The team at Tassal are thrilled to be naming rights sponsors of A Day at the Park in Kingston 2024.

"We are so excited to be involved with this event," Tassal ESG and Communities Manager Gemma Gwilliams said.

"For those coming along, they can find us at our bright blue tent and find out more about who we are and what we do."

Tassal diver Chase Fouhy has been part of the team at Tassal for over a decade after leaving New Zealand to pursue a career in diving in Tasmania.

When he isn't diving for Tassal he loves spending time with his daughters Pyper and Brooklyn, so events like A Day at the Park are high on the agenda with the family.

"Like last year, Tassal's A Day at the Park will feature dance and music performances focused on celebrating Australia's multicultural diversity, train rides, facepainting and circus performances," A Day at the Park President Else Phillips said.

"We are pleased to partner with an iconic Tasmanian brand, Tassal, as our naming rights sponsor, and we look forward to the interesting new activities Tassal are going to add to our event."

Tassal's A Day at the Park is an exciting and affordable day of family fun held at Kingston Park on March 11 from 10am to 3pm.

The event covers the entire site from the Kingborough Community Hub through the Kingston Park playground and car park to the lower lawn.

Senator shuns Parkinson's stigma

Senator Catryna Bilyk attended the Parkinson's Symposium in Hobart on February 19.

Over 500 participants attended the event either in person or online.

Guest speaker Professor Glenda Halliday discussed current research efforts, particularly the high level of multi-discipline collaboration accelerating understanding of Parkinson's disease.

"As co-chair of the Parliamentary Friends of Parkinson's, I was pleased to see the strong interest in the University of Tasmania's symposium, but it should be of little surprise considering over 200,000 Australians are living with Parkinson's disease," said Senator Bilyk.

"The symposium was also a great source of education to those audience members less familiar with Parkinson's that has helped overcome some of the stigma and stereotypes associated with the disease.

"I thank Professor Halliday for sharing her knowledge and insights, and Dr Stanton for his work promoting the forum and his ongoing advocacy for Parkinson's patients."

Council consider new method of calculating rates

Dear Editor,
Hobart Council is considering changing their method of calculating rates.
Up until now council rates have been measured on the 'Assessed Annual Value' (AAV).
Hobart Council has published a 24-page booklet titled Rating Review Options 2023-2024.
One of the strategies apparently favoured by the Council is looking at calculating rates based on 'Capital Value Rating' (CVR).

Business owners are very anxious about this option, concerned this change would unfairly increase commercial yearly rates and the costs passed on to the consumer.
In other words, prices for goods and services will further add to price pressures for average Tasmanians.
If this council is considering such a change, we must assume their income will increase at the expense of homeowners.

Kingborough Council is examining these methods of collecting greater income regardless of the cost-of-living pressures already impacting ratepayers.
Contact your local councillors now to see how you may be affected.

Where do candidates stand on Snug pathway?

Dear Editor,
Thank you for your report on Kingborough Council's consideration of a petition proposing a shared pathway connecting Snug with Lower Snug and Coningham, Some movement on Snug path, 13 February 2024.
This petition sought an extension of the existing Margate to Snug shared pathway onward along the Channel Highway to Lower Snug.

Details on the petition and Council consideration can be found on the Council website.
It is pleasing that councillors unanimously supported this proposal and that the eastern pathway option would be prioritised.

Now that Premier Rockliff has called a state election, it would be interesting to know where Franklin electorate candidates stand on this proposal.

Questions regarding conflicts of interest

Dear Editor,
In February 2023 the ABC News website advised that political lobbying in Tasmania is opaque and that Tasmanians currently have little information about who is lobbying their politicians and decision-makers, what their meetings are about and who is trying to get specific policy outcomes.
At that time, Tasmania had 66 registered lobbyists, some of whom have a long list of clients who could be paying fees to gain access to the state's key decision-makers in the hope of influencing policy, legislation, contracts and funding allocations.
The Tasmanian Integrity Commission advised at the time "Lack of transparency and accountability in lobbying activities risks eroding public trust that decisions are being made fairly and in the public interest, and that there may be an imbalance towards decisions being made due to powerful minority interests."
"The use of the term 'powerful minority interests' is deliberate.
"Any system of lobbying oversight mustn't stifle legitimate political discourse or the ability of individuals and community members to advocate for their interests to (public representatives)."

