Prime Minister Anthony Albanese visited Tassal's Baretta facility recently, sparking criticism over his support of the salmon industry. The Prime Minister was welcomed by Salmon Tasmania CEO Luke Martin and Minister for Housing, Homelessness and Small Business Julie Collins. (PS)

Albanese's Baretta visit backlash

Prime Minister Anthony Albanese visited Tassal's Baretta facility recently, welcomed by Salmon Tasmania CEO Luke Martin and Minister for Housing, Homelessness and Small Business Julie Collins.

Mr Martin thanked the Prime Minister for his attendance and for his support to the salmon industry.

"There are about 5000 people whose jobs and livelihoods are wrapped up in Tasmanian salmon," Mr Martin explained.

"Nine out of 10 of them are in regional Tasmanian communities, particularly here in the south, in the south of the Huon Valley in communities."

Minister Collins said "We have been strong supporters of the sector and the industry".

"We know it needs to be sustainable, and we know it needs to be done in a way that's acceptable to the Tasmanian community, which is what the salmon industry has been doing."

Greens Senator Peter Whish-Wilson said "This was an incredibly insensitive and vacuous media stunt from our PM, especially in the same week it was announced half the Maugean skates in a captive breeding program aimed to save the species from extinction have died".

"There's only so long politicians can choose to prioritise the profits of big businesses over the survival of an entire species."

Prime Minister Albanese said his visit to the Baretta facility had been planned last year and was not due to the Maugean skates' deaths.

"We stand on the side of jobs, but we also stand on the side of sustainability," Prime Minister Albanese said.

"We think the two things aren't contradictory - they go together."

"And we need to look after the beautiful, pristine environment that is here in Tasmania, it's a great asset.
"But we also need to make sure that jobs are created, that the economy continues to function."

Community sparks speed reduction

The speed limit will be reduced from 90 kilometres per hour to 80 kilometres per hour on a two-kilometre section of the highway from north of the Rays Court junction near Huntingfield to south of Fehres Road junction at Margate.

This includes the intersection of Channel Highway and Howden Road. The speed limit was reviewed following a request by the community.

Kingborough Councillor David Bain said it was great to see the persistence of the Howden Progress Association and local residents pay off.

"Hopefully this will make life a little safer and easier when turning out onto the busy Channel Highway from Howden," Cr Bain said.

The reduction is expected to add 10 seconds to current travel times through this section.

Project transforms Kingston

The Local Government Association of Tasmania (LGAT) has recently highlighted the Transforming Kingston project as creating a welcoming public space that showcases art installations and encourages the community to pause and relax. (PS)

The project improved accessibility for residents and visitors, improved lighting and CCTV coverage and created more on-street parking in the CBD. (PS)

The Transforming Kingston project, which began in February 2023 and upgraded the Kingston CBD, has been highlighted by the Local Government Association of Tasmania (LGAT).

Retail and commercial experiences for residents and visitors have been improved by widening footpaths, increasing the number of pedestrian crossings and adding a bike lane.

The upgrade allowed for future growth by upgrading bus stops to include accessible spaces, enhancing lighting and improving CCTV coverage.

There is also a potential boost for local businesses with more on-street parking and pedestrian-friendly spaces.

LGAT said the project had turned the area into an attractive and inviting destination.

"This project has created a canvas for future investment and provides an engaging urban environment," an LGAT statement said.

"We were delighted to recognise this with a highly commended award in 2023."

Hopeless

Dear Editor,
The bus stop opposite the Kingborough Hub on Goshawk Way has been missing panes of glass for at least a couple of months.

It is appalling that the bus shelter has been vandalised and equally appalling that it has remained in this state for so long.

When phoned, Kingborough Council said that the bus stop was not a council responsibility and to contact Metro.

Metro service desk explained that they knew about the missing glass, and it was 'on order' - but no idea where from or when it would be installed.

In terms of infrastructure maintenance, bus stops are at the bottom of the list.

There is little attempt to make them comfortable and fit for purpose.

If there is anyone responsible for bus stops, they don't use public transport themselves!

At a time when the government is trying to argue the case for spending well over $50 million for a fifth lane on the Southern Outlet to make bus services more attractive for the travelling public, there is no system in place to adequately maintain basic bus stops.

Please can someone explain why the long delay in getting it repaired and when it will be fixed?

I much prefer waiting out of the wind and rain, even in summer!

Amelie reflects on Kingborough Award

Amelie Hudspeth reached out to the Kingborough Chronicle with reflections on receiving Young Citizen of the Year in the Kingborough Community Awards.

"Receiving this award has been a huge honour and privilege," Amelie said. "Having spent my whole life in the area, it's been a pleasure to grow up in such a fantastic community where I've felt supported in all of my endeavours - whether as a Sea Scout at North West Bay Scouts Group in Snug, as a student at Kingston High School, a team member at the Kingborough Lions United Football Club, or more recently in my climate and environmental work and passions with the Australian Youth Climate Coalition and Tasmanian Youth Climate Leaders Program, and my work as an outdoor guide in the stunning wilds of Tassie including within the Kingborough area. "I am hugely grateful to have received this award and want to highlight that it is also important to recognise that it's been a shared journey, and as such everyone who has supported me should also receive a part of this award's recognition.

