.

In particular, the benefit of reducing the amount of plastic used in our community.

"Whilst it would be fantastic to reduce the amount of plastic, the fact is the bags still end up in landfill and don't compost, which is not ideal," Cr Wriedt said.

"As a Council we will revisit this discussion during the 2024/25 Budget process, weighing up the $28,000 cost and how it would be collected through dog registrations."

A community meeting for Spring Farm Village was held on Tuesday, September 19. Around 70 people attended who discussed plans for the development and the results from the recent community survey which had approximately 1200 responses. (PS)

Kingborough Council multicultural survey launch

A Multicultural Advisory Group has been formed by Kingborough Council with members of the community and councillors to develop a community that is inclusive, safe and respectful of all.

Kingborough Mayor Paula Wriedt said the advisory group is helping Council engage with Kingborough's multicultural communities.

"Kingborough has one of the highest multicultural populations, with over 21 per cent of residents born overseas here, compared to the rest of Tasmania which has 15 per cent born overseas," Cr Wriedt said.

"Our Multicultural Advisory Group has assisted Council in the development of a community survey.

"The feedback we receive from this engagement will inform the development of a Multicultural Action Plan to better address the needs of our multicultural communities."

The community survey will be available online until October 12.

A hard copy of the survey will be available at the Council Civic Centre in Kingston.

Pre-loved fashion events coming to Wrest Point

Dress for Success Hobart empowers women to achieve economic independence through employment by supplying them with pre-loved clothing, style advice, free career support, resume advice and interview preparation.

Dress for Success is powered by volunteers, many of whom give hundreds of hours every year to support local women in their community.

A key revenue stream for the organisation is the sale of pre-loved fashion items through their fashion sales.

"Bubbles and Bargains is a chance to get together with friends for a glass of bubbly and shop our collection of designer and high-street fashion at bargain prices," said Dress for Success CEO and local Kingborough resident, Amanda French.

"Our fashion sales have been so popular in the Tasmanian community that we added another offering called Fashion Frenzy which sees items priced at $5 and reduced to $1 in the last hour of the sale.

"The inaugural Fashion Frenzy was held in Kingborough earlier this year and we are now building on the enormous success of that event."

Both events are supported by Wrest Point and will be held on October 5 and 7.

"We love the work Dress for Success do in our community to support women to enter and re-enter the workforce and we've seen firsthand how important these sales are for them to raise much needed funds to keep the programs and services free for the women in our community that access them," said Federal Group Chief People and Cultural Officer Tanya Krumink.

Tickets for both events are now on sale.

Local giving back to Legacy

Blackmans Bay local Robert Atkin is excited and proud to have been selected as a Legacy Centenary torch bearer.

The Legacy Centenary Torch Relay, presented by Defence Health started on April 23 in Pozières France.

After travelling through London, which is the only Legacy Club outside of Australia, the torch travelled to Australia where it will visit all 44 Legacy Clubs.

Legacy Australia supports over 40,000 partners and children of veterans who gave their lives or health while serving our country.

The Hobart leg of the relay will begin on October 5 at 10.00 am at Anglesea Barracks and travel 12.4 kilometres to Anzac Park Lindisfarne, arriving at approximately 2.30 pm.

Torch bearers had to apply, listing any connections they had to Legacy and any military service they have completed.

"I was very fortunate to have been chosen," said Robert.

"I completed 20 months' national service in 1972, missing out on overseas deployment due to a change in government.

"I was posted back to Dowsing's Point after completing basic training at Puckapunyal and core training in Bandiana."

Robert's father Marshall was a WWII veteran who served in Egypt and the Pacific.

On his passing in 1968 Legacy Hobart supported the family through a very difficult time.

They provided legal support and a connection to Legacy without which Robert said they would have found life very hard.

"Legacy Hobart, through Professor Sam Carey, assisted me again with gaining a small pension for ongoing medical issues after an operation whilst serving in the Army," Robert said.

"I am also raising money for Legacy to give back for their support when we needed it so much.

"I have raised over $1100 so far.

"My target was $500."

If you would like to contribute to Legacy you can donate at: www.legsforlegacytorchrelay.com.au

Locals needed for Long-COVID studies

Michelle Brookfield from Blackmans Bay has been experiencing COVID symptoms for 18 months.

Her symptoms include severe fatigue, headaches, light and sound sensitivity, insomnia, heart palpitations, and cognitive issues.

Michelle is on medication now which helps with her brain fog, although she still suffers memory issues.

"There's preliminary studies showing these things help but the doctors won't prescribe them because they're not completed studies," said Michelle.