"The Handbook for Elected Members in the Tasmanian House of Assembly in section 3.8 'Conflict of Interest' states, "A conflict of interest arises where the private interests of an individual conflict with the workplace activity that the individual is involved in."
"A private interest can include anything that brings benefits or disadvantages to the individual, their family, friends, associates or even political opponents.
"A conflict of interest can be actual or perceived; there may be a direct conflict, for example, an individual or relative has shares in a company that quotes for services being sought, or a business owned by a family member is used.
"A perceived conflict of interest is where a third party might reasonably believe that a conflict of interest exists between private and workplace activities regardless if this is the case or not.
"For example, if an individual gives approval for a purchase from a business owned by their friend.
"It is important that all conflicts of interest are declared and managed appropriately, depending on the risk".

At the very top of the current Tasmanian Register of Political Lobbyist updated January 25 is one Eric Abetz.
Ex-senator Abetz is now a confirmed Liberal Party candidate in the coming Tasmanian election on March 23 in the seat of Franklin.
As a registered political lobbyist Mr. Abetz lists Bass Rock Quarries Pty. Ltd., Karen and Michael Williamson of Murdunna, King Island Marine Research, Makarna Grazing Company and Mt. Oriel Breadalbane Pty. Ltd as his clients on the freely open and available public website.
A question I would like answered is how is Mr Abetz going to juggle these clients' interests during any term of office he may hold, if elected, as against the rest of the Tasmanian elector's interests?
Another question I have for the Integrity Commission is how can a political lobbyist hold political office and be a political lobbyist at the same time without any conflict of interest?

Conflict questions answered

Dear Editor,
Finally there is an issue with which I can agree with Philip Sumner.
It has taken a while but we have one.
Should the voters of Franklin give me the honour of electing me as their representative I will immediately close my consultancy business and be their full-time servant.
In the interim I have considerably reduced my client list to concentrate on the campaign and I have provided the Premier with the appropriate protocols to manage any conflict of interest that may arise.
I am sure Mr Sumner demands the same standard from the paid union officials in Labor's ranks but inadvertently overlooked to mention them.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Please contain your cat

Dear Editor,

Having acquired and installed security cameras around our home, they do offer some reassurance in keeping an eye on things whilst sleeping or being away from home, which is a bit sad after realising that these are becoming a necessity as a deterrent, more than anything, to would-be vandals or thieves.

One very positive aspect is that when checked periodically they have regularly captured a local mother wallaby and her joey peacefully having a feed in our front yard in the early hours of the morning.

It is much to our delight knowing that they haven't been completely driven away from the immediate area due to population growth and density.

However, our pleasure in watching their casual visits was shattered when, out of the dark, at around 1am, from along the road, a neighbourhood cat circled our car and commenced to stalk the pair, pounced and frightened them into a panicked escape into the night.

We have previously witnessed a cat attacking, catching and killing a bird on our entry path.

An introduced predator versus an endemic species on full display.

The cat was light-coloured and had an obvious collar, so it is someone's treasured pet, and unfortunately, is allowed to roam the neighbourhood at will, upsetting the true local fauna in a very aggressive manner.

If you are a responsible cat owner, please contain your cat to your property to help stop the eradication of vulnerable native species.

Kingborough Council has some very good publications on the best care for your cat and it stresses that they do not need to roam, hunt and needlessly kill at will.

Scammers offering unsolicited services

On February 16, Kingborough Medical Centre reported a scam that had been brought to their attention by the community.

Scammers pretending to be from the medical centre were contacting community members and offering home massage services and associated referrals.

Kingborough Medical Centre expressed concern that scammers may attempt to obtain personal information or obtain financial gain by offering these services as a point of access.

"Kingborough Medical Centre is in no way associated with these scam callers - as a general practice clinic, Kingborough Medical Centre does not offer services such as home massages," the statement said.

"If you are concerned that your personal information has been compromised and/or misused or if you have been affected by the above scam and require more information or assistance, please refer to Tasmania Police Scam Information and Scamwatch."

