The local members donned pink belts for their training session to show their support of this annual campaign. BCAM takes place in October as an international health initiative to raise awareness and funds on a cancer that impacts many individuals worldwide. More on page 5. (PS)

Traffic debate for transit lane

Minister for Infrastructure and Transport Michael Ferguson has announced the next stage in the construction of the Southern Outlet transit lane will begin this summer.

"We have developed a staging of work, starting from where the traffic is the heaviest in the city and working our way back," Minister Ferguson said.

"Advice is that this will maximise the flow on the Macquarie and Davey Street couplet in the first instance with continued congestion improvement as we work our way back to Olinda Grove."

Franklin MPs Dean Winter and David O'Byrne have raised some concerns.

"The problem with the project is the massive disruption it is going to cause while the work is done and the modelling shows the work will only save 90 seconds of travel time when the project is finished anyway," Mr Winter said.

"It seems like a very expensive way to get people closer to the bottleneck at Macquarie Street."

Mr David O'Byrne said whilst he welcomes any initiative that will increase the efficiency of public transport, the major issue is this bottleneck.

"Spending tens of millions of dollars on a public transport solution alone, putting aside the crisis that Metro is now in, will not deal with the fundamental cause of the traffic gridlock, that being the bottleneck at the bottom of the Southern Outlet," Mr O'Byrne said.

Minister Ferguson said "We will focus on initial preparation works for the transit lane, construction of the Macquarie and Davey Streets Bus Improvements project and the transit lane connector between Davey and Macquarie Streets".

"We are doing this work first to minimise traffic impacts when the major construction on the additional transit lane starts."

Local awards for hospitality

Three Kingborough organisations were recognised at the Tasmanian Hospitality Association (THA) Awards for Excellence last week.

Longley International Hotel received gold for the Best Live Music or Entertainment Venue, Cricket Hub Tasmania received silver for Best RSL, Sporting or Community Club and Cellarbrations Kingston received bronze for Best Retail Liquor Outlet.

Competition was fierce with more than 200 venues from around the state submitting almost 500 overall entries.

"The quality and volume of the nominations this year reached unprecedented levels," THA Chief Executive Officer Steve Old said.

"All our winners will now get the opportunity to represent Tasmania at the AHA National Awards at Adelaide Oval on November 27."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

We were on the right track before

Dear Editor,

In reply to Jane Wilson's reply (October 3) to my earlier letter, while I always appreciate others opinions wholeheartedly, and it is healthy for society to discuss important topics like the housing crisis, I must reiterate that I still see that we are going well over the top with unit development.

I still believe the unit revolution of high and medium density is feeding into the housing crisis and homelessness couch surfing.

While I am very happy to hear your unit living has worked out well, I can't help but be concerned.

I have heard way more horror stories regarding unit living than positive ones, so many in fact that I find unit living to be a major concern for society.

I really don't think it breeds a wholesome outcome.

What also concerns me, in response to Brian Cadell (October 3) is that we are not building outward enough, with large tracts of outer area land either locked up or simply not used.

I feel we are damaging the environment with such dense suburb development with far too many units.

I see way too much concrete that comes with high density/medium density, and nowhere near enough trees and grass, whereas in a home like mine and many around it we have massive amounts of grass.

Not only that, I've planted around 80 trees around my home.

This does incredible positives for the environment, carbon soak up for example, and is cooler in summer.

This simply cannot happen to a large enough degree in unit developments.

I also believe we need to go outward even more, designing smart satellite suburbs, with the traditional ratio of land/home that was seen in the 70s and 80s, and with far less units than we are currently building.

I believe this would have an environmentally positive impact, with not only greenscape between the satellite suburbs, but also greenscape companioning each home like we used to in the past.

We have an environmental emergency, and I don't think high and medium density units are the solution.

We were on the right track back in the 60s, 70s and 80s, and I believe society just does not realise it yet.