"They still shake their head at you, and no one knows what to do and can't help."

Cardiologist Professor Tom Marwick at the Menzies Institute for Medical Research is one of the leaders of the PERCEIVE study which is seeking to improve understanding of Long-COVID and the appropriate treatment response to this problem.

"Participants undergo a series of screening questionnaires about health, wellbeing and physical activity, walking tests of exercise capacity, and some of them undergo an echocardiogram and formal exercise stress test," said Prof Marwick.

"Suitable participants will be randomly allocated to medical therapy (if there is cardiac involvement, which is rare) and exercise training by a personal trainer.

"Progress is tracked over 12 months."

Michelle has been selected as a PERCEIVE participant.

Michelle is a registered nurse but she does not know if she will ever be able to return to work.

"You feel like a zombie, like you've been sedated," Michelle said.

"The kids are missing out on me."

The Long-COVID PERCEIVE study currently has 36 Tasmanian participants randomised into the study with several more undergoing screening.

Professor Marwick said they are actively looking for more people who are aged over 40 years, had a COVID infection and are experiencing ongoing symptoms.

If you would like to participate or receive more information on the Long-COVID PERCEIVE study, contact Research Nurse Kristyn Whitmore on 6226 4235, email perceive.menzies@utas.edu.au or website <https://baker.edu.au/research/clinical-trials/perceive-study>

Local government Code of Conduct changes

The local government sector has welcomed the recent changes to the Code of Conduct framework that passed Parliament recently.

Consultation on the changes first occurred in mid-2021. Local Government Association Tasmania (LGAT) President and Break O'Day Mayor Mick Tucker said "Improving the Code of Conduct is a high priority for the sector, as the current framework is failing us".

"The current system spends unnecessary time and resources on dealing with trivial matters, while on the occasions when serious misconduct occurs, the framework fails to sanction the breaches adequately.

"These shortcomings are at the core of the local government sector's concerns over the framework".

The key changes endorsed by Parliament include requiring councils to implement a local dispute resolution policy, with the aim of resolving most issues via a mediation process before a complaint is heard by a full panel.

To support the local mediation process, there is a new requirement for the Code of Conduct Panel to dismiss a complaint if the person making it does not adequately try and resolve the issue through the dispute resolution process.

The sector is cautiously supportive of the changes, Cr Tucker said.

The test of how successful they will be if the Code of Conduct panels are prepared to dismiss complaints that are trivial, vexatious or that do not participate in dispute resolution meaningfully.

"We look forward to working with the State Government on the further changes needed to ensure a safe workplace for elected representatives," Cr Tucker said.

Council recruiting General Manager

Gary Arnold, the outgoing General Manager at Kingborough Council is the longest serving president of the Local Government Professionals in Tasmania from 2016 to 2021.

Kingborough Mayor Paula Wriedt said Council would begin the process of recruiting for a new General Manager to take over the position in February 2024.

"Gary has been a very steady hand at the wheel of Kingborough Council for the past nine-and-a-half years," Cr Wriedt said.

"Under his leadership Council has ensured long-term financial sustainability.

"This is despite significant investment in community infrastructure such as Kingston Park.

"Gary is highly respected amongst his peers for his whole of sector outlook and collaborative nature in local government policy.

"He has been a valuable source of advice for Councillors and staff and will be sorely missed," Cr Wriedt said.

Whales in the Derwent

Whales were spotted making their way into the Derwent on Tuesday, September 19. Sightings began at Tinderbox in the morning, then Blackmans Bay and continued through to Kingston Beach where the whales were spotted breaching at around 3pm. By mid-afternoon they had turned and were heading back down south with sightings from Boronia Beach.

Kingborough Real Estate Guide

Simply stunning

Set over two floors, the property enjoys a high degree of privacy from neighbours whilst retaining a connection to the distant landscape through clever architectural design.

The imposing street facade is softened with plantings of natives which edge the pathway to the impressive Corten steel faced front door.

An entrance hallway gives internal and convenient access to the double car garage on the left whilst to the right is the home office or study.

The entrance hallway leads to an impressive open-plan living space comprising lounge, dining area and fabulous kitchen.

The lounge is a calming space with a subdued connection to the outside but lit perfectly with a skylight and thoughtfully designed interior lighting.

Wool carpeting in this area adds to the sense of comfortable luxury.

The dining area and kitchen flow seamlessly from the lounge.

The kitchen features a breakfast bar, walk-in pantry and all of the contemporary essentials necessary for a busy household.

Fittings include AEG appliances, dishwasher, induction cooktop, rangehood and oven.