Total fire ban for southern Tasmania

With hot weather, dry and windy conditions and extreme fire danger forecast last week, Tasmania Fire Service (TFS) initiated a hot day response across the state, and a total fire ban was declared for southern Tasmania on February 21.

Deputy Chief Officer Matt Lowe said the total fire ban was in effect for southern Tasmania from 2am Thursday, February 22 until 2am Saturday, February 24.

"This meant no fires were permitted in the open in southern Tasmania, including incinerators, burn-offs, campfires, fire pots, and wood-fuelled barbecues," he said.

On February 20, the TFS suspended fire permits in the southern region of Tasmania due to the high fire danger.

"These measures were designed to protect our communities and keep people safe, and we appreciated everyone's understanding and cooperation,"

Mr Lowe said.

The fire danger rating forecasts were high for most districts on Thursday and Friday.

"Our state-wide hot day response doubled the initial brigade response to any fires that occurred and our aerial firefighting fleet remained on hand, ready to respond and support ground crews across Tasmania," Mr Lowe said.

The total fire ban applied to Kingborough, Huon Valley, Hobart, Brighton, Central Highlands, Clarence, Derwent Valley, Glamorgan Spring Bay, Glenorchy, Sorell, Southern Midlands and Tasman municipalities.

A total fire ban means it is illegal to light or cause a fire in the open.

People are reminded to check all fires they may have had on their property, including any campfires, to ensure they are fully extinguished and check their bushfire survival plan.

Kingborough Councillors Gideon Cordover and Amanda Midgley took part in the Kingston parkrun on February 17. There were 273 runners on the day. (PS)

Kingston Park running strong

The 161st Kingston parkrun was held on February 17 with 273 runners on the course.

Over those events, there have been 4043 finishers of the five-kilometre course, and more than 300 volunteers have helped set up, support runners and back down the event.

The run is held every Saturday at 9am at Kingston Park, Goshawk Way, Kingston.

Participants are encouraged to walk, jog, run, volunteer or spectate.

Kingborough Councillor Gideon Cordover said this was his 30th time participating in the run.

"Our local parkrun is a wonderful event; I love the energy, and the positive, inclusive atmosphere," he said.

"It's a great place for the community to come together, meet new people and improve our health and well-being all at the same time."

Though the event is free, you can register your participation to receive your run time.

The average is 34 minutes and 25 seconds.

Fern Tree water on world stage

After being crowned the 2023 IXOM Best Tasting Tap Water in Australia, Fern Tree's TasWater water competed in the 34th Annual International Water Tasting last weekend in Berkeley Springs, West Virginia, USA.

"Representing the nation is a proud moment for TasWater, and having previously won the award for world's best in 2021, we know the international judges like the taste of Tasmanian water," TasWater Manager Water Quality Stephen Westgate said.

"Our specially packed water samples were sent to the USA two weeks ago to take part in this weekend's blind-taste test alongside water from across the world."

Sourced from rainfall and snowmelt off kunanyi / Mount Wellington, the pure taste and clarity of Fern Tree's water has long been celebrated by locals for its exceptional quality.

A panel of judges sipped samples sent from 60 countries in a range of different categories.

The tasting kicked off Saturday local time in Berkeley Springs, West Virginia, which meant an early start for Stephen watching the webcast from home in southern

"Getting this right is a balancing act that we do well in Tasmania," Stephen said.

"TasWater has won the award for Australia's best tasting water three times, for Fern Tree, Barrington and Rossarden.

"Rossarden then won the world's best award in 2021.

"To be back in the running just three years later is a great achievement for us, and really demonstrates the care we take with each drop we produce.

"Having clean and pure water sources helps, but we need the best treatment processes to back that up, and last year we invested nearly $120M in water treatment across the state to make sure great tasting, safe and reliable drinking water is delivered to all our customers."

The event was livestreamed on the Berkeley Springs International Water Tasting Facebook page, with the winner of Best Tasting Tap Water announced at around lunchtime Sunday, February 25 AEST.

Winner revealed in next week's issue of the Kingborough Chronicle.