Concern for all the community

Dear Editor,

The proposal before Kingborough Council to remove the protections for Blackmans Bay Beach by allowing dogs off lead should be of concern for all the community.

Introducing dogs onto the beach will pollute the waterways, threaten local wildlife and impact families that currently use the southern end.

Coastal zones are some of the most sensitive ecosystems. Dogs are already allowed in a range of reserves and beaches in the municipality.

The policies that protect the beauty and safety of Blackmans Bay Beach should not be removed.

I urge those who love our local beach to make a submission into the Draft Kingborough Dog Management Policy and ask that the beach not be put at risk by removing current restrictions on dogs.

Road Safety Forum for Channel Highway

Labor Member for Franklin Dean Winter is hosting a community meeting for Channel residents to discuss concerns over the Channel Highway.

Mr Winter said Channel locals have been sharing with him their frustration that the Channel Highway is not fit to serve the fast-growing region.

The Channel Road Safety Forum will take place at Snug Hall on October 22.

“People have raised road safety issues for a long time,” Mr Winter said.

“The Channel is attracting a lot of new residents and that means more traffic, and we need a main road that can cater for that.”

Mr Winter said there are flashpoints along the highway, and many were identified in the Government’s own corridor study.

“This month marks three years since that report looked at the stretch between Algonia Road and Sandfly Road,” Mr Winter said.

“The report recommends some basic safety measures such as widening road shoulders and changing the speed limit near the notoriously bad Howden Road intersection.

“These do not involve high-end engineering.”

Further south, residents in Kettering and Snug have campaigning for safer crossings in built-up areas.

Back in 2021 they collected hundreds of signatures in a petition Mr Winter tabled in Parliament, but the Government rejected it.

Currently, locals are campaigning for the shared bicycle and pedestrian path to be extended from Snug to Coningham.

“Just think how popular the existing shared path from Margate to Snug is,” Mr Winter said.

“People want to ride a bike and walk, but only when it is safe to do so.

“These communities deserve infrastructure that is up to the task.”

Elise Archer resigns from Cabinet

Attorney General of Tasmania and Minister for Justice Elise Archer has resigned from Cabinet following allegations of workplace bullying and inappropriate behaviour.

Premier Jeremy Rockliff requested Ms Archer’s resignation and said an independent investigation has been launched into these allegations.

“If culture is to change in this state, it requires leadership and accountability starting at the top, no matter how difficult those decisions might be,” Premier Rockliff said.

A new Cabinet lineup was announced last week with Minister Guy Barnett appointed as the new Attorney-General and Minister for Justice.

Included in these Cabinet changes, Liberal Member for Windermere Nick Dugan has been appointed as a new Cabinet member and Franklin MP Dean Young has become the Parliamentary Secretary for Small Business and Industry.

The new ministry was sworn in at Government House on Tuesday, October 3.

Ms Archer also resigned from Parliament following an ultimatum from Premier Rockliff.

“The only way Parliament resumes is if Ms Archer resigns as she initially committed, or she provides a written guarantee of confidence and supply,” the Premier said.

“We will not be returning to Parliament unless either of these two actions occurs.”

Ms Archer was a long-standing member of the Liberal Party and was first elected to Parliament in 2010.

She was the first female Speaker of the Tasmanian Parliament and served in the Cabinet from 2017.

“I am particularly proud of my achievements as the first female Speaker in the House of Assembly, and significantly in law reform over the last five years,” Ms Archer said.

“I depart knowing that despite the events of recent days, this law reform will hopefully endure as my legacy for the people of Tasmania and my community, who I have loved serving over the last 13 years.”

Ms Archer’s resignation from Parliament means a recount will be required in the Clark electorate.

Simon Behrakis is anticipated to be Ms Archer’s replacement.

Nominate Kingborough stars

Nominations are still open for the Kingborough Community Awards.

Kingborough Mayor Paula Wriedt said the Kingborough Community Awards ceremony would be celebrated on January 6.