"I'm super excited to be moving into a new phase which combines my climate and environmental activism with my love for spending time outdoors and advocating for the protection of and connection to the amazing country across this island.

"Over the next year I'll be following my outdoor education and environmental passions with a job on the mainland - but I'm sure Tassie will call me back home someday.

"I hope that other young people in Kingborough can continue to be supported in following their inspirations and passions like I have - it's such a fantastic and fun place to grow into adulthood, and it's been a privilege to have done it in this beautiful part of lutruwita."

School supplies drive raises target

The school supplies drive, started in 2021 by Member for Franklin David O'Byrne, is back, with packs distributed by local Neighbourhood Houses like Kingston Neighbourhood House.

The school supply packs include brand-new stationery, workbooks, lunchboxes, drink bottles and backpacks.

Last year over 160 packs were donated to families in need of assistance.

This year, the project is aiming for at least 200 packs to meet the increased community need.

Anyone can donate new stationery items or Officeworks gift cards to Franklin MP David O'Byrne's electorate office at 1/17 Bligh Street, Rosny Park, which is open weekdays from 9am to 5pm.

Mr O'Byrne said that some families were having to make difficult sacrifices to pay for the school supplies and stationery that their kids need to learn.

"The sad reality is that some kids don't get the most basic stationery and supplies they need for school if their parents are unable to afford it, which impacts their learning," said Mr O'Byrne.

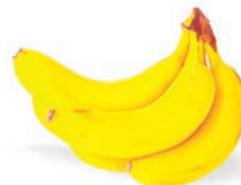

"Any donated supplies are greatly appreciated and go a long way to helping local kids get the best out of their education.

"Huge thanks to everyone who has helped out so far."

Shared-use track to connect community

The Whitewater Creek shared-use track to the Spring Farm and Whitewater Estates is being extended to allow better access.

Work has already started on the section of the pathway from Whitewater Estate to the current Whitewater Creek Track.

Later in the year, work will start on the Summerleas underpass, connecting the two halves of the track.

The pathway will connect more than 600 homes through the Spring Farm and Whitewater Estates.

In the second half of the year, work on a section of the track that includes a bridge and graded uphill length will begin.

Kingborough Mayor Paula Wriedt said this will open the sports precinct and high school to cyclists, walkers and anyone not using a car.

"I am really looking forward to providing improved transport and recreational opportunities for our community to enjoy," Cr Wriedt said.

"Our community loves walking, and national data shows it is the highest participated recreational activity undertaken by Australian adults."

Work has started on creating a new section through Spring Farm, connecting over 600 homes in Spring Farm and Whitewater Estates. (PS)

Compete for Kingborough's most beautiful cake

The first Great Kingborough Bake Off is happening Saturday, February 17 from 10am to 12pm.

The competition is open to everyone and will feature a range of decorated cupcakes and cakes in three categories: decorated cupcakes for children under 12, decorated cake of choice with a rainbow theme for young people 12 to 18 and an open competition for decorated cakes addressing the TasPride theme Together We Can.

Prizes will support local Kingborough businesses, with the first prize being a $500 Minimax voucher, 12-18 years a $200 Minimax voucher and the under 12's a $100 voucher to spend at the Pancake Train Restaurant.

Participants are asked to bake and decorate their cakes at home for a chance to win a prize.

The entries will be on display for the duration of the exhibition and taken home afterwards.

Kingborough Council is proudly supporting TasPride to present the competition.

Kingborough Mayor Paula Wriedt said the Kingborough Bake Off was part of the council's plan to improve LGBTIQA+ inclusiveness in the community.

"While the cakes are being judged on appearance only, the community are welcome to come along, have a cuppa and put in a vote for the People's Choice Award," Cr Wriedt said.

"There will also be cupcakes available to purchase from the Kingston and Channel branch of the Country Women's Association, and teas and coffee provided."

For more information and to get your entry form see Kingborough Council's events page.

Madame Butterflies' inaugural flower show

On Sunday afternoon, January 21, the Madame Butterflies Relay for Life team had a fundraising flower show at the Kingston Beach Hall.

This included Devonshire tea, a raffle, a sing-a-long, demonstrations and prizes.

The show was opened by Zonta Lieutenant Governor Wendy Quinn, who gave a speech on the work Zonta do with Breast Cancer Cushions, which provide comfort and support during post-operative recovery.

The Relay for Life is an annual event that raises money for Cancer Council.

Teams are formed in every state and territory in Australia to fundraise through activities like cake stalls, sausage sizzles, quiz nights and now a flower show.

Zonta is a global organisation working to improve the lives of women and girls through service and advocacy. All funds raised, over $1000, will go to the Cancer Council of Tasmania.

Madame Butterflies Relay for Life Team Leader Helen Lindsay said the team were thrilled by the attendance at the hall.

"There are many strong garden clubs in Kingborough as well as amazing individual gardeners," she said.

"A flower show gave them all a chance to show off their pride and joy."

Helen thanked all the volunteers who worked hard to pull this event together, particularly her daughter Sonia.

The show included a Devonshire tea and music by 'The Thugs.' Team leader Helen Lindsay said the team were thrilled with the attendance. (PS)