Jessie Mahjouri of Bruny Island (pictured left) passed away unexpectedly on Thursday, February 15 after a stroke. Her friend and collaborator Anne Morgan described her as "wise, witty, smart, loving, lively, happy, humble, generous, creative, adventurous, reliable, organised, elegant, fit and active and devoted to her family and friends." (PS)

In memory of Jessie Mahjouri

The Bruny Island Community Library joined Bruny Island locals and members of the Tasmanian literary community in remembering Jessie Mahjouri and mourning her passing on February 15.

"Bruny Island Community Library is broken-hearted at the sudden death of our beloved Jessie," they said in a public statement.

"Her passion for books and reading infused us all.

"Her warmth and welcome made us smile.

"Her skills, her creativity, her knowledge, have made the library what it is."

Jessie's friend and collaborator, Anne Morgan, a Tasmanian children's author and coordinator of the Tasmanian chapter of the Society for Children's Book Writers and Illustrators (SCBWI) said that Jessie was an enabler, content to make things happen behind the scenes.

"The literary world and the Bruny Island community have lost one of their staunchest champions," Anne said.

"Jessie Mahjouri, my close friend and collaborator in kid lit adventures, died unexpectedly last Thursday, three days after a massive stroke.

"There is so much that could be said about Jessie - wise, witty, smart, loving, lively, happy, humble, generous, creative, adventurous, reliable, organised, elegant, fit and active, devoted to her family and friends.

"Jessie never sought the limelight.

"She was an enabler, content to make things happen behind the scenes.

"And make them happen she did.

"Collaborating with Jessie on children's literary events was pure magic.

"This marvellous woman lit up the lives of everyone she met and made the world a better place.

"Heartfelt sympathy to Rod, Nadia and the rest of the family she adored."

Concern about stroke knowledge trends

New Stroke Foundation data has revealed that only 62 per cent of Australians know at least one sign of stroke and awareness of one of the most common signs of stroke, facial droop, has dropped.

Stroke Foundation's F.A.S.T. (Face, Arms, Speech, Time) national awareness survey found that, compared to last year, Australians' overall awareness of stroke signs has stagnated.

While 39 per cent of Australians know that facial droop is a sign of stroke, that is one per cent fewer than last year.

Stroke Foundation Chief Executive Officer Dr Lisa Murphy said Australia can't afford to be going backwards when it comes to recognising a stroke.

"This is not the way we'd like to see the data shifting," Dr Murphy said.

"It's concerning because when fewer people know the signs of stroke, more lives are at risk.

"We know that recognising the common signs of stroke saves lives.

"The faster someone can recognise a stroke, the sooner specialist, time-critical treatment is received.

"Minutes are the difference between life or death and living well after a stroke or having lifelong disability."

Every year, the Stroke Foundation surveys thousands of Australians on their knowledge of the F.A.S.T. signs of stroke.

The F.A.S.T. acronym highlights the three most common signs of stroke (facial droop (F), inability to lift both arms (A) and slurred speech (S)).

The T stands for time, as a reminder that there is no time to waste, stroke is a medical emergency.

Take action and call triple zero (000) at the first sign of stroke.

"The F.A.S.T. acronym is an easy and effective way to remember the signs of stroke," said Dr Murphy.

"Just by knowing the signs and recognising a stroke, you could save a life."

When a stroke strikes, it kills up to 1.9 million brain cells per minute and, in Australia, a first-time stroke occurs every 19 minutes.

Check out the secrets at the library

Kingston Library is hosting an evening of secrets and suspense featuring three authors of contemporary Australian fiction.

Lenny Bartulin is the author of the novels Infamy and Fortune.

His work has been twice longlisted in the Tasmanian Literary Awards and selected as a Most Anticipated Historical Novel by Oprah Daily in the US.

His latest novel, The Unearthed, released August 2023, continues to be a popular item at the library.

Best-selling author Jo Dixon writes stories full of imperfect characters dealing with unsettling situations and making fatal mistakes.

There is intrigue and mystery, the moodiness and underlying threat of the wild environment, and provocative twists and turns.

The House of Now and Then came third on Libraries Tasmania's most borrowed Tasmanian fiction book of 2023 Top 10.

Jo's second book A Shadow at the Door was released in January.

Kylie Orr is an author of dark and twisty contemporary fiction.