"The Kingborough Community Awards recognise outstanding individuals or groups who make a real contribution and difference to our community," Cr Wriedt said.

"We have a very vibrant and active community with so many volunteers and community champions.

"These awards are a way for Council to recognise these community stars and pay our respect for all they do for Kingborough.

"The nominations are open until Monday, October 16 and a link can be found on the Council's website."

Nominations can be made for Citizen of the Year, Young Citizen of the Year, Community Group of the Year and Certificate of Appreciation for Individual or Community Group.

Community supports injured puppy

Zelda, the puppy caught in a house fire on July 13, has been recovering well thanks to the love of her family and the wonderful care of the emergency vet at Moonah and more recently, the Kingston Animal Hospital.

Tiffany Ingram, a concerned local, has been providing support to the family.

"I initially reached out to Zelda's family when I heard of her horrific injuries to see how I could help, even though I didn't know them," Tiffany said.

"I have been visiting as much as possible and get extra love and kisses from my fur pal, I feel blessed."

Tiffany extended a special thanks to everyone on Facebook, Ben from Pet Barn Kingston and Hill's Science Diet who have donated food, bedding, boots and money for Zelda's ongoing treatments.

"I moved to the area six months ago and can't believe how kind and generous the people in the community are," she said.

Zelda is now well enough to run boot-free and visits Kingston Beach where she gets recognised by people who have been following her story on Facebook.

Thanks to support from the community, Zelda the puppy is well enough to visit Kingston Beach for a run after being caught in a house fire in July. (PS)

Bushfire smoke alert

A smoke alert message for Valley View Road, Margate, Electrona and Snug was issued on October 4 in response to a bushfire at Longmans Road, Margate.

There was no threat to communities but smoke from the fire was visible around Margate, Electrona and Snug.

People at higher risk from the effects of smoke, including those with medical conditions, are advised to have a personal plan for avoiding smoke and managing their health.

HUNTINGFIELD

Blasting on the Channel Highway

Major roadworks continue near Huntingfield and commuters are advised to plan their trips and check for updates.

Blasting will happen between Rays Court and Maddocks Road between 1pm and 2pm on October 11 and 14, weather permitting.

Traffic will be stopped in both directions and delays of up to 30 minutes are expected.

The blasting is part of early works for a planned roundabout to service Homes Tasmania's new residential subdivision in Huntingfield.

The roundabout will provide direct access to Channel Highway for residents in the subdivision.

Updates on the works will be provided on the RoadsTas Facebook page and electronic message signs on the highway if there are any changes.

BCAM takes place every October and aims to shine a light on the devastating impact breast cancer has on thousands of Australians each day. Over 20,000 Australians will be diagnosed with the disease this year alone. (PS)

The Board of Reconciliation Tasmania humbly asks Tasmanians to vote with their heart on October 14.

We believe the modest request from First Nations peoples as expressed in the Uluru Statement from the Heart will:

Enrich us all as we recognise 65,000 years of culture and history on these lands;

Empower First Nations people to have a say in decisions that directly affect them;

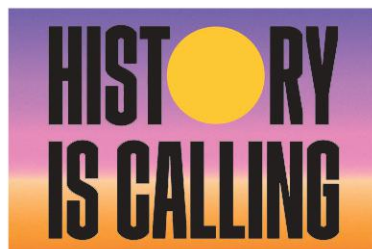

Unite Australia as it walks together for a better, stronger future.

In this historic referendum, we can choose to improve life for many First Australians who continue to be unrepresented and disadvantaged in their own country.

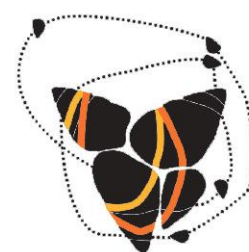

Please don't let this once-in-a-generation opportunity pass us by.

With respect, Reconciliation Tasmania Co-Chairs

Clair Andersen and Beth Gilligan.