The dining area's stacker sliding doors and kitchen windows are all fitted with privacy glass adding to this area's sense of safe enclosure from neighbouring properties whilst still retaining an open feel.

The sliding doors open from the dining area to give access to the outdoor alfresco and the rear low-maintenance fully fenced garden which has been planted with easy-care natives.

A sandstone outcrop provides visual appeal to the garden and creates a nice contrast between the sophistication of the home and rawness of the natural landscape.

A garden shed and raised vegetable planters complete this area.

From the dining area, an intriguing doorway leads into a cleverly designed utility room with laundry services as well as a powder room which has an additional doorway leading into the garage.

Heading upstairs you can't help but notice the gorgeously finished Tasmanian oak timberwork of the stairs themselves and you will enjoy the marvellous sense of elevation accentuated by the high ceiling of the stairwell.

On the first floor you are greeted by a landing, at one end of which are two good-sized bedrooms and a family bathroom.

Both bedrooms have built-in storage as well as a built-in desk.

The bathroom has a full-sized bath, double bowl vanity, heated towel rail and walk-in shower with an adjacent toilet.

At the other end of the first floor landing is the master suite.

This features a separate lounge area with a semi-enclosed balcony accessed through a sliding door, cleverly designed to offer an extremely private all-weather outdoor sitting area.

The generously proportioned bedroom has its own walk-in robe as well as spacious ensuite, which features a shower, heated towel rail, double bowl vanity and toilet.

One of the main features of the property and one that is not immediately apparent is the fully ducted reverse-cycle heating and cooling system installed throughout the home.

This system combined with the highly efficient insulation of the home results in an extremely comfortable adjustable ambient temperature throughout the property.

The home also benefits from the inclusion of Luxaflex honeycomb blinds which provide an extra layer of insulation to the windows.

Additional features of the home include heat pump hot water system, internal network cabling for NBN in place, USB ports in most rooms and wiring in place for a future security system.

The home is conveniently located to local schools as well as the attractions and services of Kingston.

Hobart is only 25 minutes away by car, making it an easy commute.

Taroona students explore Fulcrum Robotics

Students from the Taroona High @UTAS program recently converged on Dru Point in Margate for an exciting Environmental and Technology Robotics Demonstration Day.

This event aims to inspire the next generation of scientists and engineers while fostering a deeper understanding of the critical role of unmanned vehicles in addressing environmental challenges.

It is a collaborative effort between Taroona High @UTAS and leading Australian robotics company Fulcrum Robotics which is committed to nurturing young minds' curiosity and passion in Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM) fields.

Fulcrum Robotics is Tasmanian-owned and operated, based in their facility at Huntingfield.

They provide terrestrial, submerged, marine and aerial robotic services for environmental and industrial projects worldwide.

Fulcrum company director Janelle Larkin said "This is an exciting opportunity for young minds to explore the fascinating intersection of technology and environmental management".

"By fostering a love for STEM and nurturing an appreciation for our environment, we hope to inspire the next generation of innovators and problem solvers."

Students engaged in hands-on activities, including operating remotely operated vehicles (ROVs).

These vehicles are designed to tackle various engineering and ecological issues, from monitoring water quality to addressing pollution and condition assessment of infrastructure.

Taroona High School principal Charles White said "We are proud to partner with a Tasmanian company to showcase to our students the endless possibilities that a STEM education can provide".

Specialised workshops explored the science behind robotics and their role in environmental management and students were encouraged to ask questions and explore their interests.

Informational sessions outlined the diverse career paths available within STEM fields in Tasmania using robotics.

Fulcrum environmental expert Emma Savage said "Since graduating and starting my career with Fulcrum in 2022, I've learned how to fly an ROV, a drone and gained my Coxswain grade 1 certification".

"I'm really pleased to share my experiences with students and help them to visualise what a STEM career could look like for them."

2023 TSL GRAND FINAL

Despite a hamstring injury, Kieran Lovell played a top-notch game for the Tigers with 17 disposals and three goals. Kieran Lovell was awarded the Baldock Medal for Best on Ground. (PS Carolyn Whitehouse)

The North Launceston Bombers came out fighting fit in the first quarter with 20 points to the Tigers' eight. The Tigers worked hard in the second quarter to claw the game back. Midfielders Lachie Clifford (pictured), Nicholas Baker and Eddie Cole proved pivotal in the second quarter to get the Tigers back on track with 36 points to the Bombers' 21. The Tigers had a scare in the fourth quarter with the Bombers attempting a comeback, but it was too late for the Bombers with Tigers wrapping up with 56 points to the Bombers' 41.