Her debut novel Someone Else's Child was longlisted in the Richell Prize and published by HarperCollins in 2022.

Her second novel The Eleventh Floor has just hit the shelves.

Through her books, Kylie delves into the complex stories of everyday people and their secret lives behind closed doors.

A Taste of the Huon was launched on Wednesday, February 22 in preparation for the two-day festival in March. The launch was attended by Steve from Bruny Island Oysters, Liberal Member for Franklin Dean Young and Katy from Storm Bay Donuts. (PS)

A Taste of the Huon back for 2024

A Taste of the Huon launched their festival on Wednesday, February 22 in the lead up to a big weekend on March 10 and 11 at the showgrounds at Ranelagh.

Organisers expect in excess of 20,000 locals and visitors to enjoy the festival over its two day run.

This will be the 31st edition of the festival that celebrates the best of the Huon region's food, beverage, arts, craft and entertainment.

Minister for Stadia and Events Nic Street said the Huon has always been famous for its apples, giving Tasmania the world-renowned name of the Apple Isle.

"Now it's known for so much more than that," said Minister Street.

"Salmon, mushrooms, vineyards, cideries, a huge range of fruit and of course incredible Tasmanian truffles all come from the region, and there's no better place to try them all than A Taste of the Huon."

Entertainment this year is headlined by local favourites The Wolfe Brothers and the world's number one Abba tribute show, Björn Again.

The Tasmanian Government supports A Taste of the Huon through a three-year $82,000 funding partnership.

Liberal Member for Franklin Dean Young further welcomed the investment for this tremendous event.

"There really is something for everyone at A Taste of the Huon," Mr Young said.

Candidates asked to support volunteers

Volunteering Tasmania has asked for a commitment from the major parties and support from independents to invest in the critical volunteering industry through sustainable peak body funding.

Significant organisations and events in Kingborough like the Kingborough Community Missions and the Kingston parkrun rely on the assistance of volunteers.

In a recently released statement, Volunteering Tasmania said in the last four years formal volunteering participation dropped by 11 per cent.

"This represents a loss of 15,000 workers in the face of increasing community demand for the services and supports delivered by volunteers," the statement said.

"332,100, or 68.9 per cent of Tasmanians over 15 volunteer, making Tasmania's volunteer workforce the largest in the state.

"Yet structural funding challenges have escalated a decline in available formal volunteers.

"If this trend continues we will see a gap of 42 per cent between the demand for and supply of volunteers by 2029.

"Tasmania's volunteering industry is in critical need of support and its peak body is not adequately funded to provide the programs and best practice infrastructure required to reverse the downward trend in formal volunteer participation.

"We cannot assume that volunteers will always be there, we need to act now to ensure that our communities aren't left without support as the need for volunteer support increases," Volunteers Tasmania said.

"We are asking those who volunteer, work with volunteers, or see the benefit that volunteers bring to their communities, to support Tasmania's volunteering industry by writing to their local candidate."

The launch was held at the Kingborough Bowls Club ahead of the festival on March 10 and 11. Kingborough Deputy Mayor Clare Glade-Wright and Huon Valley Mayor Sally Doyle attended. (PS)

Donation to SES enhances communication

The Bruny Island State Emergency Service Unit received a donation of 22 new UHF radio holsters recently from Huon Aquaculture.

The new UHF radio holsters will enable SES volunteers to securely carry their communication devices during emergency response operations, facilitating clear and rapid communication amongst team members.

The donation will also enhance the unit's operational efficiency and effectiveness in serving the local community during times of need.

The Bruny Island SES unit consists of around 20 volunteers who train in general rescue and storm and flood damage, but their main focus is road crash rescue.

The donation was officially presented during a special event hosted by Huon at the Bruny Island SES headquarters.

"We would like to extend our unit's big thankyou to Huon for not only the excellent radio pouches but the delicious salmon barbecue," said Deputy Unit Manager Admin at Bruny Island SES Bob Jager.

"It was a great social gathering enjoyed by all."

Huon's Community Engagement Coordinator Sammy Kluga said Huon recognised the essential role played by the Bruny Island SES in ensuring the safety and well-being of the community.