Van Diemen's Band to tour Tasmania

Van Diemen's Band (VDB) will be touring Tasmania between Friday, October 20 and Saturday, October 28.

Borderlands, Van Diemen's Band's acclaimed and deeply moving musical examination of the lines that have both divided and united humanity, is visiting Franklin, Tullah, Hawley Beach, Stanley, Scottsdale, St Helens and Hobart, and being broadcast on Australian Digital Concert Hall on Wednesday, November 1.

After 19 performances across mainland Australia and New Zealand in 2022, VDB finally brings home to Tasmania its most critically acclaimed program to date for an eight-concert state-wide tour of ravishing Baroque music on original instruments.

Originally conceived in 2021 for Musica Viva Australia, Borderlands took on a prescient resonance and relevance a few weeks before opening night with Russia's invasion of Ukraine and the subsequent tightening of global geopolitical tensions.

"Our starting point had been the notion of cultural differences in music around the time of Europe's Thirty Years War during the 1600s," said VDB's Artistic Director Julia Fredersdorff.

"But as soon as the first missiles hit Kiev, Borderlands became something that spoke as much about now as it did about then.

"We quickly commissioned a new piece to be included, Donald Nicolson's Spirals, that incorporates a melody known to every Ukrainian and many Russians, a Slavonic Orthodox lament."

The seven-piece VDB line-up features the long-necked theorbo and the stunning harpsichord on its first road trip with its newly completed lid featuring a panorama of Indigenous flora designed by local artist Deborah Wace.

"There's a lot of kit to drive around for this show," said Fredersdorff.

"Even if Borderlands wasn't alluding to war, moving this group would still be a military exercise."

Simon Martin-Ellis plays the long-necked theorbo, described by VDB's Artistic Director Julia Fredersdorff as a cross between a lute and a giraffe. (PS)

Endangered Bruny Island plants exhibition opens

Some of Bruny Island's most vulnerable plants feature in an exhibition by Tasmanian artist Sophie Carnell at Hadley's Orient Hotel that opened on October 4.

The exhibition is called Silent Sentinels and features silver sculptures of the plants, some of which have been enlarged to reveal delicate details.

"The whole exhibition takes you inside a unique kind of herbarium with the plants all handmade in silver," said Hadley's Director of Art and Cultural Experiences Dr Amy Jackett. "Sophie has created the most exquisite way to share these endangered Bruny Island plants." Ms Carnell hopes the exhibition will spark interest in the endangered plants. "I'm seeking to instil a sense of wonder and joy in the small and disregarded plants that our heavy feet have pushed to the very edge of existence," she said.

An exhibition by Sophie Carnell called Silent Sentinels which features some of Bruny Island's most vulnerable plants is being displayed at Hadley's Orient Hotel. (PS)

Fire permit period for southern Tasmania

The Tasmania Fire Service (TFS) declared that fire permits were required for southern municipalities recently.

"Following a review of current conditions, and in preparation for the bushfire season, if you wish to light a fire in the open in a southern municipality you will require a fire permit," said TFS Deputy Chief Officer Matt Lowe.

"An analysis of current conditions showed that moisture levels in the landscape are now very low in the southeast."

Southern municipalities are Brighton, Central Highlands, Clarence, Derwent Valley, Glamorgan Spring Bay, Glenorchy, Hobart, Huon Valley, Kingborough, Sorell, Southern Midlands, and Tasman.

"The fire permit period for southern municipalities does not stop landowners burning on their properties; however, it does require that landowners obtain a fire permit for any burn larger than one cubic meter in size on their property," said Deputy Chief Officer Lowe.

People wishing to burn on their property can apply to a TFS permit officer by contacting their local brigade or calling 1800 000 699.

Permits are free and contain clear conditions that will ensure any burn is conducted as safely as possible.

"The fire at Coles Bay in recent weeks is a timely example of how crucial it is to be informed and to know how to access information that affects you and our local community," said Deputy Chief Officer Lowe.