"We are honoured to support their fantastic volunteer efforts by providing the tools they need to carry out their critical work effectively," Sammy said.

Having been on Kingborough Council since 2022, Councillor Kaspar Deane has begun campaigning for the seat of Franklin in the coming election. (PS)

Councillor Deane stands for Franklin

Kingborough Councillor Kaspar Deane has begun campaigning to be elected in the seat of Franklin on a platform of helping families in Kingborough with health, housing and the cost of living.

Cr Deane feels very much that Kingborough is home. "I absolutely love this place," he said. "Kingborough is where I've grown up. "It's where I've taught for six years and it's where I'm raising my family." In 2022, Cr Deane was elected to Kingborough Council with the backing of former Mayor Dean Winter. "Dean showed that young people can be in politics," Cr Deane said. "He was a brilliant mayor and I'm grateful for his support."

In 2023, Cr Deane ensured Kingborough Council kept a sustainable fee structure for sports clubs and has since served as the Chair of the Council's Sport and Recreation Committee. "I've worked hard for community sport but I'm also proud of the other work I've done, particularly getting Council to adopt its first-ever affordable housing commitment," he said.

Cr Deane hopes to work on addressing cost-of-living pressures, improving housing affordability and repairing the health system if elected to Parliament.

"In the first few weeks of the campaign I've spoken to hundreds of residents in Kingston and the Channel, and it's clear that cost-of-living remains the biggest issue," Cr Deane said.

"People in Kingborough are finding it hard to find a doctor, get their kids into childcare, pay for fuel and groceries, all while trying to pay the rent or cover their mortgage.

"I'm standing for Parliament because I believe in giving people a fair go.

"Parliament needs to be more in touch with Tasmanians and their families and that's a big motivator for me running."

While at the club the diners heard from Commodore Seth Hilder and received a report from Atlas Miller, a sailor the club is hoping to support. (PS)

The ever-popular annual Huon Art Awards has taken over the Town Hall again.

With total prizes approaching $20,000 on offer and over 300 art exhibits expected, something wonderful is guaranteed for all visitors, from the art connoisseur to the fascinated tourist.

Entries from young people have blossomed and whether oils, acrylics, sketches, photography, print-making, furniture, ceramics, sculpture or leatherwork are your favourite, it will be a show to live long in the memory, especially if you fall for something and buy it.

Visit Kate Hill Wines this weekend

Kate Hill Wines is participating in the Southern Open Vineyards Weekend from 11am to 5pm Friday, March 1 to Sunday, March 3.

As well as wine tastings there will be live music by Teresa Dixon on Sunday from 1pm, Smoked by Lost Captain food truck and Tasmanian tasting platters.

Located at 21 Dowlings Road on the Huon Highway between Huonville and Grove, Kate and Charles Hill's cellar door is an inviting and intimate venue.

Nestled amongst the vines, with spectacular views of the surrounding countryside, the cellar door is the ideal spot to enjoy a glass of wine with friends, while taking in the beautiful valley scenery.

Converting a 120-year-old apple shed into a winery, Kate has been making wines in the Huon Valley for over 17 years.

Noted for their balance, elegance and approachability, her wines have won wide acclaim.

The range includes 2021 Huon Valley Sparkling Brut, 2022 Riesling, 2020 Pinot Noir, 2022 Huon Valley Pinot Noir and 2022 Four Winds Shiraz.

Follow them on Facebook and Instagram for the latest updates and opening hours.

Hand-crafted wines

"The back label on our wines shows a pictorial story of our ethos as a small boutique vineyard with hand-crafted wines," said Cathedral Rock Vineyard owner Andrea Kitto.

"With 250-million-year-old fossils in our soil and cool climate ripening the wines express our unique terroir." For the Open Vineyard Weekend, Jamie and Andrea will be offering tastings and sales of Pinot Gris, Pinot Noir, Pinot Noir Rosé, Riesling, Viognier and Shiraz.

Complimentary cheese platters will be available Friday to Sunday and live music from 12.30pm on Sunday.

Make time this weekend to visit the open vineyards and meet the vigneron.

Government's No on Road Link

RECENTLY Huon Council asked the Minister for Public Works (Mr Michael Barnard), to consider a proposal to link the top ends of Braeside and Jacksons Roads, at South Franklin. The request has been negatived.