"Know your risk, develop and practice bushfire plans, know how to access information through TasAlert, and review the community bushfire protection plan for your area.

"If you're ever faced with a situation where you need to evacuate due to bushfire, please be aware of the difference between an 'Evacuation Centre' and a 'Nearby Safer Place' to keep safe.

"An Evacuation Centre is a designated building, specifically selected to provide people with a safe shelter option, often with basic amenities; whereas a Safer Place is an area that provides shelter as a last resort - these are often designated areas outside."

You can visit fire.tas.gov.au to familiarise yourself with the community bushfire protection plan for your area.

Tasmania Parks and Wildlife Service (PWS) will continue to monitor conditions to determine when campfire restrictions are required.

"Bushfire risk reduction is a shared responsibility between fire agencies and the community, and everyone has a part to play," Tasmania Parks and Wildlife Service State Fire Manager Katy Edwards said.

Information will be available on the PWS website parks.tas.gov.au once campfire restrictions are introduced.

Seniors Week is celebrating 25 years

Seniors Week in Tasmania is turning 25 and they are recognising the milestone with a theme: celebrate!

Seniors Week runs from October 16 to 22 and is a celebration of older Tasmanians, who continue to provide invaluable contributions to our communities.

Seniors Week is coordinated each October by Council on the Ageing (COTA) Tasmania with the support of the Tasmanian Government.

It promises to be a week of fun events that welcomes all people.

There is something for everyone, from the sounds of the Seekers' Keith Potger to the thought-provoking film screenings by GRIT Tasmania.

Maybe try something new like strum a ukulele, try your hand at bridge, play golf, croquet, walking soccer, or give ballet for beginners a go.

All Tasmanians are encouraged to make the most of Seniors Week whether you're trying something new or revisiting an old passion.

To find out what activities are close to you visit cotatas.org.au/programs/seniorsweek or pick up a copy of the Seniors Week Guide at your local post office, library, Neighbourhood House, Service Tasmania, or elected members' offices across the state.

Making or updating a will in Tasmania

Some people mistakenly believe that they should only make out a will once in their lifetime.

In fact, a person should update their will throughout their lives to reflect major changes in their personal circumstances such as marriage or divorce, and after the birth or death of close family members.

One of the most common reasons for updating a will is to reflect changes in a person's asset portfolio.

After all, any unallocated assets that may have been sold or given away during a person's lifetime may be partially intestate.

In which case, these unaccounted-for assets will be dealt with under the provisions of the Intestacy Act 2010.

A last will and testament is an important document stipulating a person's final wishes.

A will provides direction on how a person's deceased estate should be distributed after their death and who should be in control of the estate administration.

It makes sense that a person reviews their will to ensure it remains up-to-date and true to their intentions.

The best way to make even a small amendment to a will is to make a legally binding postscript (codicil).

A codicil is meant to be read in concert with the existing will, allowing a person to remove or add clauses to their will.

This codicil is only valid if it is prepared according to the formal will-making requirements.

For larger changes or to avoid any ambiguity, the person should draw up an entirely new will.

With offices in Kingston, Hobart, Launceston and Scottsdale, Simmons Wolfhagen Lawyers are considered one of Tasmania's most trusted will and estate planning law firms.

They can assist Tasmanians draft a will that ensures their estate assets go where they wish them to.

Simmons Wolfhagen can also arrange a power of attorney or instrument appointing a guardian.

As a founding member of the internationally famous group The Seekers, he is known to countless fans, and this is obvious in the welcome given to him by audiences around the world.

His program contains some timeless favourites from The Seekers, a touch of Nashville, some beautiful original ballads from his three solo CDs and a few hits from the 1960s to the 1980s.

- Spending time with the body

- Washing and dressing
 - Cooling
 - Shrouding
 - Placing into a casket, coffin or shroud bearer

KINGBOROUGH'S EXHAUST SPECIALIST IN HUNTINGFIELD

Kevin and Leanne, owners and operators of Kingborough Exhaust have been a team in the exhaust game for almost seventeen years, and have been in the Kingston area for twelve years.

Due to the growth of the business and the support they've received from the local community Kevin and Leanne moved their business to a new, larger workshop at 1B 52 Ascot Drive Huntingfield.

Every job no matter how large or small receives the same quality workmanship and attention to detail.

Suspension is quickly becoming a big part of the Kingborough Exhaust business and making the move to Huntingfield allows for further growth of the business. Find Kingborough Exhaust on Facebook to view videos and photos of previous work.

If you would like to talk to Kevin about your vehicle's exhaust or suspension, you can call him on 6229 1146 or drop in to the workshop at 1B 52 Ascot Drive between 8.30am - 5pm Monday to Friday.

Kingborough Lions celebrate season

From last week's issue

The Kingborough Lions United Football Club celebrated its youth and volunteers at their recent Youth Dinner and Celebration Evening.

The evening drew together the 128 youths and their coaches, team managers and first aiders to celebrate the achievements of the 2023 season and to pay tribute to the many volunteers that support them.

Club President Brian Downes presented certificates of achievement to six youth leaders.

The 2023 cohort of youth players also came together to thank all the volunteers that have been crucial in allowing them to excel at their football.

The highlight of the evening was the presentation of the Angus Whyte Memorial Trophy and the Lisa Jarman Trophy, awarded to the most promising player playing youth for males and females respectively.

This year the awardees were Zac Castle-Roberts and Sophie Coleman in recognition of having demonstrated outstanding potential to continue and progress their playing careers.

The awards were presented by NPL Captain, Kobe Kemp and NPL Head Coach and Youth Technical Director Alfred Hess, along with WSL Captain Danielle Kannegiesser and WSL Head Coach Simon Edwards.

Team award winners were:

- Under 13 Southern Youth Premier League - Benny Stainsby and Leo Marchiolo
 - Under 13 Blue - Wesley Verdouw and Emily Hughes
 - Under 13 White - Jess Wardell and Olivia Muir-Kelly
 - Under 14 Girls - Lucy Page and Talara Lawson
 - Under 14 Southern Youth Premier League - Toby Porley and Luka Wilcox
 - Under 16 Girls - Miki McLeod and Kiera Kingston
 - Under 17 Southern Youth Premier League - Henry Little, Isaac Tomney and Jack Hocking-Cousins

Kingborough Knights ready for cricket season

The Wilson Homes Cricket Tasmania Premier League (CTPL) 2023-24 season was officially launched on Thursday, October 5.

Players from CTPL clubs and CT staff joined Wilson Homes Sales Director Adam de Jong at the Tasmanian company's display home at Kingston. The Men's and Women's 1st Grade competitions commenced last weekend, with matches to be played in the north and south of the state. Lower grade competitions will begin on Saturday, October 14. Kingborough will be looking to bounce back into finals contention under new playing-coach Thomas Martyn and a couple of familiar names have returned to the Knights in Trent Rollins and Riley Backhouse alongside former South Australian opening batter Jake Weatherald, when not playing for the Tigers. The Knights finished seventh last year, but new coach Thomas Martyn is determined to improve. "We've had a complete coaching restructure with the key additions of club great Eric Monaghan, and ex New Town and Zimbabwean International Tawanda Mupariwa as senior assistant coaches, to assist me in my first year in the head role," Mr Martyn said. "We have had a terrific preseason based on us as a group identifying and lifting the standards we hold ourselves to. "This has us looking to earn the respect of the competition and ultimately be a really hard team to come up against throughout the season. "We have a talented group in their late teens and early 20s who along with our experienced players are ready to play their role in season 2023-24." Kingborough is off to a promising start with a win against North Hobart in their first game on Saturday, October 7. The Knights scraped through with a victory by just one wicket, winning 9-182 against the Demons' 10-181.