The matter had been raised by the Minister for Education who had informed the Council that formation of a link between the top of Braeside and Jacksons Road would be a great convenience to the School Bus in the locality.

In a letter tabled on February 11th, Mr Barnard informed the Council that he had obtained a detailed report from the Director of Public Works on the proposal which would involve the acquisition of about half a mile of roadway and construction of some 1 1/4 miles extension of Jacksons Road. The cost of the work made the proposal impracticable at the present time, Mr Barnard stated.

On the recommendation of the Works Committee, Huon Council has decided to make application for a Settlers Roads Grant for construction of a road to Mr Bruce Bond's property off Judds Creek Road.

It was decided also to install "No Parking" signs in the vicinity of the Huonville Schools.

At the request of the Council, Insp. Webberley attended the meeting to discuss the matter of having a "No Parking" reserve adjacent to the Schools and said that the Police appreciated the problem in Wilmot St.

It was decided to request the Transport Department to act in the matter.

The Council has decided to apply for $10,000 for $ for $ sealing on Swamp Road in 1974-75.

Kingborough thwarted by Sandy Bay

Kingborough Division 1 ladies hosted Sandy Bay at home in the indoor centre, avoiding the soaring temperatures of last week.

Sandy Bay had a comfortable win on the day, 10-2. This has resulted in Kingborough being replaced by Howrah at the top of the ladder.

Maddie Johnston's team consisting of Pauline Connell, Nadine Seabourne and lead Sue Mann worked hard in the second half but Sandy Bay dominated, 25-12.

Kerrie Lane's rink of Greta Murray, Louise Wallace and Yvonne Duffy bowled well in the first half but also failed to keep up with Sandy Bay, losing 21-12.

Leonie Price's team of Vicki Bannister, Veronica Cleary and lead Sally Bowes fared better, winning by four shots.

Kingborough Division 2 ladies travelled to Sandy Bay. Kingborough went down three shots, 53-56, but gained four points to Sandy Bay's eight.

Pam Rosevear's team consisting of Lyn Cowen, Diane Spooner and lead Anne Palmer started slow and were down six shots on the first nine ends.

The team fought back hard to result in a five-shot win, 21-16.

Lorraine Walker's team of Karlene Beadle, Regina Hayes and Colleen Dance played a consistent game, securing a nine-shot win, 24-15.

Francis Phillips as skip witnessed a slow start, with Ida Jones leading well throughout the game. Despite support from Lee Shead and Judy Trill, the team could not defeat Sandy Bay, losing 25-8.

Kingborough Division 3 ladies welcomed St John's Park to the Kingborough indoor centre, achieving 60 shots- 36 and gaining eight points.

The Division 3 ladies remain fourth on the ladder.

Margaret Thorpe as skip with Fiona Hickey, Sue-Ellen Martyn and lead Therese Direen had an incredible result, winning by 20 shots, 30-10.

Skip Jannene Stubbs had a close game with support from her team Glenna Thompson, Kaye Ashlin and Diane Lovell as lead, but lost by just one shot, 17-16.

Deborah Smith as skip with Elizabeth Hoare, Kerrie Cahill and Jean Hemmings as lead all played well but St John's proved a little stronger on the day, winning 29-14.

Snapping up 250 matches

Kingston Crow Dan "Snapper" Woodhead has joined an elite group of players who have reached 250 club matches.

"If you've ever wondered what the saying 'Don't judge a book by its cover' meant, look no further than our Snapper," the Crows said.

"Our tattooed, body-pierced, often coloured-haired Snapper is one of the most loyal, committed, respected and generous clubmen you'd ever meet."

Snapper first joined the Crows in the 2007/2008 season, and has since played in all grades, including four times in Premierships, accrued over 3000 runs, over 130 wickets and repeatedly demonstrated his skills as a bowler, batter and wicket keeper.

Snapper also contributes off the field as a member of the Crows committee, volunteering time at club functions and heading the Junior Crows program.

Kingston Crow Dan "Snapper" Woodhead recently reached 250 club matches. Snapper first joined the Crows in the 2007/2008 season. (PS)
